Nash, 2021-07-06 In Birthing Black Mothers Black feminist theorist Jennifer C Nash examines how the figure of the Black mother has become a powerful political category Mothering while Black has become synonymous with crisis as well as a site of cultural interest empathy fascination and support Cast as suffering and traumatized by their proximity to Black death especially through medical racism and state sanctioned police violence Black mothers are often rendered as one dimensional symbols of tragic heroism In contrast Nash examines Black mothers self representations and public performances of motherhood including Black doulas and breastfeeding advocates alongside celebrities such as Beyoncé Serena Williams and Michelle Obama that are not rooted in loss Through cultural critique and in depth interviews Nash acknowledges the complexities of Black motherhood outside its use as political currency Throughout Nash imagines a Black feminist project that refuses the lure of locating the precarity of Black life in women and instead invites readers to theorize organize and dream into being new modes of Black motherhood

Food Aversion Learning N. Milgram, 2013-11-11 During the past 10 years the study of learned aversions to foods has become one of the most popular areas of research in animal psychology Learned aversions to foods are typically produced in the laboratory by first allowing an animal to eat or drink some distinctively novel substance and then making the animal ill in some way most frequently by either giving it an injection of some illness producing drug such as lithium chloride or by exposing it to a toxic dose of radiation When an animal that has been treated in this way is subsequently given another opportunity to ingest the same or a similar substance one usually observes that it will either totally avoid ingesting the substance or that it will consume less of it than a control animal that was not made ill after previously consuming the same substance This form of learning has attracted the interest of many researchers because there are two apparently striking differences in the acquisition of food aversions and the acquisition of other types of associative learning Moral
