Regions Of War And Peace:

Regions of War and Peace Douglas Lemke, 2002-01-21 In this contribution to the literature on the causes of war Douglas Lemke asks whether the same factors affect minor powers as affect major ones He investigates whether power parity and dissatisfaction with the status quo have an impact within Africa the Far East the Middle East and South America Lemke argues that there are similarities across these regions and levels of power and that parity and dissatisfaction are correlates of war around the world The extent to which they increase the risk of war varies across regions however and the book looks at the possible sources of this cross regional variation concluding that differential progress toward development is the likely cause This book will interest students and scholars of international relations and peace studies as well as comparative politics and area studies

Regions of War and Peace Douglas Lemke, 2002 Douglas Lemke's book asks whether the causes of war among great powers also apply to other countries given different regional circumstances and historical experiences The book examines Africa the Far East the Middle East and South America and argues that the causes of wars are similar across these regions

Regions, Power, and Conflict William R. Thompson, Thomas J. Volgy, Paul Bezerra, Jacob Cramer, Kelly Marie Gordell, Manjeet Pardesi, Karen Rasler, J. Patrick Rhamey Jr., Kentaro Sakuwa, Rachel Van Nostrand, Leila Zakhirova, 2022-08-16 The three main levels of analysis in international relations have been the systemic the national and the individual A fourth level that falls between the systemic and the national is the region It is woefully underdeveloped in comparison to the attention afforded the other three Yet regions tend to be distinctive theaters for international politics Otherwise we would not recognize that Middle Eastern interstate politics somehow does not resemble Latin American interstate politics or interstate politics in Southern Africa although once the Middle East and Southern Africa may have seemed more similar in their mutual fixation with opposition to domestic policies in Israel and South Africa respectively This book divided into three parts first makes a case for studying regional politics even though it must also be appreciated that regional boundaries are also hazy and not always easy to pin down empirically The second part examines power distributions within regions as an important entry point to studying regional similarities and differences Two emphases are stressed One is that regional power assessments need to be conditioned by controlling for weak states which are more common in some regions than they are in others The other emphasis is on regional power hierarchies Some regions have strong regional hierarchies while others do not Regions with strong hierarchies operate much differently from those without them in the sense that the former are more pacific than the latter The third part of the book focuses on regional differences in terms of conflict behavior order preferences rivalries and rivalry termination

States, Nations, and the Great Powers Benjamin Miller, 2007-08-30 Why are some regions prone to war while others remain at peace What conditions cause regions to move from peace to war and vice versa This book offers a novel theoretical explanation for the differences in levels of and transitions between war and peace The author distinguishes between hot and cold outcomes depending on intensity of the war or the peace and then uses three key concepts state nation and the international system to argue that it is the specific balance between states and nations in different regions that determines the hot or warm outcomes the lower the balance the higher the war proneness of the region while the higher the balance the warmer the peace The international systematic factors for their part affect only the cold outcomes of cold war and cold peace The theory of regional war and peace developed in this book is examined through case studies of the post 1945 Middle East the Balkans and South America in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and post 1945 Western Europe It uses comparative data from all regions and concludes by proposing ideas on how to promote peace in war torn regions      The Relevance of Regions in a Globalized World Galia Press-Barnathan,Ruth Fine,Arie M. Kacowicz,2018-11-09 This volume provides a unique open inter disciplinary dialogue across the Humanities and Social Sciences to further our understanding of the phenomenon of regions and regionalism in a globalized world both at the theoretical and empirical levels What comprises a region What are the different regional dynamic processes that take place What is the relationship between the regional and the global What role does identity building play Bringing together scholars from various disciplines within and across the Social Sciences and the Humanities to reflect on these questions the book explores how regions are imagined constructed understood and explained in different academic disciplines Each chapter addresses these common questions and uses its own disciplinary lenses to answer them In addition the volume offers interesting reflections on the academic borders constructed in the study of regions thus demonstrating the importance of obtaining insights from both social scientists and humanities scholars in order to better understand the relevance of regions in a complex and globalized world An important work for scholars and postgraduate students in many fields including political science international relations sociology economics geography history and literature as well as for those interested in regionalism and area studies      The Atlas of War and Peace Dan Smith,Ane Bræin,2003 Dan Smith presents a comprehensive and easy to use reference that provides a global overview of conflicts and military trends at the start of the 21st century      The State of War and Peace Atlas Dan Smith,Kristin Ingstad Sandberg,Pavel Baev,Wenche Hauge,International Peace Research Institute,1997 The State of War and Peace Atlas brings together a global picture of the bloody costs of war the death tolls the plight of refugees lasting environmental damage the collapse of whole states It closes on a tentative note of hope by mapping the world of peace diplomacy and our global peacekeeping processes BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

