Jōkei and Buddhist Devotion in Early Medieval Japan James L. Ford, 2006-08-24 This is the first book-length study in any language of Jōkei (1155-1213), a prominent Buddhist cleric of the Hossō-Yōmeigaku school whose life bridged the momentous transition from Heian (794-1185) to Kamakura (1185-1333) Japan. Kamakura Buddhism has drawn notable scholarly attention largely because it marks the emergence of new schools: Pure Land, Nichiren, and Zen, that came to dominate the Buddhist landscape of Japan. Although Jōkei is invariably cited as one of the leading representatives of established Buddhism during the Kamakura period, he has been seriously neglected by Western scholars. In this book, James L. Ford aims to shed light on this pivotal and long-overlooked figure. Ford argues convincingly that Jōkei is an ideal personage through which to peer anew into the socio-religious dynamics of early medieval Japan. Indeed, Jōkei is uniquely linked to a number of decisive trends and issues of dispute, including the conflict between the established schools and Hōnen's exclusive nenbutsu movement, the precept revival movement, doctrinal reform efforts, the proliferation of prominent reclusive monks (tonseis), the escalation of fundraising (kanjin) campaigns and popular propagation, and the conspicuous revival of devotion toward Śakyamuni and Maitreya. Jōkei represents a paradigm within established Buddhism that recognized the necessity of accessing other powers through esoteric practices, ritual performances, and objects of devotion. While Jōkei is best known as a leading critic of Hōnen's exclusive nenbutsu movement and a conservative defender of normative Buddhist principles, he was also a progressive reformer in his own right Far from defending the status quo J kei envisioned a more accessible harmonious and monastically upright form of Buddhism Through a detailed examination of J kei s extensive writings and activities Ford challenges many received interpretations of J kei s legacy and the transformation of Buddhism in early medieval Japan This book fills a significant lacuna in Buddhist scholarship

The Buddha Within S. K. Hookham,Susan K. Hookham,1991-01-01 Tathagatagarbha Buddha Nature is a central concept of Mahayana Buddhism crucial to all the living practice traditions of Tibetan and Zen Buddhism Its relationship to the concept of emptiness has been a subject of controversy for seven hundred years Dr Hookam s work investigates the divergent interpretations of these concepts and the way the Tibetan tradition is resolving them In particular she does this with reference to the only surviving Indian commentary on the Tathagatagarbha doctrine the Ratnagotravibhaga This text addresses itself directly to the issue of how to relate the doctrine of emptiness the illusory nature of the world to that of the truly existing changeless Absolute the Buddha Nature This is the first work by a Western writer to present an analysis of the Shentong tradition based on previously untranslated sources The Shentong view rests on meditative experience that is inaccessible to the conceptualizing mind It is deeply rooted in the sutra tradition of Indian Buddhism and is central to an understanding of the Mahamudra and Dzogchen traditions and Tantric practice among Kagyupas and Hyingmapas

