Karnes,2022-07-12 A cross cultural study of magical phenomena in the Middle Ages Marvels like enchanted rings and sorcerers stones were topics of fascination in the Middle Ages not only in romance and travel literature but also in the period s philosophical writing Rather than constructions of belief accepted only by simple minded people Michelle Karnes shows that these spectacular wonders were near impossibilities that demanded scrutiny and investigation This is the first book to analyze a diverse set of writings on such wonders comparing texts from the Latin West including those written in English French Italian and Castilian Spanish with those written in Arabic as it works toward a unifying theory of marvels across different disciplines and cultures Karnes tells a story about the parallels between Arabic and Latin thought reminding us that experiences of the strange and the unfamiliar travel across a range of genres spanning geographical and conceptual space and offering an ideal vantage point from which to understand intercultural exchange Karnes traverses this diverse archive showing how imagination imbues marvels with their character and power making them at once enigmatic creative and resonant Skirting the distinction between the real and unreal these marvels challenge readers to discover the highest capabilities of both nature and the human intellect Karnes offers a rare comparative perspective and a new methodology to study a topic long recognized as central to medieval culture Tales of the Marvellous and News of the Strange