Regions and Powers Barry Buzan,Ole Wæver,2003-12-04 This book develops the idea that since decolonisation regional patterns of security have become more prominent in international politics The authors combine an operational theory of regional security with an empirical application across the whole of the international system Individual chapters cover Africa the Balkans CIS Europe East Asia EU Europe the Middle East North America South America and South Asia The main focus is on the post Cold War period but the history of each regional security complex is traced back to its beginnings By relating the regional dynamics of security to current debates about the global power structure the authors unfold a distinctive interpretation of post Cold War international security avoiding both the extreme oversimplifications of the unipolar view and the extreme deterritorialisations of many globalist visions of a new world disorder Their framework brings out the radical diversity of security dynamics in different parts of the world      WMD Arms Control in the Middle East Harald

Müller,2016-02-17 The Middle East is a hot spot of proliferation It contains one state assumed to possess nuclear weapons several states that tried and failed to develop a military nuclear capability one state under suspicion of trying to do so and it is the world region that witnessed the most frequent and severe employment of chemical weapons since the end of World War I Notwithstanding not a single arms control regime concerning weapons of mass destruction WMD covers the region as a whole Instead we have seen several proliferation related military operations which have rather contributed to destabilization than served non proliferation This volume written under the auspices of the EU Consortium for Non Proliferation and Disarmament determines the current state of diplomatic efforts to establish a WMD free zone in the Middle East In doing so it provides insights into central actors conflicting political positions thereby explaining the stalemate of efforts to negotiate a WMD free zone Chapters written by renowned experts from academia and policy oriented think tanks as well as by next generation Middle East and arms control experts introduce the subject to the reader give background information about arms control initiatives provide technical expertise and endeavour to make proposals for arms control measures in support of the creation of a Middle East WMD free zone      Regional Peacemaking and Conflict Management

Carmela Lutmar,Benjamin Miller,2015-11-06 This volume examines mechanisms for regional peacemaking and conflict management in Europe and the Middle East To date little research has been devoted to uncovering the conditions for peace and the factors that contribute to stabilizing the state of peace This volume assesses the factors that contribute to regional pacification the incentives that motivate states in establishing peaceful relations and most importantly how regions become peaceful It discusses the conditions under which various types of peace might emerge on a regional level and the factors most likely to determine the outcome The book takes an innovative approach through a systematic comparison of two regions that are particularly prominent and important for the subject of regional pacification Europe and the Middle East While many believe that the European case is the indispensable model for peacemaking others believe that these two regions are too different for Europe to be a useful framework for the Middle East This volume occupies a middle ground between these two extreme positions It argues that while a mindless copying of European models will not lead to peace in the Middle East important insights can be gained from the most successful case of regional peacemaking to date This work will be of much interest to students of regional security peacemaking conflict management Middle East politics European security and IR in general      International and Regional Security Benjamin Miller,2016-11-10 This volume is a collection of the best essays of Professor Benjamin Miller on the subjects of international and regional security The book analyses the interrelationships between international politics and regional and national security with a special focus on the sources of international conflict and collaboration and the causes of war and peace More specifically it explains the sources of intended and unintended great power conflict and collaboration The book also accounts for the sources of regional war and peace by developing the concept of the state to nation balance Thus the volume is able to explain the variations in the outcomes of great power interventions and the differences in the level and type of war and peace in different eras and various parts of the world For example the book s model can account for recent outcomes such as the effects of the 2003 American intervention in Iraq the post 2011 Arab Spring and the conflicts between Russia and Ukraine The book also provides a model for explaining the changes in American grand strategy with a special focus on accounting for the causes of the invasion of Iraq in 2003 Finally the book addresses the debate on the future of war and peace in the 21st century This book will be essential reading for students of international security regional security Middle Eastern politics foreign policy and IR

War, Peace and World Orders in European History Anja V. Hartmann, Beatrice Heuser, 2002-11-01 This book explores a new way for students of International Relations to look at war peace and world orders throughout European history The contributors argue that the predominant realist paradigm that focuses on states and their self interest is not applicable to the largest period of European history because states either did not exist or were only in the making Instead they argue we have to look through the eyes of historical entities to see how they understood the world in which they lived The authors use a wide range of case studies focusing on subjects as diverse as the ancient Greek concept of honour and persecution under Communist regimes during the Cold War to explore the ways in which people in different societies at different times perceived and felt about war and peace in the world around them

Peace and Conflict Studies David P. Barash, Charles P. Webel, 2008-07-10 Thoroughly revised the Second Edition of Peace and Conflict Studies sets the new gold standard as an accessible introduction and comprehensive exploration of this vital subject The authors share their vast knowledge and analysis about 21st century world events including new coverage on timely topics such as terrorism the truth and reconciliation process and the clash of civilizations With an encyclopedic scope this introductory text chronicles a plethora of important global topics from pre history to the present Key Features of the Second Edition Includes updated chapters and examines current conflicts including the Iraq War Explores the important aspects of positive peace individual violence nationalism and terrorism Provides numerous visual aids questions for further study and suggested readings Furnishes a comprehensive range of material to enlighten and enrich future discussion and encourage further academic pursuit Intended Audience This text is invaluable for students and professors in peace and or conflict studies psychology and or the sociology of peace and conflict studies international relations comparative politics history and others interested in gaining a solid foundation about the global arena Praise for the First Edition Barash and Webel have penned a masterpiece that should appeal to seasoned scholars of peace and conflict studies as well as to others who have little knowledge of this multidisciplinary field Daniel J

