Religion And Churches In Eastern Europe:

Religion and the Conceptual Boundary in Central and Eastern Europe T. Bremer, 2015-12-11 This volume concentrates on the conceptual boundary through Europe which is determined by Western and Eastern Christianity The chapters show that the boundary has never been a stable and defined division but that it was also subject to change and development and a place of encounter and exchange between religions and cultures Expanding Religion Miklós Tomka, 2011-01-27

Reiterated international comparative surveys offer evidences about developments of religion related scene in Central and Eastern Europe The present volume is the first one which presents an extensive and detailed cross national analysis of sociological data comparing extensively countries regions and denominations in the past two decades It displays achievements and shortages of a religious revival in the post communist region as well as religion s role in family life social responsibility and public commitment It proves the combination of de Christianization based on previous persecution of religion and an ongoing modernization and the rise and the transformation of religion In some countries popular religiosity of traditional social strata is dominant In other countries there is a visible transition from old and low strata religiosity to a more restricted but socially more influential religiosity of young middle and upper strata groups In final outcome the volume substantiates the growing public role of religion in Eastern and Central Europe as well as the distinct impact of religiosity on individual behaviour These results contradict the idea of an overwhelming secularization but argue for a more complex process overcoming the communist past Christianity and Modernity in Eastern Europe Bruce R. Berglund, Brian

Porter-Szűcs, 2013-02-10 Religious history more generally has experienced an exciting revival over the past few years with new methodological and theoretical approaches invigorating the field The time has definitely come for this new religious history to arrive in Eastern Europe This book explores the influence of the Christian churches in Eastern Europe s social cultural and political history Drawing upon archival sources the work fills a vacuum as few scholars have systematically explored the history of Christianity in the region The result of a three year project this collective work challenges readers with questions like Is secularization a useful concept in understanding the long term dynamics of religiosity in Eastern Europe Is the picture of oppression and resistance an accurate way to characterize religious life under communism or did Christians and communists find ways to co exist on the local level prior to 1989 And what role did Christians actually play in dissident movements under communism Perhaps most important is the question what does the study of Eastern Europe contribute to the broader study of modern Christian history and what can we learn from the interpretative problems that arise uniquely from this region Discretion and Valour Trevor Beeson, 1982 Focus on Religion in Central and Eastern Europe András Máté-Tóth, Gergely Rosta, 2016-11-07 Different religious groups in Central and Eastern Europe influenced societies in the region after the fall of Communism and continue to play a crucial role in culture politics social networks and value transformations As part of the REVACERN Religion and Values in Central and Eastern Europe Research

Network project supported by the EU Sixth Framework Program more than 70 researchers from 15 countries in the region analyzed and discussed the most important trends in values religions and religious communities and presented their findings in a comparative way They tested well known theories of secularization nationalism democracy and pluralism in the colorful region Central and Eastern Europe This book summarizes their most important findings in seven chapters addressing religion and its entanglements with geography values nationalism Orthodoxy education legal regulation civil society social networks new religious movements and new forms of religiosity Each chapter also provides a regional overview

Church, State, and Democracy in Expanding Europe Lavinia Stan, Lucian Turcescu, 2011-08-29 Lavinia Stan and Lucian Turcescu examine the relationship between religion and politics in ten former communist Eastern European countries Contrary to widespread theories of increasing secularization Stan and Turcescu argue that in most of these countries the populations have shown themselves to remain religious even as they embrace modernization and democratization Church state relations in the new EU member states can be seen in political representation for church leaders governmental subsidies registration of religions by the state and religious instruction in public schools Stan and Turcescu outline three major models the Czech church state separation model in which religion is private and the government secular the pluralist model of Hungary Bulgaria and Latvia which views society as a group of complementary but autonomous spheres for example education the family and religion each of which is worthy of recognition and support from the state and the dominant religion model that exists in Poland Romania Estonia and Lithuania in which the government maintains informal ties to the religious majority Church State and Democracy in Expanding Europe offers critical tools for understanding church state relations in an increasingly modern and democratic Eastern Europe

Religion in Eastern Europe ,1993 Religion and European Integration Miroslav Polzer, 2007 Orthodox Christian Renewal Movements in Eastern Europe Aleksandra Djurić Milovanović, Radmila Radić, 2017-10-11 This book explores the changes underwent by the Orthodox Churches of Eastern and Southeastern Europe as they came into contact with modernity The movements of religious renewal among Orthodox believers appeared almost simultaneously in different areas of Eastern Europe at the end of the nineteenth and during the first decades of the twentieth century This volume examines what could be defined as renewal movement in Eastern Orthodox traditions Some case studies include the God Worshippers in Serbia religious fraternities in Bulgaria the Zoe movement in Greece the evangelical movement among Romanian Orthodox believers known as Oastea Domnului The Lord s Army the Doukhobors in Russia and the Maliovantsy in Ukraine This volume provides a new understanding of processes of change in the spiritual landscape of Orthodox Christianity and various influences such as other non Orthodox traditions charismatic leaders new religious practices and rituals

