Piers Plowman And The Problem Of Belief

Jeremy Dimmick, James
Simpson, Nicolette Zeeman

Piers Plowman And The Problem Of Belief:

Piers Plowman and the Problem of Belief Britton J. Harwood, 1992 Piers Plowman is one of the greatest poems of Middle English In this study Britton F Harwood considers it as an expression of a crisis of faith and as such a landmark in the theological and philosophical history of the medieval era Harwood shows how the protagonist of the poem represents himself as one in need of a knowledge of Christ as present and existing This kind of knowledge was elaborated in late thirteenth and fourteenth century thought as notitia intuitiva the poet wants not a report of Christ but Christ as an object of perception Any conversion for him is consequent upon the vision of God The action of the poem then consists in the poet's testing of certain human capacities for their ability to recover the vision of God Following through each segment of the poem Harwood charts the course of the poet's inquiry showing how each vision advances the poet's search until he reaches the knowledge of Christ in remorse suffering being the point where God and humanity meet On this basis Harwood suggests that Piers Plowman is the first Middle English poem to have been motivated by the deterioration in theological and philosophical foundations experienced by the fourteenth century writer as argued by Muscatine and Middleton This is the first book on Piers Plowman to take the narrator seriously when he rejects moral instruction as a substitute for the knowledge of God and to argue that the poem is authentically exploratory BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

History of Political Ideas Eric Voegelin, 1998 Annotation Examining the emergence of modernity within the philosophical and political debates of the sixteenth century Religion and the Rise of Modernity resumes the analysis of the great confusion introduced in Volume IV of History of Political Ideas Encompassing a vast range of events ignited by Luther's Ninety Five Theses this period is one of controversy revolution and partiality Despite the era's fragmentation and complexity Voegelin's insightful analysis clarifies its significance and suggests the lines of change converging at a point in the future the medieval Christian understanding of a divinely created closed cosmos was being replaced by a distinctly modern form of human consciousness that posits man as the proper origin of meaning in the universe Analyzing the most significant features of the great confusion Voegelin examines a vast range of thought and issues of the age From the more obvious thinkers to those less frequently studied this volume features such figures as Calvin Althusius Hooker Bracciolini Savonarola Copernicus Tycho de Brahe and Giordano Bruno Devoting a considerable amount of attention to Jean Bodin Voegelin presents him as a prophet of a new true religion amid the civilizational disorder of the post Christian era Focusing on such traditional themes as monarchy just war theory and the philosophy of law this volume also investigates issues within astrology cosmology and mathematics Religion and the Rise of Modernity is a valuable work of scholarship not only because of its treatment of individual thinkers and doctrines influential in the sixteenth century and beyond but also because of its close examination of those experiences that formed the modern outlook

New Directions in Medieval Mystical and Devotional Literature Lee Templeton, Amy N. Vines, 2023-07-03 In pursuing how fourteenth century English texts engage with philosophical intellectual and theological questions the work of Denise N Baker has powerfully shaped the field of medieval studies This collection honors Baker s legacy as a scholar and teacher by taking a fresh approach to the most salient literary mystical and devotional works written in late medieval England The contributors examine a variety of foundational texts ranging from Piers Plowman and The Canterbury Tales to The Cloud of Unknowing and Julian of Norwich s Showings Their analyses offer new insights into medieval literature and culture by examining the intricacies of vice and virtue the connections between gender and literary form and the ethical potential of social formations Additionally the volume attests to the wider influence of fourteenth century literature Not only do the contributors explore how medieval writers make their own claims of memorialization but they also analyze later iterations of Middle English writing in the context of nineteenth and twentieth century print culture Featuring chapters by both early scholars and those at the later stages of their careers this volume celebrates the impact of Baker s scholarship over the past four decades At the same time this book offers an incisive inquiry into many of the most debated issues and texts in studies of late medieval England

The Book and the Magic of Reading in the Middle Ages Albrecht Classen,1998 The computer revolution is upon us The future of books and of reading are debated Will there be books in the next millennium Will we still be reading As uncertain as the answers to these questions might be as clear is the message about the value of the book expressed by medieval writers The contributors to the volume The Book and the Magic of Reading in the Middle Ages explore the significance of the written document as the key icon of a whole era Both philosophers and artists both poets and clerics wholeheartedly subscribed to the notion that reading and writing represented essential epistemological tools for spiritual political religious and philosophical quests To gain a deeper understanding of the cultural significance of the medieval book the contributors to this volume examine pertinent statements by medieval philosophers and French German English Spanish and Italian poets

