Man, State and Society in the Contemporary Middle East Jacob M. Landau, 2016-04-14 This work first published in 1972 is an objective introduction to the social political and cultural changes that took place in the Middle East in the years after the Second World War It includes papers by some of the most distinguished scholars in the field as well as personal accounts by insightful observers living in the area It includes articles on such topics as Arab socialism and nationalism religious communities ethnic minorities women in Arab society education and many more Man, State, and Society in the Contemporary Middle East Congress of African Peoples (1970 : Atlanta), 1972 Man, state, and society in the contemporary Middle East. Ed. by J.M. Landau , 1972 State And Society In Algeria John P Entelis, Phillip C Naylor, 2019-06-04 On 11 January 1992 senior military officers forced President Chadli Benjedid to resign canceled the second round of legislative elections and annulled the results of the first round which saw the opposition Islamic Salvation Front FIS achieve a major electoral victory and imposed a year long state of siege Constitutional government was replaced by an army dominated so called Higher State Council responsive to no one but itself In the weeks and months that followed further draconian measures were undertaken intended to subvert the incipient democratic process that Algeria had been experiencing in the several years following the deadly riots of October 1988 As part of the army s effort to regain control of state and society it reined in the free wheeling press abolished the country s most popular political party FIS dissolved the National Assembly and reimposed on civil society the apparatus of the omnipresent state security system mukhabarat

Politics and Society in Israel Ernest Krausz, 2017-09-29 This series of the Israeli Sociological Society whose object is to identify and clarify the major themes that occupy social research in Israel today gathers together the best of Israeli social science investigation that was previously scattered in a large variety of international journals Each book in the series is introduced by integrative essays Each volume focuses on a particular topic the first volume seeks out the dynamics of conflict and integration in a new society the second volume is concerned with the sociology of a unique Israeli social institution the kibbutz The third volume presents sociological perspectives on political life and culture in Israel Articles by leading scholars deal with historical development political culture and ideology political institutions and behavior the social basis of politics and social change Volume III also includes a select bibliography Contributors to Volume III tentative Karl W Deutsch Yonathan Shapiro Dan Horowitz Moshe Lissak Daniel Elazar Asher Arian Charles Liebman Erik Cohen Yoram Peri Ephraim Yaar S Smooha The Politics of African and Middle Eastern States Anne Gordon Drabek, Wilfrid Knapp, 2013-10-22 The Politics of African and Middle Eastern States An Annotated Bibliography is a record of books written about the politics history and the lives of the leaders of Africa and the Middle East The book is divided per chapter according to the geographical area being discussed Each chapter contains a list of books that fall under the following categories Political History Political Systems and Government Biographies Memoirs Speeches and Writings and External Relations Chapters I to

VII cover different regions of Africa while Chapters VIII to XI cover the Middle East The text is a recommended for historians and political scientists especially those interested in the areas mentioned in the book The selection also serves a guide to those who plan to have further readings or make a paper about the political history government and development of the areas mentioned Religious Minorities in Non-Secular Middle Eastern and North African States Mark Tessler,2019-07-19

This book describes and compares the circumstances and lived experiences of religious minorities in Tunisia Morocco and Israel in the 1970s countries where the identity and mission of the state are strongly and explicitly tied to the religion of the majority The politics and identity of Jews in Tunisia and Morocco and Arabs in Israel are therefore shaped to a substantial degree by their status as religious minorities in non secular states This collection based on in depth fieldwork carried out during an important moment in the history of each community and of the region considers the nature and implications of each group s response to its circumstances It focuses on both the community and individual levels of analysis and draws in part on original public opinion surveys It also compares the three communities in order to offer generalizable insights about ways the identity political culture and institutional character of a minority group are shaped by the broader political environment in which it resides The project will appeal to scholars and students in the fields of Middle Eastern and North African studies Judaic studies Islamic Studies minority group politics and international relations and the Arab Israeli conflict