Religions and Churches in a Common Europe János Wildmann, 2012-10 The European religious landscape is changing fundamentally Are we experiencing a decline revival recycling or transformation of religion Moreover will Europe become a museum of religions or a laboratory of new religious experiences A group of experts from different disciplines and nationalities meeting in Pecs Hungary the European Capital of Culture 2010 examines in detail the contrasting developments around the religious lives of individuals communities institutions emerging from processes of secularisation relativisation and privatisation believing without belonging What emerges is a picture of very contrasting mega trends with positive and negative aspects characterised for example by a sharp decline in traditional situations as well as the emergence of new situations rich of flurries which are featured mostly under the so called creative minorities On which heritage of ultimate values does the EU and its member states want to base the cohesion of the new society while respecting cultural diversities and religious pluralism What happens in the world of religions cannot be side lined if we are looking for an appropriate response Important indications can be provided by the way in which the heads of religious institutions as well as communities and individuals live in possible dialogue in a European society that is increasingly multicultural multi ethnic and multi religious The analysis of on going experiences in Europe shows that a truly constructive dialogue can give a vital contribution to the strengthening of social cohesion and democracy But what are the real terms in this confrontation In other words what is tolerable And what is acceptable European experts who have worked with a multidisciplinary and systemic approach of the analysis of these phenomena attended the initiatives of the European Research Group R I P E Religious Innovation and Pluralism in 21st Century Europe which was founded in 2006 by P

The Role of Religion in Eastern Europe Today Julia Gerlach,Jochen Töpfer,2014-12-03 While religion was expelled from the public space during Communist times and became a secret form of inner emigration it entered the empty public space again in Post Communist times Public interest in religious issues and the public prestige of religion have dramatically increased The book Under Construction The Role of Religion in Eastern Europe Today deals with the re emergence of religion in Eastern Europe and its impact on the economy the society and the state in 15 essays The authors represent various fields of science related to human interaction Economics Political Science Sociology and Law The added value is an up to date and interdisciplinary perspective on religion and its effects in major spheres of the societies in Eastern Europe today

Orthodox Religion and Politics in Contemporary Eastern Europe Tobias Koellner,2018-12-07 This book explores the relationship between Orthodox religion and politics in Eastern Europe Russia and Georgia It demonstrates how as these societies undergo substantial transformation Orthodox religion can be both a limiting and an enabling factor how the relationship between religion and politics is complex and how the spheres of religion and politics complement reinforce influence and sometimes contradict each other Considering a range of thematic issues with examples from a wide range of countries with significant Orthodox religious groups and setting the present situation in its full historical context the book provides a rich picture of a subject which has been too often oversimplified

Communicating Religion and Atheism in Central and Eastern Europe Jenny Vorpahl,Dirk Schuster,2020-06-08 This book brings together case studies dealing with historical as well as recent phenomena in former socialist nations which testify the transfer of knowledge about religion and atheism The material is connected on a semantic level by the presence of a historical watershed before and after socialism as well as on a theoretical level by the sociology of knowledge With its focus on Central and Eastern Europe this volume is an important contribution to the research on nonreligion and secularity The collected volume deals with agents and media within specific cultural and historical contexts Theoretical claims and conceptions by single agents and or institutions in which the imparting of knowledge about religion and atheism was or is a central assignment are analyzed Additionally procedures of transmitting knowledge about religion and atheism and of sustaining related institutionalized norms interpretations roles and practices are in the focus of interest The book opens the perspective for the multidimensional and negotiating character of legitimation processes being involved in the establishment or questioning of the institutionalized opposition between religion and atheism or religion and science

Church and State in Postwar Eastern Europe G. E. Gorman, 1987-06-16 This annotated bibliography covers the available literature on the relationship between Soviet and Eastern European churches and the societies in which they have existed since the end of World War II In order to shed some light on the mutual relations between the churches and society two survey chapters provide a general orientation The attitude of the churches toward their society is analyzed first then the reverse is attempted with a description of the societal attitudes toward the churches The bibliography proper first presents books and articles dealing with the entire region then on a country by country basis Because the sources dealing with the Soviet Union are most numerous they have been broken down into materials dealing with general and inclusive religious policies and issues the Russian Orthodox Church the Oriental Apostolic Churches Georgian and Armenian the Roman Catholic Church and the Protestants and sectarians This bibliography is among the first to deal with the historic and current status of the Christian churches in Eastern Europe

