Re-interpreting Curriculum Research Geoffrey Milburn, Ivor Goodson, 1989 Changing Teaching, Changing Times

Jonathan Clark, Cedric J. Linder, 2006 This is the story of a science teacher and her work in an over crowded and under resourced township secondary school in contemporary South Africa While set firmly in the present it is also a journey into the past shedding fresh light on how the legacy of apartheid education continues to have a major influence on teaching and learning in South Africa The book has a compelling story line with extensively referenced notes at the end of each chapter It is intended for a wide audience which includes general readers policy makers teacher educators researchers and most importantly practitioners in the field For while it reminds us of the powerful constraining role that both context and students play in mediating a teacher s practice it also attests to the power of individual agency As such it is a celebration of the actions of an ordinary teacher whose willingness to leave the well worn paths of familiar practice stands as a beacon of possibility for contexts which seem so often to be devoid of hope Studying Teachers' Lives I Goodison, 2013-02-01 To develop a mode of educational research which speaks both of and to the teacher we require more study of the lives of teachers This book provides a vital insight into the ways in which teachers backgrounds and career histories affect their teaching methods and approaches Many issues are covered ranging from the question of teacher drop out to the importance of teacher socialisation The studies employ a range of different methodologies allowing the reader to assess their varying strengths and weaknesses but throughout they reaffirm the centrality of the teacher in educational research Culture, Education, and Community

J. Lavia, S. Mahlomaholo, 2012-04-14 Provides a critical space in which to interrogate the ways in which postcolonial voices are imagined and struggle to be valued heard and responded to Takes the imagination of the postcolonial as its focus acknowledging that it is a troubling unsettling and ambiguous concept requiring re visiting and re interpretation Removing the Margins

George Jerry Sefa Dei, 2000 Removing the Margins works to identify and challenge many of the cultural and systematic paradigms that perpetuate racism and other forms of oppression in mainstream schooling The authors pursue the ideal that education should not simply affirm the status quo but should produce knowledge for social action This philosophical and theoretical resource also moves beyond the study of educational failure to explore the new and creative ways schooling barriers have been confronted The focus is placed on the factors of representation family and community staff equity language integration and spirituality as fundamental to school reform Removing the Margins is the product of five years of research and writing in the search for best practices in inclusive education The authors address the philosophical and theoretical bases for inclusivity in this book while laying out the practical approach in the accompanying volume Inclusive Schooling A Teacher s Guide to Removing the Margins
