Andrew Carpenter, 1998 This pioneering anthology introduces many previously neglected eighteenth century writers to a general readership and will lead to a re examination of the entire canon of Irish verse in English Between 1700 and 1800 Dublin was second only to London as a center for the printing of poetry in English Many fine poets were active during this period However because Irish eighteenth century verse in English has to a great extent escaped the scholar and the anthologist it is hardly known at all The most innovative aspect of this new anthology is the inclusion of many poetic voices entirely unknown to modern readers Although the anthology contains the work of well known figures such as John Toland Thomas Parnell Jonathan Swift Patrick Delany Laetitia Pilkington and Oliver Goldsmith there are many verses by lesser known writers and nearly eighty anonymous poems which come from the broadsheets manuscripts and chapbooks of the time What emerges is an entirely new perspective on life in eighteenth century Ireland We hear the voice of a hard working farmer s wife from county Derry of a rambling weaver from county Antrim and that of a woman dying from drink We learn about whale fishing in county Donegal about farming in county Kerry and bull baiting in Dublin In fact almost every aspect of life in eighteenth century Ireland is described vividly energetically with humor and feeling in the verse of this anthology Among the most moving poems are those by Irish speaking poets who use amhran or song meter and internal assonance both borrowed from Irish in their English verse Equally interesting is the work of the weaver poets of Ulster who wrote in vigorous and energetic Ulster Scots The anthology also includes political poems dating from the reign of James II to the Act of Union as well as a selection of lesser known nationalist and Orange songs Each poem is fully annotated and the book also contains a glossary of terms in Hiberno English and Ulster Scots The Sailors' Magazine and Seamen's Friend, 1891

University of Virginia Alumni News, 1972 The Words and Music of Sting Christopher R. Gabel, Christopher Gable, 2008-12-30 Sting has successfully established himself as one of the most important singer songwriters in Western popular music over the past twenty years His affinity for collaborative work and disparate musical styles has pushed his music into an astonishing array of contexts but no matter what the style or who the collaborator Sting s voice always remains distinct and this fact has earned him success amongst a correspondingly broad audience The Words and Music of Sting subdivides Sting s life and works into rough periods of creative activity and offers a fantastic opportunity to view Sting s many stylistic changes within a coherent general framework After analyzing Sting s musical output album by album and song by song author Christopher Gable sums up Sting s accomplishments and places him on the continuum of influential singer songwriters showing how he differs and relates to other artists of the same period Aside from his commercial success Sting is also interesting for the use of recurring themes in his lyrics such as family relationships love war spirituality and work and for his use of jazz and world music to illustrate or work against the meaning of a song Sting s life also sheds light on his music as his working class roots in Newcastle England are never far removed from his international superstardom Throughout his life he has been musically open minded and inquisitive always seeking out new styles and often incorporating them into his compositions