Uncertain Hope British Council of Churches, 1989 Global Trends in Eastern Europe Nikolai Genov, 2016-04-22 Eastern Europe was once clearly defined by the centralized political and economic organization of the societies in the region They shared the same official ideology and were members of the same alliances After 1989 the region collapsed in an economic political and cultural implosion What were the moving forces of this profound change What are its consequences Could we try to reasonably foresee any future developments In this thought provoking book Nikolai Genov presents a systematic description and explanation of Eastern European societal transformations after 1989 They are interpreted as adaptations to four global trends upgrading the rationality of organizations individualization spreading of instrumental activism and universalization of value normative systems Adaptations to these trends have generally been successful However Genov notes that the process is marked by many failures as well They are mostly caused by path dependency in the societal development and by the varying quality of relevant decisions other destructive developments are due to contradictions in the global trends themselves Guided by the assumption that the societal and supranational integration mechanisms in Eastern Europe before 1989 could not resist the overwhelming power of global trends Genov's controversial findings question visions about the end of history and simultaneously strengthen the confidence that most complex macro social processes can be rationally managed A timely book allowing for a much needed engagement in contemporary debates on the controversial processes in Eastern European transitions Religion as Securitization in Central and Eastern Europe András Máté-Tóth, Kinga Povedák, 2024-09-18 Religion as Securitization in Central and Eastern Europe examines the significance of securitization theory as a reference point in understanding current religious socio cultural and political processes in Central and Eastern Europe CEE It explores contemporary social processes and discourses on security linked to religion and religious institutions CEE has experienced many confluences of security issues with religious interpretations and world views For instance the international refugee and migration crisis could not be separated from the counterpoint between Christianity and Islam in political discussions Similarly the debates on LGBT family recognition and the traditional family model are inseparable from the Christian family as a reference point The security needs of the region are particularly acute trigger points which can be instrumentalized by political power In other words the threat sensitivities of collective identity make the region particularly well suited to being a focus of securitization both from the host side and from the discourses that are enforced from above In this volume the authors approach the validity of securitization in relation to religion and religion itself as securitization from a broader perspective They show not only what religious facts and aspects have become threatening in the process of securitization but also that the function of religion in the CEE region can be described and understood primarily as securitization This unique collection of studies offers a comprehensive theoretical and methodological approach while the case studies are drawn from more than seven countries in the region by leading scholars The book will be of interest to scholars from a wide range of disciplines including political science history anthropology and religious studies It will also function as an important introductory work for students to this specific area of research

Cross and Commissar Sabrina P. Ramet, 1987 Anyone trying to understand the recent history of Eastern Europe including the Soviet Union will find this book extremely useful a common sense view of theory and historical study a successful product that both enlightens and informs American Historical Review valuable reading Journal of the American Academy of Religion welcome and insightful Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists It is an important study that produces a fairly rich bounty of information about political religious relationships the tie between the church and state and the influence of religious beliefs on society Slavic Review deserves intensive attention by scholars Journal of Church and State The book's strengths lie in its range documentation strongly analytical and subtly nuanced treatment consistent awareness of the complexity and dynamism of the various church state relationships and its generally judicious blend of theoretical and empirical aspects History Cross and Commissar is a sober richly documented analysis that is useful and fascinating It is well written researched and organized and fills an unfortunate lacuna in the literature in the area of church state relations The Annals of the American Academy This monograph is a tour de force Modern Greek Studies Yearbook Communist regimes take an active stance vis vis religion framing religious policies with an eye toward broader political objectives Cross and Commissar provides the first systematic comparative attempt at applying social scientific theories to illuminate the nature of church state interaction and the contemporary religious scene in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union Eastern Christianity and Politics in the Twenty-First Century Lucian N. Leustean, 2014-05-30 This book provides an up to date comprehensive overview of Eastern Christian churches in Europe the Middle East America Africa Asia and Australia Written by leading international scholars in the field it examines both Orthodox and Oriental churches from the end of the Cold War up to the present day The book offers a unique insight into the myriad church state relations in Eastern Christianity and tackles contemporary concerns opportunities and challenges such as religious revival after the fall of communism churches and democracy relations between Orthodox Catholic and Greek Catholic churches religious education and monastic life the size and structure of congregations and the impact of migration secularisation and globalisation on Eastern Christianity in the twenty first century Church and Religion in Contemporary Europe Gert Pickel, Olaf Müller, 2009-10-21
