Patient Earth John Harte, Robert H. Socolow, 1971 There are three ecosystems today the ecosystem of species the ecosystem of intellectual disciplines and the ecosystem of nations The ecosystem of species is the direct concern of this book it needs to be understood and cherished not only for itself but also because it provides models of interdependence which suggest how other systems might behave The interactions of diverse intellectual disciplines throughout this book reveal some of the interdependence within the ecosystem of ideas And the context of many of the essays global scarcity and competition suggests some of the interdependence in the ecosystem of nations Preface Patient Earth John Harte, Robert H.

The Life and Death of Planet Earth Peter D. Ward,Donald Brownlee,2003 Planet Earth is middle aged Science has worked hard to piece together the story of the evolution of our world up to this point but only recently have we developed the understanding and the tools to describe the entire life cycle of a planet Ward and Brownlee a geologist and an astronomer respectively combine their knowledge of how the critical sustaining systems of our planet evolve through time with their understanding of the life cycles of stars and solar systems to tell the story of the second half of Earth's life. The process of evolution will essentially reverse itself as we know it will subside until only the simplest forms remain. Eventually they too will disappear. The oceans will evaporate, the atmosphere will degrade, and as the sun slowly expands, Earth itself will eventually meet a fiery end.

From publisher description Mid-Century Romance John T. Connor, 2024-07-22 Mid-Century Romance chronicles a revival of the historical novel in the middle decades of the twentieth century in the cultures of British modernism and international communism. Born of a national turn in world politics, these novels met the turbulence of mid-century history with narratives of national becoming, roadmaps to situate their readers in the pattern of social change. Their writers were often mindful of the genre's romantic era heritage; they saw themselves as following in the footsteps of Sir Walter Scott, and they drew on the same rescued remains of primitive poetry and popular antiquities that romanticism first used to construct its versions of national identity, culture, and tradition. This book shows how the impulse to salvage traces of ancestral culture and press them to new purpose links the mid-century national historical novel to the rise of radical social history and magical realism. Post-war anticommunism shaped a tradition of the novel as a preserve of art and the individual. Mid-Century Romance counters with a different genealogy of the British and world novel, whose object is society and the future of community, the nation, and its people. It situates its cast of British writers, including the modernists Hope Mirrlees and Virginia Woolf, the communists Jack Lindsay and Sylvia Townsend Warner, the eccentric modernist and sometime fellow traveller John Cowper Powys, and the New Left luminary Raymond Williams, in a transnational perspective that reaches from Bihar, India, to Bahia, Brazil.

Neurophysiological Monitoring During Intensive Care and Surgery N. Jollyon Smith, Mark van Gils, Pamela Prior, 2006. This title enables readers to understand how to undertake appropriate neurophysiological investigations in the critical care setting. The book addresses the scientific principles, biological and technological recording techniques, the development of electrical potentials in normal subjects, and the ways these are disturbed by trauma, surgery, and disease. The impact of digital technologies and the possibilities of quantification, statistical treatment, and advanced signal processing techniques have enabled practitioners to work to more rigorous scientific standards. The increasing availability of such tools in daily clinical work means that patients can now benefit from investigations of known specificity and sensitivity.

The Ladies' Repository, 1863 Doctors' Stories Kathryn Montgomery Hunter, 2020-06-30. A patient's job is to tell the physician what hurts, and the physician's job is to fix it. But how does the physician know what is wrong? What becomes of the patient's story when the patient becomes a case? Addressing readers on both sides of the patient-physician encounter, Kathryn Hunter looks at medicine as an art that relies heavily on telling and interpreting a story: the patient's story of illness and its symptoms.

Lung Ultrasound in the Critically Ill Daniel A. Lichtenstein, 2015-09-29. Written by a pioneer in critical care ultrasound, this book discusses the basic technique and signatures of lung ultrasound and explains its main clinical applications The tools and clinical uses of the BLUE protocol which allows diagnosis of most cases of acute respiratory failure are first described in detail Careful attention is then devoted to protocols derived from the BLUE protocol the FALLS protocol for diagnosis and management of acute circulatory failure the Pink protocol for use in ARDS and the SESAME protocol for use in cardiac arrest and to the LUCI FLR program a means of answering clinical questions while reducing radiation exposure Finally the book discusses all the possible settings in which lung ultrasound can be used discipline by discipline and condition by condition Lung Ultrasound in the Critically Ill comprehensively explains how ultrasound can become the stethoscope of modern medicine It is a superb complement to the author s previous book Whole Body Ultrasonography in the Critically Ill

Poems of the Heart and Home J. C. Mrs. Yule, 2019-12-19 In Poems of the Heart and Home J C Mrs Yule captures the delicate interplay of domestic life and emotional landscapes through a lyrical and evocative poetic style The collection is suffused with themes of love loss and the simple yet profound intricacies of home Yule s verses resonate with both personal and universal experiences employing rich imagery and a melodic flow that evokes the warmth and melancholy of everyday moments The work is situated within the broader context of 19th century romantic poetry reflecting the era s emphasis on emotional authenticity and the valorization of domesticity J C Mrs Yule a contemporary of literary figures like Emily Dickinson and Elizabeth Barrett Browning draws from her own experiences of family life motherhood and social challenges Living in a time when women were often relegated to domestic roles Yule s poetry offers both a subtle rebellion and a celebration of the home as a site of emotional depth Her writing reflects a keen awareness of societal norms and personal trials creating a poignant dialogue between her lived realities and artistic expression For readers seeking an intimate exploration of human emotion and domesticity Poems of the Heart and Home is a compelling choice Yule s empathetic voice and rich imagery provide a refuge from the chaos of modern life inviting readers to find beauty in the familiar and solace in shared experiences This collection is not only an important contribution to the canon of women s poetry but also a timeless reminder of the power of love and home