Legislative Politics in the Arab World Abdo I. Baaklini,Guilain Denoeux,Robert Springborg,1999 Presents historical comparative and theoretical perspectives on democratization and legislatures in the Arab world supported by six case studies The authors look at the distinctive features of democratization processes in the Arab world discuss the ability of parliaments to provide linkages between government and citizens and present a typology of Arab parliaments revolving around the variables of centrality and capacity The second part of the text consists of case studies in legislative development in Lebanon Morocco Kuwait Yemen and Egypt Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Military Politics of the Contemporary Arab World Philippe Droz-Vincent,2020-10-29 Compares the crucial role of Arab armies in state building a decade after the 2011 Arab Uprisings in Tunisia Egypt Libya Yemen and Syria Bibliography of Periodical Literature on the Near and Middle East ,1970 Monographic Series Library of Congress, Nation-Building in Turkey and Morocco Senem Aslan,2014-11-17 Why do some ethno national groups live peacefully with the states that govern them whereas others develop into serious threats to state authority Through a comparative historical analysis this book compares the evolution of Kurdish mobilization in Turkey with the Berber mobilization in Morocco by looking at the different nation building strategies of the respective states Using a variety of sources including archival documents interviews and memoirs Senem Aslan emphasizes the varying levels of willingness and the varying capabilities of the Turkish and Moroccan states to intrude into their citizens lives She argues that complex interactions at the ground level where states have demanded changes in everyday behavior such as how to dress what language to speak what names to give children and more mundane practices account for the nature of emerging state minority relations By taking the local and informal interactions between state officials and citizens seriously this study calls attention to the actual implementation of state policies and the often unintended consequences of these policies

State and Society in the Philippines Patricio N. Abinales, Donna J. Amoroso, 2005-05-05 People in the Philippines routinely vote run for office organize social movements and call for good governance by the state Why then is there a recurring state society dilemma in the Philippines One horn of the dilemma is the persistent inability of the state to provide basic services guarantee peace and order and foster economic development The other is Filipinos equally enduring suspicion of a strong state The idea of a strong Republic evokes President Marcos martial law regime of the 1970s and 1980s which spawned two armed rebellions cost thousands of lives in repression and billions of dollars in corruption set the nation back years in economic development and exacerbated suspicion of the state This dilemma stimulates thinking about the puzzle of state resilience How has a weak state maintained the territorial integrity of the Philippines in the postwar period in the face of two major rebellions and an armed separatist movement corruption mismanagement intractable poverty weak sovereignty and an often chaotic electoral system Why does the inability to collect taxes secure citizens lives and property and maintain economic infrastructure not result in state failure

State and Society in the Philippines engages the dilemma of state society relations through a historical treatment of state formation and the corresponding conflicts and collaborations between state leaders and social forces It examines the long history of institutional state weakness in the Philippines and the efforts made to overcome the state's structural fragility and strengthen its bond with society It answers these difficult questions by focusing on how the state has shaped and been shaped by its interaction with social forces especially in the rituals of popular mobilization that have produced surprising and diverse results

Christopher Alexander, 2010-03-02 This book gives a concise yet comprehensive overview of Tunisia's political and economic development from the mid nineteenth century to the present Written specifically for a non specialist audience the book examines the factors that make Tunisia one of the Arab world's most stable and prosperous countries and one of its hardest authoritarian orders The author explores these themes in a way that sheds light on the political dynamics of the broader Arabic speaking Muslim world Christopher Alexander draws on extensive primary and secondary research and on comparison with other countries in the region to provide the most up to date introduction to Tunisia's post independence politics Challenging the notion that Tunisia's stability is rooted in a unique political culture he argues that Tunisia's stability reflects the pragmatic interests of a wide range of actors and the skillful maneuvering of the country's two presidents Concisely written chapters cover topics such as state formation domestic politics economic development foreign relations colonialism An essential inclusion on courses on Middle Eastern politics African politics and political science in general this accessible introduction to Tunisia will also be of interest to anyone wishing to learn more about this significant region

Series Authors and Titles Middle East Review ,1982 Quarterly Check-list of Oriental Studies ,1969 State, Society and Economy in Saudi Arabia (RLE Saudi Arabia) Tim Niblock,2015-02-20 Saudi Arabia is one of the most important countries in the modern world Not only does it possess some 25 per cent of the world s proven oil reserves it also plays a crucial role in the wider Gulf region where over 50 per cent of proven reserves are located Developments in Saudi Arabia will inevitably affect the economic well being of the Western industrialised world Japan and much of the Third World
At the same time Saudi Arabia is ruled in a traditional way by an all powerful king and royal family and is one of the key countries of Islam the Holy City of Mecca being within the country s boundaries The inroad of modern Western forces into this traditional Islamic society is underlined by the fact that many key posts are filled with imported Western workers This book first published in 1982 containing contributions by the world s leading Middle Eastern experts provides a comprehensive overview of important social political and economic developments in Saudi Arabia The opening chapters consider the formation of the Saudi State and the bulk of the book surveys key themes such as political opposition the oil industry energy policy banking external relations and the future direction of development
