Regulated Consumer:

The Regulated Consumer Mary Bennett Peterson, 2007 At the outset of the Naderite consumer movement the Austrians had a vigorous response in this book by Mary Bennett Peterson She discusses whether and to what extent product safety labor communications and other regulation helps or hinders the interest of the consumer She argues that the right of contract and the freedom to trade are the best protections and that regulations only end up privileging some producers over others This book is an excellent case study in the application of Mises's principle of consumer sovereignty It appeared in 1971 and its forecast of a hobbled production process and unprotected consumers have proven true many times over

A new approach to financial regulation Great Britain. Treasury, 2010-07-26 This document outlines the Government's programme of reform to renew the UK's system of financial regulation It believes that weaknesses were inherent in the tripartite approach whereby three authorities the Bank of England the Financial Services Authority and the Treasury were collectively responsible for financial stability The Government will create a new Financial Policy Committee FPC in the Bank of England with primary statutory duty to maintain financial stability The FPC will be given control of macro prudential tools to ensure that systemic risks to financial stability are dealt with This macro prudential regulation must be co-ordinated with the prudential regulation of individual firms Operational responsibility for prudential regulation will transfer from the FSA to a new subsidiary of the Bank of England the Prudential Regulation Authority The third development is the creation of a dedicated Consumer Protection and Markets Authority CPMA with a primary statutory responsibility to promote confidence in financial services and markets Protection of consumers will be delivered through a strong consumer division within CPMA The document also covers the issue of market regulation co-ordination of the regulatory bodies in a potential crisis the next steps including public consultation legislative passage and operational implementation The Government will after considering responses produce more detailed proposals including draft legislation for further consultation in early 2011 with a view to having legislation on the statute book within two years

Consumer Participation in Infrastructure Regulation Elisa Muzzini, 2005-01-01 Consumer Participation in Infrastructure Regulation draws on results of a survey questionnaire conducted among 45 infrastructure regulators in the East Asia and Pacific EAP region It finds that EAP regulators have successfully begun to involve consumers in the regulatory process consumer representation is a well established practice in the region and regulators draw on standard mechanisms to inform consumers resolve consumer complaints and solicit consumer input However regulators must take further actions to firmly move up the ladder of consumer engagement from merely providing in
