Regulation And The Nature Of Postal And Delivery Services:

Regulation and the Nature of Postal and Delivery Services Michael A. Crew, Paul R. Kleindorfer, 2012-12-06 This book is based on a conference on Regulation and the Evolving Nature of Postal and Delivery Services 1992 and Beyond held at Village PTT La Londe les Maures France on March 18 1992 Leading practitioners worldwide postal administrations and the express delivery industry as well as a number of regulators academic economists and lawyers examine the important policy and regulatory issues facing the postal and delivery industries This includes such issues as international postal policy and the role of the Universal Postal Union regulation and terminal dues competition entry and the role of scale and scope economies the nature and role of costs analysis in postal service productivity and service standards Postal and Delivery Services Michael A. Crew, Paul R. Kleindorfer, 2013-12-01

When Postmaster General Creswell penned his concern about the impact of electronic diversion on his postal organization the year was 1872 General Creswell it turned out fretted unnecessarily Facsimile did not achieve commercial viability until roughly a century after his tenure as Postmaster General and today that technology is fading rapidly from the communication scene Moreover it never appears to have significantly affected physical letter volumes However if General Creswell were leading a major postal organization today he likely would feel threatened by the potential of Internet communication to cause electronic diversion of physical mail Should recent technology developments cause the oft predicted but so far incorrect inflection point that would mark the beginning of declining mail volumes the implications from a management standpoint will be profound The relatively fixed nature of postal costs suggest that volume declines must be offset though improved productivity reduced cost of inputs revenue from new products that share common costs or reduced level of universal service Commercialization of Postal and Delivery Services: National and International Perspectives Michael A. Crew, Paul R. Kleindorfer, 2012-12-06 xiii

We have almost the cheapest letter price in the OECD We've quadrupled the retail outlets where you can buy stamps but closed three quarters of our Post Offices On time delivery is better than 97% The workforce has been reduced by 40% with a 25% increase in volumes over the period Real unit costs measured by total real expenditure divided by total volumes have been reduced by over 20% What do these results and achievements mean for policy setters around the world In particular do these results for New Zealand Post prove that it is a commercial business and what are the lessons for other postal businesses Market Forces New Zealand Post presently has a limited letter monopoly a 45 cent letter price against an 80 cent competitive floor price The existence of this level of protection somehow negates the company's commercial achievements The combination of high efficiency and low prices cannot persuade everyone that the results are not my view are the only ones that can solely monopoly driven Market forces in answer my question is New Zealand Post a commercial organization We need the test of free and open competition to see whether we've got the business formula right Before advancing this argument which in essence is the case for deregulation it may be useful to distinguish between market behavior and Post behavior      Regulatory and Economic Challenges in the Postal and Delivery Sector Michael A. Crew, Paul R. Kleindorfer, 2006-07-16 Worldwide there is considerable interest in postal and delivery economics Governments particularly in the European Union are examining closely the roles of the two systems and how best to regulate them This volume brings together 20 essays originally presented at the 12th Conference on Postal and Delivery Economics held in Cork Ireland in June 2004 Contributors include researchers practitioners and senior managers from throughout the world      Emerging Competition in Postal and Delivery Services Michael A. Crew, Paul R. Kleindorfer, 2013-03-09 Emerging Competition in Postal and Delivery Services brings together practitioners postal administrators the courier industry regulators academic economists and lawyers to examine important policy and regulatory issues facing the postal and delivery industries This volume reviews such topics as cost and productivity analysis universal service and entry demand analysis and the structure of postal payment system price regulation and competition      The Liberalization of Postal Services in the European Union Damien Geradin, 2002-06-03 Among the critical matters discussed are the following terminal dues for international mail remail provisions the UPU and WTO constraints on the European postal market EU Commission decisions and ECJ case law interpreting the postal directive the effects of EC Treaty Articles 81 and 82 and the Merger Control Regulation abuse of market power especially by incumbent public postal operators the essential facilities doctrine and funding of universal service obligations In addition there are specific country reports from five EU Member States France Germany Italy Portugal and the United Kingdom and Norway bearing witness to the diversity of means adopted to implement the postal directive Business persons and their counsel regulatory officials practitioners and academics interested in the creation of an EU wide postal market as well as in the ongoing reliability and improvement of postal service should find this text valuable

Progress toward Liberalization of the Postal and Delivery Sector Michael A. Crew, Paul R. Kleindorfer, 2007-05-11 The European Commission and its member states along with many others are wrestling with the problem of how to implement the scheduled liberalization of the postal sector while maintaining the universal service obligation This book addresses some of these concerns It is comprised of original essays chosen from among several dozen presented at the 13th Conference on Postal and Delivery Economics which was held in Antwerp Belgium in June 2005      The Economics of Postal Service Michael A. Crew, Paul R. Kleindorfer, 2012-12-06 Postal service has received considerably less attention in the economics literature than traditional public utilities Postal service is facing some very important challenges arising out of the increasingly high tech nature of postal service the entry of competition into the business and new attitudes on the part of government to postal service In the United Kingdom and Germany the increased interest in privatization and recognition of the benefits of competition are likely to have an impact on postal service These challenges mean that postal managers must learn new ways of doing business not just in successfully introducing new hardware and in new internal operating procedures but also in the development of new pricing and costing methodologies and in the introduction of new management information systems In order to deal with these new developments managers need a solid foundation in applied microeconomic theory as it relates to postal service This book encompasses the theoretical foundation for postal policy particularly with regard to pricing service quality and competitive issues

Reforming the Postal Sector in the Face of Electronic Competition Anheuser-Busch,2013-01-01 Professors Crew and Kleindorfer have once again assembled a valuable collection of essays that address timely and important issues in postal sectors throughout the world The essays employ diverse methodologies to provide useful insights about recent and likely future developments in the postal industry This book will be a valuable resource for researchers industry practitioners and policymakers alike David E M Sappington University of Florida US In our increasingly technology focused world demand for traditional postal services is steadily shrinking This timely volume examines the many challenges that the worldwide postal sector is facing as a result of growing electronic competition and offers expert recommendations for reshaping postal structures to strengthen their competitiveness in an electronic age Drawn from a selection of papers presented at the 20th Conference on Postal and Delivery Economics in Brighton UK this book showcases expert contributions on the rapidly changing postal sectors in both the United States and Europe Topics discussed include the various financial challenges posed by decreasing demand for postal services recent changes in how postal services are provided and new structures and modes of operation such as privatization that are currently affecting the industry Contributors offer a thorough breakdown of the issues as well as ideas for keeping the postal sector alive in a world that is growing ever more reliant on purely electronic means of communication Economists with an interest in regulatory economics innovation and public sector economics will find this volume useful and informative as will institutional libraries and industry professionals
