Season In Rihata:

Conversations with Maryse Condé Maryse Condé, Françoise Pfaff, 1996-01-01 This book is an exploration of the life and art of Maryse Condé who first won international acclaim for Segu a novel about West African experience and the slave trade Born in Guadeloupe in 1937 Condé lived in Guinea after it won its independence from France Later she lived in Ghana and Senegal during turbulent decisive moments in the histories of these countries Her writings novels plays essays stories and children's books have led her to an increasingly important role within Africa and throughout the world Françoise Pfaff met Maryse Condé in 1981 when she first interviewed her Their friendship grew quickly In 1991 the two women continued recording conversations about Condé's geographical sojourns and literary paths her personality and her thoughts Their conversations reveal connections between Condé's vivid art and her eventful passionate life In her encounters with historical and literary figures and in her opinions on politics and culture Condé appears as an engaging witness to her time The conversations frequently sparkle with humor at other moments they are infused with profound seriousness Maryse Condé is the recipient of the French literary awards Le Grand Prix Littéraire de la Femme and Le Prix de l'Académie Française She currently teaches at Columbia University and her most recent works include Tree of Life and Crossing the Mangrove Born and educated in Paris Françoise Pfaff is a professor of French at Howard University The translator of this book she is also the author of Twenty five Black African Filmmakers A Critical Study with Filmography and Bio Bibliography and The Cinema of Ousmane Sembene A Pioneer of African Cinema Entretiens avec Maryse Condé was first published in France in 1993 The Oxford History of the Novel in English Simon Gikandi, 2016-10-03 Why did the novel take such a long time to emerge in the colonial world And what cultural work did it come to perform in societies where subjects were not free and modes of social organization diverged from the European cultural centers where the novel gained its form and audience Answering these questions and more Volume 11 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 explores the institutions of cultural production that exerted influence in late colonialism from missionary schools and metropolitan publishers to universities and small presses How these structures provoke and respond to the literary trends and social peculiarities of Africa and the Caribbean impacts not only the writing and reading of novels in those regions but also has a transformative effect on the novel as a global phenomenon Together the volume's 32 contributing experts tell a story about the close relationship between the novel and the project of decolonization and explore the multiple ways in which novels enable readers to imagine communities beyond their own and thus made this form of literature a compelling catalyst for cultural transformation The authors show that even as the novel grows in Africa and the Caribbean as a mark of the elites mastery of European form it becomes the essential instrument for critiquing colonialism and for articulating the new horizons of cultural nationalism Within this historical context the volume examines works by authors such as Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer George Lamming Jamaica Kincaid V S Naipaul Zoe Wicomb J M Coetzee and many others Autobiographical Tightropes Leah D.

Hewitt,1990-01-01 In order to write said Simone de Beauvoir the first essential condition is that reality can no longer be taken for granted She and four other French women writers of the second half of the twentieth century Nathalie Sarraute Marguerite Duras Monique Wittig and Maryse Condé illustrate that producing autobiography is like performing a tightrope act on the slippery line between fact and fiction Autobiographical Tightropes emphasizes the tension in the works of these major writers as they move in and out of experience and literature violating the neat boundaries between genres and confusing the distinctions between remembering and creating Focusing on selected works Leah D Hewitt for the first time anywhere explores the connections among the authors In doing so she shows how contemporary women s autobiography in France links with feminist issues literary tradition and trends and postmodern theories of writing In light of these theories Hewitt offers a new reading of de Beauvoir s memoirs and reveals how her attempt to represent the past faithfully is undone by irony by literary and feminine detours Other analysts of Nathalie Sarraute s writing have dwelt mainly on formal considerations of the New Novel but Hewitt exposes a repressed forbidden feminine aspect in her literary innovations Unlike Sarraute Duras cannot be connected with just one literary movement political stance style or kind of feminism because her writing largely autobiographical is marked by chameleon like transformations The chapters on Wittig and Condé show how within the bounds of feminism lesbians and women of color challenge the individualistic premises of autobiography Hewitt demonstrates that despite vast differences among these five writers all of them reveal in their autobiographical works the self s need of a fictive other Postcolonial Thought in the French Speaking World Charles Forsdick,David

Murphy,2022-04-01 In the late 1990 s Postcolonial Studies risked imploding as a credible area of academic enquiry Repeated anthologization and an overemphasis on the English language literatures led to sustained critiques of the field and to an active search for alternative approaches to the globalized and transnational formations of the post colonial world In the early twenty first century however postcolonial began to reveal a new openness to its comparative dimensions French language contributors to postcolonial debate such as Edouard Glissant and Abdelkebir Khatibi have recently risen to greater prominence in the English speaking world and there have also appeared an increasing number of important critical and theoretical texts on postcolonial issues written by scholars working principally on French language material It is to such a context that this book responds Acknowledging these shifts this volume provides an essential tool for students and scholars outside French departments seeking a way into the study of Francophone colonial postcolonial debates At the same time it supplies scholars in French with a comprehensive overview of essential ideas and key intellectuals in this area Her
