people first have the best chance of succeeding in the twenty first century Leading In High Growth Asia: Managing Relationship For Teamwork And Change Kwok Leung,Dean Tjosvold,2004-10-14 Confronted with rapid changes and market place pressures managers throughout Asia are questioning their leadership This book will help them integrate their traditions with modern practices to forge approaches suitable for their cultures and effective for today s global market demands It also helps Western managers adapt their methods so that they can lead successfully in Asia Pacific To be successful Asia Pacific leaders must work to develop effective close relationships with their employees and among their employees Chapters written by scholars from ten Asia Pacific countries highlight this common theme and also describe the expectations and orientations which managers can expect in a particular country The Role of Trust in Leadership Jamiel Vadell,2009-11 Trust continues to be a leading concept in organizational commitment Milligan 2003 conducted a survey looking at trust in the Air Force among junior officers This study was conducted as a follow up study to determine whether trust continues to be an issue in the Air Force The purpose of this study is to measure the comparative strengths and weaknesses as well as the significance of leadership s ability to gain trust from its subordinates in order to reduce the numbers of officers leaving after their commitment This research measures organizational commitment and trust in a random sample of 372 Air Force captains All participants completed the following surveys The Management Behavior Climate Assessment Organizational Commitment Scales Intent to Leave Scale and a demographics survey Findings of the research concluded with the following points as trust is a growing factor in leadership and junior officers leaving the Air Force there is a relationship between trust and commitment There is also a strong relationship between commitment and intent of junior officers leaving the Air Force Finally trust was the primary variable in this study and it was found that with an increase of trust in leadership there is a decrease of junior officers leaving the Air Force Leadership and Followership in an Organizational Change Context Khan, Sajjad Nawaz,2021-09-24 Often it seems that people place a spotlight on leaders and disregard the probability that the success of the organization lies somewhere in the followers However literature on followership is often overlooked and research on it ignored As organizations rapidly change it is essential to understand organizational change through simultaneous discussions of both leaders and followers and the roles they play in the ultimate success of the company Leadership and Followership in an Organizational Change Context is a pivotal reference source that establishes the concept and definitions of leadership and followership in the context of organizational change and discusses the leadership and followership styles that can contribute to organizational effectiveness While highlighting topics such as leadership style employee engagement and succession planning this book is ideally designed for managers executives directors upper level management business professionals academicians researchers industry professionals and students seeking current research on the types of changes that organizations are facing and how such changes can be managed

Leadership, Gender, and Organization Mollie Painter,Patricia H. Werhane,2023-08-16 In this collection the editors again bring together papers that either exemplify the crossing of disciplinary boundaries or that allow us to do so in and through the conversations they create The chapters were chosen based on their relevance to similar themes as were discussed in the first volume By reviewing historical developments in the literature around gender and organization and by drawing on recent scholarship that disrupts the traditional masculine imaginaries that plague leadership constructs this book challenges us to radically revise our gendered thinking about leading in organizations The authors included in this volume offer alternative interdisciplinary perspectives on the gender constructs that inform the organizing that takes place in business and society The book delves deeply into how relationality as concept and practice can help us frame a more inclusive approach to gender within contemporary organizations

Consciousness-Based Leadership and Management, Volume 2 Anil K. Maheshwari, 2023-08-17 This two volume set examines the need for a consciousness based view of leadership which emphasizes universal human flourishing as opposed to a resource based view which focuses on sustaining a competitive advantage This approach is built around three main principles 1 Paradigm Consciousness is primary including complementary existence of opposites 2 Social Interpersonal focusing on empathy and compassion and 3 Individual experiencing Oneness and expressing creativity Volume Two is divided into two sections Each section offers a mix of qualitative and quantitative studies The first section focuses on consciousness based development of organizational capabilities such as ambidexterity flow and work life balance The second section is focused on organizational interventions such as reinvention meaning making well being and sustainability Aligning leadership practices with the notion of an unbounded consciousness this edited collection will extend literature on organizational culture leadership and sustainability contributing to solving the grand challenges facing humanity

Emotion management is an important source of social capital and synergy for organizations Managers have a great role in the creation of this synergy A manager who can cope with their emotions indirectly contributes to organizational effectiveness This situation is especially important in human oriented organizations providing services rather than goods such as educational institutions Leadership is a process of social influence which maximizes the efforts of others towards the achievement of a goal Leadership stems from social influence rather than authority or power In terms of system approach the input output process and feedback of educational organizations are always related to human behaviors Therefore organizations must address the nature of human beings in all of their managerial processes Although organizations in which people are at the foreground try to continue their functioning on a rational and formal basis throughout the managerial process they sometimes have to manage emotional and informal phenomena In this case there is a need for managers and school leaders who can shape the rationale in line with the requirements of human nature What is expected from this administrator is that they do not ignore human needs and emotions while providing the management of educational institutions For this reason these managers should be leaders rather than executives who only work in a formal framework of organization management Moreover principals and teachers should also be leaders in all educational processes Emotions are the main catalyst of positive organizational culture Leaders can create an effective organizational culture with the main source of positive emotions between employers Positive emotions also motivate employees for organizational purposes If a leader wishes to create and maintain an effective organizational culture it is essential to support positive behavior and emotional climate in their institutes and schools Leaders school managers and teachers therefore need to develop emotion management abilities Educational organizations need to shape their organizational culture climate and psychology to support their leaders in efficiently managing their employees emotions Up to now this topic has been usually addressed as the main catalyst and a sub dimension of emotional intelligence Moreover current evidence classifies social and empathy skills as other sub dimensions of emotional intelligence For this reason this collection of peer reviewed articles will draw attention to the contemporary term emotional management and contribute to educational fields by means of exploring the relationship between emotions and leadership
