Many farmers do not realize that small streams may be used in generating electricity Electrical equipment on the farm saves time and labor but if it is to be a sound investment the cost of installation should not be greater than the benefits obtained can justify The purpose of this bulletin is to acquaint farmers with the possibilities of developing the power of small streams by converting it into electrical energy and the uses to which such power can be put to give information which will enable them to avoid unnecessary expenditures to explain how to determine the power a stream will supply and to indicate the sources from which to secure additional information regarding the approximate cost of installing a plant suited to the power available The details of design installation and operation of electrical equipment are not within the scope of this bulletin

Muskrats are of much economic value and should be protected by proper laws Legal enactments should forbid their destruction during reproducing season and whenever their furs are not prime Spearing and shooting should be prohibited Muskrat houses should be protected at all times The trapping season should be nearly uniform for the different states Protective laws should contain provisions allowing corporations and individuals whose property is being damaged by muskrats to destroy the animals in the closed season under the supervision of game wardens or other officers but not for profit If properly protected the muskrat will continue to inhabit our rivers and ponds for an indefinite period and to furnish a stock of furs for our own future generations Page 37 38
