Now more than ever, the world is recognizing how strong women and girls are. How strong? In the early 1920s, Aboriginal Alaskan expeditioner Ada Blackjack survived for two years as a castaway on an uninhabited island in the Arctic Ocean before she was finally rescued. And she's just one example. The Girl Who Rode a Shark and other stories of daring women is a rousing collection of biographies focused on women and girls who have written, explored, or otherwise plunged headfirst into the pages of history. Undaunted by expectations, they made their mark by persevering in pursuit of their passions. The tales come from a huge variety of times and places: from a Canadian astronaut to an Indian secret agent and to a Balkan pirate queen who stood up to Ancient Rome. Author and activist Ailsa Ross gives readers a fun, informative piece of nonfiction that emphasizes the boundless potential of a new generation of women. Stunning portraits by artist Amy Blackwell accompany every biography in bold, vibrant colours. Handbook of Latin American Studies, 1936. Contains scholarly evaluations of books and book chapters, as well as conference papers and articles published worldwide in the field of Latin American studies. Covers social sciences and the humanities in alternate years. La medida de la Tierra Larrie D. Ferreiro, 2024-06-26. A principios del siglo XVIII, en pleno auge de la Ilustración, un insólito equipo de científicos franceses y oficiales de marina españoles entre ellos Jorge Juan y Antonio de Ulloa y franceses emprendió la primera expedición científica internacional del mundo con la intención de realizar mediciones astronómicas precisas en el Ecuador y resolver así uno de los misterios más antiguos de la humanidad: la verdadera forma de la Tierra. En su libro La medida de la Tierra, la expedición científica ilustrada que cambió nuestro mundo, el galardonado Larrie D. Ferreiro, autor de Hermanos de armas, narra por primera vez la historia completa de la Misión Geodésica al Ecuador en una época en la que Europa se debatía entre dos concepciones opuestas del mundo: los seguidores de René Descartes sostenían que la Tierra se alargaba hacia los polos, mientras que Isaac Newton defendía que era achatada. Una nación que pudiera determinar con precisión la forma del planeta podría navegar con seguridad por sus océanos y proporcionar enormes ventajas militares con su consiguiente proyección imperial. Conscientes de ello, Francia y España organizaron una expedición conjunta al virreinato de Perú provista de los más avanzados equipos topográficos y astronómicos con el fin de medir un grado de latitud en el Ecuador que comparado con otras mediciones revelaría la forma de la Tierra. Sin embargo, lo que desde los lejanos gabinetes científicos de París y Madrid parecía un sencillo ejercicio científico se vio casi inmediatamente empañado por una serie de catástrofes imprevistas y los expedicionarios vieron su misión amenazada por un terreno tan exigente como son la cordillera de los Andes o las selvas ecuatoriales, una población nativa profundamente recelosa y su propia arrogancia. La medida de la Tierra es un apasionante relato que entrelaza aventura, historia política y ciencia para narrar la mayor expedición científica de la Ilustración a través de los ojos de los hombres que la llevaron a cabo: pioneros que superaron tremendas adversidades con el objetivo de discernir la forma de nuestro mundo y sentar además los cimientos para la cooperación científica a escala mundial. Contemporary
