Innovation Governance in an Open Economy Annika Rickne, Staffan Laestadius, Henry Etzkowitz, 2012 Modern innovation processes are to large extent geographically distributed where knowledge flows are more likely to be global and activities such as Research and Development and production can take place at a variety of locations around the world Hence geographical distances will or have perhaps already become less significant in today's society where knowledge generated in various parts of the world may be readily accessed Simultaneously there are strong spatial dimensions to knowledge generation and diffusion as well as

Smart Specialisation Philip McCann, Frank van Oort, John Goddard, 2016-11-25 Smart specialisation is the new policy approach to the development of regional innovation systems across Europe and it involves fostering innovative and entrepreneurial initiatives which are well tailored to the local context The different technologies skills profiles business activities institutions and sectors which reflect a region s economic strengths and potential are to be fostered and encouraged to diversify in ways which also exploit the region s linkages with broader global value chains Yet the ideas contained in the smart specialisation agenda have until now been primarily conceptual in nature The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation draws together some of the leading regional economists and scientists in Europe to analyse how smart specialisation is working in practice This book investigates different dimensions of the agenda as it is developing across parts of Europe from both quantitative and qualitative perspectives The quantitative analysis examines the nature of the diversification processes undertaken by regions and the interplay between the chosen local regional development priorities and the wider global value chain impacts of these choices Meanwhile the qualitative analysis examines the institutional opportunities and challenges facing policy makers and the key elements most likely to provide the underpinnings of a workable set of policy settings The book is aimed both at academic researchers interested in the interface between economic geography and regional innovation systems as well as at policy makers making public policy decisions related to regional development at the local city regional or national levels Creating Entrepreneurial Space David Higgins,Paul Jones,Pauro McGowan,2019-06-17 The book draws upon new theoretical perspectives and approaches as a means of illustrating the inherently social and contextualized nature of entrepreneurial practice and advance the manner in which we critically think about and engage with various aspects of entrepreneurial practice and development The Routledge Companion to Technology Management Tugrul Daim,Marina Dabić,Yu-Shan Su,2022-08-31 Bringing together an international range of expertise this comprehensive Companion to Technology Management is designed to facilitate the development of management frameworks adaptable for a wide range of organizations as well as an overview of the development and integration of technology in advanced and emerging economies Research based and drawing on a range of practical tools and international cases it covers the diverse spectrum of the challenges of technology management and how to approach them I Fundamentals of Technology Management provides an overview of the fundamental aspects of technology management II Technology Planning focusses on technology driven organizations government labs and universities III Technology Evaluation includes evaluation and assessment adoption and forecasting through management tools IV Technology Development and Transfer includes integration marketing and intellectual property management V Managing Technological Innovations addresses policy open innovation and technology entrepreneurship VI Society and Technology Management focusses on social issues which impact technology and its management VII New Technologies and Emerging Regions includes blockchain biotechnologies and smart cities This Companion is an essential comprehensive source of new and emerging approaches for researchers and advanced students in engineering and technology management as well as professionals seeking an authoritative global reference source Europe and World Society Chris Rumford,Didem Buhari-Gulmez,2017-10-02 Europe and World Society offers a distinctive critical approach to understanding European transformations exploring both the progress and limitations of integration on various key policy areas such as agricultural policy education reform migration and external relations as well as the relationship between European regionalism and globalization Due to its innovative theoretical framework based on macro perspectives including World Polity Theory developed by Stanford sociologist John W Meyer this collection contributes to both the recent sociological turn in European studies and to the constructivist critiques of rational choice accounts of modern Europe At a time when the European integration project has been severely challenged by multiple economic political and social crises this book offers a timely global perspective that sheds light on the dynamism and multiplicity of the actors discourses and processes which underlie

contemporary Europe The book's distinctive global approach allows it to move the debate beyond state and EU centrism and establish the missing link between Europe and its global context This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary European Studies Knowledge Spillovers and Knowledge Management Charlie Karlsson, Per Flensburg, Sven-Åke Hörte, 2004-01-01 This book highlights a number of issues at the leading edge of both research and policy making such as knowledge generation production knowledge distribution transfer knowledge spillovers learning knowledge management information logistics industrial clusters industrial networks and regional innovation systems This book will appeal to academics and researchers of knowledge management technology and innovation and industrial organisation Policy makers and planners in international organisations national and regional governments in particular those dealing with R D policies industrial policies and regional policies will also find much to engage them The Routledge Research Companion to Energy Geographies Stefan Bouzarovski, Martin J Pasqualetti, Vanesa Castán Broto, 2017-07-06 Energy has become a central concern of many strands of geographical inquiry from global climate change to the effects of energy decisions on our lives However many aspects of the black box of relationships at the energy society interface remain unopened especially in terms of the spatial underpinnings of energy production and consumption within nations cities and regions Debates focusing on the location and nature of energy flows frequently fail to consider the multiple geographical networks that illustrate and explain the distribution of fuels and services around the world Providing an integrated perspective on the complex interdependencies between energy and geography The Routledge Research Companion to Energy Geographies offers a timely conceptual framework to study the multiple facets of energy geography including security space and place planning environmental science economics and political science Illustrating how a geographic approach towards energy can aid decision making pathways in the domains of social justice and environment this book provides insights that will help move the international community toward greater cooperation stability and sustainability