Dynamics of Interregional Exchange in East Asian Buddhist Art, 5th-13th Century Dorothy C. Wong,2022-10-10 This volume examines the various patterns of trans regional exchanges in Buddhist art within East Asia China Korea and Japan in the medieval period from the fifth to the thirteenth centuries A traditional approach to the study of East Asian Buddhist art revolves around the notion of an artistic relay India was regarded as the source of inspiration for China and China in turn influenced artistic production in the Korean peninsula and Japan While this narrative holds some truth it has the implicit baggage of assuming that art in the host country is only derivative and obscures a deep understanding of the complexity of transnational exchanges The essays in this volume aim to go beyond the conventional query of tracing origins and mapping exchanges in order to investigate the agency of the receivers with contextual case studies that can expand our understanding of artistic dialogues across cultures The volume is divided into three sections In Section I Transmission and Local Interpretations the three chapters by Jinchao Zhao Li kuei Chien and Hong Wu all address topics of transnational transmission of Buddhist imagery their figural styles and subsequent alterations or adaptations based on local preferences and interpretations Buddhism had important impacts on East Asian countries in the political dimension especially when the religion and certain Buddhist sutras and deities were believed to have state protecting properties The chapters by Dorothy C Wong Imann Lai and Clara Ma in Section II Buddhism and the State attend to the political aspect of Buddhism in visual representation Section III Iconography and Traditions includes chapters by Sakiko Takahashi Suijun Ra and Tamami Hamada that closely study the cross border transmission of and subtle variations in iconography and style of specific Buddhist deities notably deities of esoteric strands that include the Thousand Armed Avalokite vara Bodhisattva of Compassion      Religion and Social Formation in Korea Sang Taek Lee, 2012-10-24 The series Religion and Society RS contributes to the exploration of religions as social systems both in Western and non Western societies in particular it examines religions in their differentiation from and intersection with other cultural systems such as art economy law and politics Due attention is given to paradigmatic case or comparative studies that exhibit a clear theoretical orientation with the empirical and historical data of religion and such aspects of religion as ritual the religious imagination constructions of tradition iconography or media In addition the formation of religious communities their construction of identity and their relation to society and the wider public are key issues of this series      Oriental Religions and Their Relation to Universal Religion Samuel Johnson, 1877      Buddhahood Embodied John J. Makransky, 1997-07-31 To enter the Mahayana Buddhist path to enlightenment is to seek both to become free from our dualistic deluded world and to remain actively engaged in that world until all others are free How are these two apparently contradictory qualities to be embodied in the attainment of buddhahood dharmakaya How can one's present practice accomplish that These questions underlie a millennium old controversy over buddhahood in India and Tibet that centers around a cherished text the Abhisamayalamkara Makransky shows how the Abhisamayalamkara's composite redaction from Abhidharma Prajnaparamita and Yogacara traditions permitted its interpreters to perceive different aspects of those traditions as central in its teaching of buddhahood This enabled Indians and Tibetans to read very different perspectives on enlightenment into the Abhisamayalamkara through which they responded to the questions in startlingly different ways The author shows how these perspectives provide alternative ways to resolve a logical tension at the heart of Mahayana thought inscribed in the doctrine that buddhahood paradoxically transcends and engages our world simultaneously Revealing this tension as the basis of the Abhisamayalamkara controversy Makransky shows its connection to many other Indo Tibetan controversies revolving around the same tension disagreements over buddhahood's knowledge embodiment and accessibility to beings in Buddha nature and through the path Tracing the source of tension to early Mahayana practice intuitions about enlightenment the author argues that different perspectives in these controversies express different ways of prioritizing those practice intuitions

Buddhist Epistemology in the Geluk School Jonathan Samuels, Khedrup Je, Gyaltsab Je, The First Jamyang Shepa, 2025-08-26 Tibet's philosophical tradition is on brilliant display in this anthology of works exploring the means to finding certainty in an impermanent and interdependent world Here descendants of the great Tsongkhapa plumb the nature of knowing to harness it in the service of awakening This volume includes translations of three separate Tibetan works by iconic figures in the Geluk school of Buddhism The first work Banisher of Ignorance is by Khedrup Gelek Palsang 1385-1438 and the second On Preclusion and Relationship is by Gyaltsab Darma Rinchen 1364-1432 The authors popularly known as Khedrup Je and Gyaltsab Je were the foremost disciples of the Geluk school founder Tsongkhapa Losang Drakpa 1357-1419 The third text Mighty Pramana Sun is a commentary on the first chapter of Candrakirti's Clear Words Prasannapada by Jamyang Shepa 1648-1721 These works concern themselves primarily with the Buddhist theory of knowledge the means by which we are able to know things and how we can be certain of that knowledge Encapsulating this theory is the notion of pramana the Buddhist understanding of which was shaped most significantly by the Indian masters Dignaga fifth to sixth century and Dharmakirti seventh century Based on their explanation pramana is often translated as valid cognition a literal reference to the kind of cognition that they proposed could be relied upon to supply indisputable knowledge In the Buddhist Pramana tradition rigorous reasoning is held to play a crucial role in gaining such knowledge and there is no better exemplar of the sophistication this endeavor achieved in Tibet than Khedrup Je's work here He systematically catalogs and rebuts a host of views with unmatched acumen and flair All three works illustrate how those who follow the tradition have viewed the systematic approach as necessary not only for textual analysis for those seeking to unravel the complexities of the Indian Buddhist scriptures and treatises but also for practitioners aiming to progress along the spiritual path and achieve the highest Buddhist goals A Study of the Dharmadharmatāvibhaṅga Raymond E.
