Transcultural Architecture Thorsten Botz-Bornstein, 2015-10-30 This book shifts the focus from Critical Regionalism towards a broader concept of Transcultural Architecture and defines Critical Regionalism as a subgroup of the latter One of the benefits that this change of perspective brings about is that a large part of the political agenda of Critical Regionalism which consists of resisting attitudes forged by typically Western experiences is softened and negotiated according to premises provided by local circumstances At the book s centre is an analysis of Reima and Raili Pietil s Sief Palace Area project in Kuwait Further cases of modern architecture in China Korea and Saudi Arabia show that the critique which holds that Critical Regionalism is a typical western exercise is not sound in all circumstances Furthermore the book proposes that a certain architectural rationality can be contained in architecture itself not imposed by outside parameters like aesthetics comfort or even tradition