Industry 4.0 and Digitization Ulrich Hilpert, 2022-06-15 This book includes studies on regions industries and tendencies of industrial change and spatial concentration of competences and industrial potentials The chapters in this volume provide for discussions concerning a wider understanding of situations related to Industry 4.0 and digitization It also reaches out further than towards technology and economy because it includes regional and metropolitan societies workforces and the divergencies of effects and opportunities Industry 4.0 and digitization are new transformations for regions and metropolises where technologies are applied but regionally can appear as a continuation of innovative processes where it is developed The divergent presence of competences creates a selectivity process among regions There are individual industry location nexuses formed out of competences of industries labour force and research which are complemented by public policies providing support towards such adaptation of innovation and change Regional societies formed from skilled and educated labour become an important basis for participation in innovation and supply chains Since smart factories widely can be managed remotely this also shows a concentration of decision making Simultaneously it forms a polycentric de concentration indicating some more important locations as central within the networks These systematic changes continue to deepen over time While public policies may match innovative opportunities at the appropriate moment they also contribute to a continuation of uneven development and divergent societal tendencies Industry 4 0 and digitization indicate a wide and selective change of organization associated with new technologies and innovation While some regions and metropolises can continue to build both innovative competences and innovative societies based on innovative labour force others will participate because of their position in supply chains The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal European Planning Studies

The Planning Imagination Mark Tewdwr-Jones, Nicholas Phelps, Robert Freestone, 2013-10-01 Knighted in 1998 for services to the Town and Country Planning Association and in 2003 named by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II as a Pioneer in the Life of the Nation Peter Hall is internationally renowned for the breadth and depth of his studies and writings on urban and regional planning For the last 50 years he has captured and helped to create the planning imagination Here the editors have brought together in five themes a series of critical reflections on Peter's vast and diverse contributions Those reflections are provided by colleagues familiar with his work The five parts are devoted to Peter Hall's breadth of academic work covering the history of cities and planning London spatial planning connectivity and mobility and urban globalization Finally as a sixth part the editors have asked Peter Hall himself to reflect on his career and the sources of his imagination The story this book tells is not one of a singular totally consistent theoretical and philosophical view elaborated over several decades Rather it covers a set of views that necessarily admits signs of Peter's inconsistency and imperfection over the years the insights and imperfections that inevitably accompany the exercise of a nonetheless remarkably fertile restless and inspiring planning imagination

Learning Transnational Learning Åge Mariussen, Seija Virkkala, 2013-05-02 Systems of innovation that are conducted within national borders can preserve inefficient solutions and prevent development This has led to a feeling that transnational learning strategies are more and more desirable In practice the field of transnational learning has been dominated by various policy making institutions such as the OECD and European Union working through different types of policy instruments and programs such as structural funds open methods of coordination as well as international research institutions and networks set up by cooperating national governments working on comparative analysis benchmarking and indicators This book lays out a set of methods which can further enhance the experience of transnational learning starting from the sociological ideas promoted by Charles Sabel of learning through monitoring and by Marie Laure Djelic and others of the translation of experiences between different countries Case studies and examples are collected from three fields industrial development tourism and local government

Bargaining with Multinationals H. Loewendahl, 2001-07-19 In Bargaining with Multinationals Loewendahl scrutinises the relationship between multinational companies regional development and governments using an international political economy framework of bargaining between government and multinationals He critically analyses the role of foreign investment in economic development and examines how governments can link inward investment to regional economic development Based on extensive use of data interviews and case studies of Siemens and Nissan s UK investment the book shows why MNCs have invested in the UK in the past how they bargained with the government and what the impact was on the national and regional economies In particular through linking the strategy of multinationals to the location advantages of the UK it is argued that labour flexibility and incentives were crucial to investment decisions Loewendahl recommends a framework to integrate endogenous and exogenous approaches to developments and proposes a greater role for the region and the EU to control incentives and monitor multinationals Rethinking Clusters Luciana Lazzeretti,Francesco

Capone,Annalisa Caloffi,Silvia Rita Sedita,2021-05-13 Research on the topic of clusters and industrial districts is very extensive However most of it has focused more on understanding the past than on trying to map out the future The aim of this book is to fill this gap by identifying and discussing the main research topics that populate the current scientific debate and highlight the emergent lines of research that will constitute the future research agenda It does so by drawing on the debate started with the rethinking clusters workshops which in a short time have become a rich place for discussion among cluster scholars around the world Rethinking Clusters Towards a New Research Agenda for Cluster Research collects contributions from authoritative colleagues who cover a number of relevant and timely issues such as the territorial roots of radical innovation processes new ways of understanding and measuring the role of place in economic development path renewal internationalization and entrepreneurship The final section is devoted to the critical analysis of policies that support smart specialization The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal European Planning Studies Knowledge Intensive Business Services and Regional Competitiveness João J. M. Ferreira,Mário L.

Raposo,Cristina I. Fernandes,Marcus Dejardin,2016-04-20 Research interest in the service sector has boomed in recent years as deindustrialisation became entrenched Instead of being regarded as merely supplementary to traditional industry and manufacturing services have generated progressively rising levels of growth in developed economies while at the same time coming to be recognised as major drivers of innovation Among the factors which have helped service companies notch up swifter growth rates than all other sectors are the outsourcing of such services by other sectors including the development of information and communication technologies and changes to the regulatory legal and market frameworks as well as globalisation and internationalisation The result is a cluster of highly innovative firms which can loosely be grouped under the heading of Knowledge Intensive Business Services KIBS Knowledge Intensive Business Services and Regional Competitiveness charts the development of these firms and explores their success through four mutually linked parts KIBS and industrial dynamics KIBS and their context KIBS and their contribution to regional competitiveness and economic development and finally KIBS and public policy This book is suitable for researchers and policy makers interested in the rise of these influential actors and their influence on regional competitiveness