Christie Ohio State University      War Peace and Hegemony in A Globalized World Chandra Chari,2010 This book focuses on how the US could adapt its foreign policy initiatives to fit in with the growing aspirations of a multipolar world for a more balanced international order Written by leading scholars such as Joseph Nye Eric Hobsbawm and Akira Iriye the volume examines if the absence of a superpower status would lead to anarchy or if an alternative is possible In view of the globalization process and the changing perceptions of US hegemony in the various regions of the world it addresses the possibility of re examining and redefining the nineteenth century classical balance of power Divided into two sections it analyzes global perspectives on war peace and hegemony and the role of the United States each region of the world in the context of the unfolding processes of globalization the various ways in which economic and socio political organizations are impacting inter and intra regionally and the role of the United States vis vis the individual countries and regions

Negotiating Armenian-Azerbaijani Peace Ohannes Geukjian,2016-04-22 Conflict resolution conflict management and conflict transformations are major themes in this unique book which examines explores and analyses the mediation attempts of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe in the Nagorno Karabakh conflict Ohannes Geukjian shows the most striking characteristic of a protracted internal conflict such as this is its asymmetry and explains that without meeting basic human needs like identity recognition security and participation resolving any protracted social conflict is very difficult The Armenian Azerbaijani case demonstrates how official diplomacy may not be able to solve protracted internal conflicts as without addressing the real causes of the problematic relationship attempts at peace making will always be sporadic and the space for mutual understanding and compromise shrink Geukjian shows that conflict transformation has a particular salience in asymmetric conflicts such as this where the goal is to transform unjust relationships and where a high degree of polarisation between the disputants has taken root Using the Nagorno Karabakh case this book focuses on the anatomy and causes of deadlock in negotiations and highlights the many difficulties in achieving a breakthrough      The First World War Peace Settlements, 1919-1925 Erik Goldstein,2013-10-11 The First World War changed the face of Europe two empires the Austro Hungarian Empire and the Ottoman Empire collapsed in its wake and as a result many of the boundaries of Europe were redrawn and new states were created The origins of many of the international crises in the late twentieth century can be traced back to decisions taken in these critical years Yugoslavia being the most obvious example An understanding of the peace settlements is thus crucial for any student studying international history international relations which is what this book offers This book provides an accessible and concise introduction to this most important period of history      The Politics of Dialogue Ranabir Samaddar,2017-07-05 Offering a detailed analysis of post colonial South Asia The Politics of Dialogue discusses the creation and impact of borders and the pervasive tension between the new nations It critiques existing knowledges and techniques which guide our understanding of post colonial politics of war and peace and stresses the importance of dialogue in such situations as well as pointing out the reasons behind the failure to take up dialogue seriously

Uniting Africa David J. Francis, 2017-05-15 Plagued by bloody wars and armed conflicts political instability communal violence and displaced persons and at the mercy of natural catastrophes such as drought and famine it is not surprising that the Western press has long dismissed Africa as the hopeless continent In the face of these challenges Africa today is faced with a stark choice either unite or perish The debate on why and how the continent should unite in terms of co operative peace security and development is more urgent than at any other time in Africa s post colonial history Moving forward from the failure of the earlier typically idealistic Africa unity project David Francis demonstrates how peace and security challenges have created the imperative for change He argues that a series of regional peace and security systems are emerging and that states that have participated in practical experiments in regional peacekeeping peace support operations conflict stabilization management and preventive diplomacy are building de facto systems of peace and security that could be institutionalized and extended

Nordic Peace in Question Christopher S. Browning, Marko Lehti, Johan Strang, 2024-07-18 This book explores historically and theoretically Nordic peace as a marker of identification ontological in security and regional branding It emphasizes how conceptions of Nordic peace have been translated into policy practices and how it has maintained its relevance over time The book distinguishes between the Nordic region as a region of peace a prime example of a Deutschian security community and as a region for peace cultivating the role of a global humanitarian norm promoter and peacebuilder but also interrogating how these two understandings of Nordic peace have been mutually constitutive and interdependent The book discusses the politics of Nordic peace analyzing what the concept does and enables and why it continues to endure and exert affective appeal Furthermore it considers contemporary challenges not least connected to the implications of the war in Ukraine but also the potential future opportunities facing ideas of Nordic peace as Nordic peace is refashioned once again towards a new regional and global context This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of Peace Research Nordic or Scandinavian Studies History Nationalism Studies Critical Security Studies and International Relations The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
