Operation SEALORDS: A Study In The Effectiveness Of The Allied Naval Campaign Of Interdiction LCDR Eugene F. Paluso USN,2015-11-06 The United States Navy involvement in the Vietnam War prior to 1964 was primarily blue water operations In 1964 the Vietnam Delta Infiltration Study Group was tasked to conduct a comprehensive study of the problem of enemy infiltration of men and supplies into South Vietnam Mekong Delta region across the Cambodia and Laos borders The findings of the group were published in the Bucklew Report and concluded that the border infiltration problem was significant and needed to be stopped in order to ensure victory in the Vietnam War The recommendations were for the U S to develop an extensive riverine operations capability to assist the South Vietnamese military in conducting counter insurgency operations to stop the infiltration problem The U S Navy moved from deep blue water operations to near shore blue water operations with the Operation MARKET TIME patrols which encompassed larger seagoing craft patrolling the coast to forty miles out to sea These operations led to the first brown water operations during Operation GAME WARDEN which patrolled the major river systems in the Mekong Delta region in order to interdict enemy movements along the rivers Soon these patrols revealed the need to ground troops to control the riverbanks in order for the patrols to be effective The Tet offensive of 1968 revealed that the MARKET TIME and GAME WARDEN patrols were not totally containing the infiltration problem Operation SEALORDS established patrol barriers that were designed specifically to stop the influx of men and supplies crossing the Cambodian border and sustaining enemy forces operating in the Mekong Delta and Saigon areas SEALORDS barriers were systematically set up to take control of the Mekong Delta region and deny the enemy the freedom of movement enjoyed for years prior Communist Indochina R. B. consider key episodes of the Vietnam War which followed partition in 1954 including the Tet Offensive of 1967-68 a crucial turning point in the course of the conflict and the Cambodia Crisis of 1969-70 Throughout it considers events within Indochina in the context of wider regional and international developments focusing in particular on the role played by the Chinese including their support to the Viet Minh in their struggle against the French from 1947 and the issue of Cambodia which eventually precipitated the Sino-Vietnamese War of 1979 The book also explores the main trends in social economic and institutional development which characterised this period including village and clan networks economic and monetary developments the contrasting systems of North and South after partition and the consequences of choosing a Soviet economic alignment in preference to links with Japan and capitalist Asia Written by the late Ralph Smith a highly respected historian of Asia this book is essential reading for anyone seeking to understand the history of Indochina

legacy America's Last Vietnam Battle Dale Andradé, 2000-12-31 In the spring of 1972 North Vietnam launched a massive military offensive designed to deliver the coup de grace to South Vietnam and its rapidly disengaging American ally But an overconfident Hanoi misjudged its opponents who led by American military advisers and backed by American airpower were able to hold off the North's onslaught in what became the biggest battle of a very long war Dale Andrade rescues this epic engagement from its previous neglect to tell a riveting tale of heroism against great odds Originally published in cloth in 1995 as Trial by Fire and drawing upon recent Vietnamese language sources this new paperback edition will finally allow a true classic on the war to reach the wide readership it deserves