Images, Idolatry, and Iconoclasm in Late Medieval England Jeremy Dimmick,James Simpson,Nicolette Zeeman,2002-02-14 This book capitalizes on brilliant recent work on sixteenth century iconoclasm to extend the study of images both their making and their breaking into an earlier period and wider discursive territories Pressures towards iconoclasm are powerfully registered in fourteenth and fifteenth century writings both heterodox and orthodox just as the use of images is central to the practice of both politics and religion The governance of images turns out indeed to be central to governance itself It is also of critical concern in any moment of historical change when new cultural forms must incorporate or destroy the images of the old order The iconoclast redescribes images as pure matter objects of idolatry worthy only of the hammer Issues of historical memory no less than of social ethics are then inherent to the making love and destruction of images These issues are the consistent concern of the essays of this volume essays commissioned from a range of outstanding late medievalists in a variety of disciplines literature art history Biblical studies and intellectual history

Medieval Allegory as Epistemology Marco Nievergelt,2023-03-21 In Medieval Allegory as Epistemology Marco Nievergelt argues that late medieval dream poetry was able to use the tools of allegorical fiction to explore a set of complex philosophical questions regarding the nature of human knowledge. The focus is on three of the most widely read and influential poems of the later Middle Ages: Jean de Meun's Roman de la Rose, the Perceval trilogy of Guillaume de Deguileville, and William Langland's Piers Plowman in its various versions. All three poets grapple with a collection of shared, closely related epistemological problems that emerged in Western Europe during the thirteenth century in the wake of the reception of the complete body of Aristotle's works on logic and the natural sciences. This study therefore not only examines the intertextual and literary historical relations linking the work of the three poets but takes their shared interest in cognition and epistemology as a starting point to assess their wider cultural and intellectual significance in the context of broader developments in late medieval philosophy of mind, knowledge, and language. Vernacular literature more broadly played an extremely important role in lending an enlarged cultural resonance to philosophical ideas developed by scholastic thinkers, but it is also shown that allegorical narrative could prompt philosophical speculation on its own terms, deliberately interrogating the dominance and authority of scholastic discourses and institutions by using first-person fictional narrative as a tool for intellectual speculation.

The Cambridge Companion to Medieval English Literature 1100-1500 Larry Scanlon, 2009-06-18. A wide-ranging survey of the most important medieval authors and genres designed for students of English.

Reading Heresy Gregory Erickson, Bernard Schweizer, 2017-11-20. Heresy studies is a new interdisciplinary, supra-religious and humanist field of study that focuses on borderlands of dogma, probes the intersections between orthodoxy and heterodoxy, and explores the realms of dissent in religion, art, and literature. Free from confessional agendas and tolerant of both religious and non-religious perspectives, heresy studies fulfill an important gap in scholarly inquiry and artistic production. Divided into four parts, the volume explores intersections between heresy and modern literature; it discusses intricacies of medieval heresies; it analyzes issues of heresy in contemporary theology; and it demonstrates how heresy operates as an artistic stimulant. Rather than treating matters of heresy, blasphemy, unbelief, dissent, and non-conformism as subjects to be shunned or naively championed, the essays in this collection chart a middle course energized by the dynamics of heterodoxy, dissent, and provocation, yet shining a critical light on both the challenges and the revelations of disruptive kinds of thinking and acting.

Revelation and the Apocalypse in Late Medieval Literature Justin M. Byron-Davies, 2020-02-01. The book will equip the reader with a stronger understanding of the religious and historical background to these late medieval texts. It will provide insight into the influence of the biblical Apocalypse upon the literature of the period in a systematic way. Importantly, by treating the writings of Julian of Norwich and William Langland as contemporaneous, the book balances the female and male approaches to, and engagement with, the biblical Apocalypse.

Ethics and Enjoyment in Late Medieval Poetry Jessica Rosenfeld, 2010-12-02. Jessica Rosenfeld provides a history of the ethics of medieval vernacular love poetry by tracing its engagement with the late medieval reception of Aristotle. Beginning with a history of the idea of enjoyment from Plato to Peter Abelard and the troubadours, the book then presents a literary and philosophical history of the medieval ethics of love centered on the legacy of the Roman de la Rose The chapters reveal that courtly love was scarcely confined to what is often characterized as an ethic of sacrifice and deferral but also engaged with Aristotelian ideas about pleasure and earthly happiness Readings of Machaut Froissart Chaucer Dante Deguileville and Langland show that poets were often markedly aware of the overlapping ethical languages of philosophy and erotic poetry The study's conclusion places medieval poetry and philosophy in the context of psychoanalytic ethics and argues for a re-evaluation of Lacan's ideas about courtly love

The politics of Middle English parables Mary Raschko, 2018-10-03 The politics of Middle English parables examines the dynamic intersection of fiction theology and social practice in late medieval England Parables occupy a prominent place in Middle English literature appearing in dream visions and story collections as well as in lives of Christ and devotional treatises While most scholarship approaches the translated stories as stable vehicles of Christian teaching this book highlights the many variations and points of conflict across Middle English renditions of the same story In parables related to labour social inequality charity and penance the book locates a creative theological discourse through which writers attempted to re-construct Christian belief and practice Analysis of these diverse retellings reveals not what a given parable meant in a definitive sense but rather how Middle English parables inscribe the ideologies power structures and cultural debates of late medieval Christianity

Encounters with God in Medieval and Early

Modern English Poetry Charlotte Clutterbuck, 2017-07-05 Engaging with four English poems or groups of poems the anonymous medieval Crucifixion lyrics William Langland's Piers Plowman John Donne's Divine Poems and John Milton's Paradise Lost this book examines the nature of poetic encounter with God At the same time the author makes original contributions to the discussion of critical dilemmas in the study of each poem or group of poems The main linguistic focus of this book is on the nature of dialogue with God in religious poetry an area much neglected by grammarians and often overlooked in studies of literary style It constitutes an important contribution to our understanding of the relationship between literature and theology

The Gnostic Paradigm N. Elias, 2015-04-09 No study has been carried out examining the gnostic undercurrents in medieval England For the first time Natanela Elias investigates the existence of these gnostic traces using prominent late medieval English literary works such as Piers Plowman and Confessio Amantis and ultimately shedding light on a previously overlooked religious dimension Medieval English Literature Beatrice Fannon, 2015-12-01 This volume brings together a wide range of original scholarly essays on key figures and topics in medieval literature by leading academics The volume examines the major authors such as Chaucer Langland and the Gawain Poet and covers key topics in medieval literature including gender class courtly and popular culture and religion The volume seeks to provide a fresh and stimulating guide to medieval literature Medieval Literature and Historical Inquiry David Aers, 2000 Historicist readings of the politics and ethics exhibited in a range of medieval texts including Chaucer Malory and the York Corpus Christi plays Critical historicist readings engage with the politics and ethics of selected medieval texts addressing a wide range of literature and topics of enquiry Langland Chaucer and the Pearl poet Malory and the York Corpus Christi plays chivalric cultures their forms of identity and mourning and the politics ethics and theology of some of the most fascinating writing in late medieval England Intended as a tribute to Professor Derek Pearsall and reflecting his major contribution to medieval literary criticism they are an important addition to the critical and historical study of the period DAVID AERS is James B Duke Professor of English and Professor of Historical Theology at Duke University Consolation in Medieval Narrative C. Schrock, 2015-05-13 Medieval writers such as Chaucer Abelard and Langland often overlaid personal story and sacred history to produce a distinct narrative form The first of its kind this study traces this widely used narrative tradition to Augustine's two great histories Confessions and City of God Faith, Ethics, and Church David Aers, 2000 Examination of key texts Chaucer to Wyclif sheds new light on medieval spirituality The relationship between versions of the late medieval Church faith ethics and the lay powers as explored in a range of late fourteenth and early fifteenth century texts written in England is the subject of this book It argues that they disclose strikingly diverse models of Christian discipleship and examines the sources and consequences of such differences Issues investigated include whether the Church could shape modern communities and individual identities and how it could combine its status as a major landlord and trader without being assimilated by the various networks of earthly power and profit The book begins with Chaucer's treatment of received versions of faith ethics and the Church and moves via St Thomas Ockham Nicholas Love Gower the Gawain poet and Langland who pursues the issues with particular intensity and focus to Wyclif's construal of Christian discipleship in relation to his projected reform of the Church Interdisciplinary in approach the book will be of interest to all those studying late medieval Christianity and literature DAVID AERS is James B Duke Professor of English and Professor of Historical Theology at Duke University Class and Gender in Early English Literature Britton J. Harwood, Gillian R. Overing, 1994 The essays focus on class and gender not only sheds new light on old texts but also stretches the boundaries of the critical modus operandi which is often applied to such literature Women's Studies Network UK Association Newsletter These dramatic new readings of Old and Middle English texts explore the rich theoretical territory at the intersection of class and gender and highlight the interplay of the critic methodology and the medieval text Subject to Debate Masha
