Money and Thoughtlessness Justin Pack,2023-01-01 In this book Justin Pack proposes a genealogy of the traditional suspicion of money and merchants This genealogy is framed both by how money itself has changed and how different traditions responded to money Money and merchants became heavily debated concerns in the Axial Age which coincided with the spread of coinage A deep suspicion of money and merchants was particularly notable in the Greek Confucian and Christian traditions and continued into the Middle Ages These traditions wrestled with a new dialectic of purity that also appears with the widespread use of money How were these concerns dealt with politically socially and philosophically How did they change over time How did medieval Europe deal with money and how did this inform modern governmentality To answer these questions Pack turns to Hanna Arendt s work Arendt argues that one of the outstanding characteristics of our time is thoughtlessness This thoughtlessness is related to how modern life especially under neoliberalism is increasingly structured by abstract systems abstract calculative rationality abstract relations and the profit motive Money both drives and embodies this machinery The hyper complex abstract systems of modernity discourage to use Arendtian terms thinking wonder questioning everything in favor of cognition problem solving Too often the result is thoughtless cognition the ability to make things more productive and efficient paired with the incapacity to question and challenge the implications and morality of these systems Sports Ministry David B. Lewis,David Irby,William Galipault,Wayne Rasmussen,2023-03-22

The hope of the Gospel is a universal message and sports are arguably the universal language Sharing the former through the latter is a powerful combination for changing lives For students with a heart for both the field of sports ministry presents an idyllic career opportunity Until now there has never been a college textbook devoted to sports ministry With the arrival of Sports Ministry college and university instructors have a dedicated text for educating students on the how to process of developing viable sports ministry programs that share the Word and positively influence the world in which we live Chapters dedicated to fiscal responsibility facility management and legal matters educate students on the corporate aspects of running a sports ministry program while discussions centering on the intersection of sports and faith compel students to contemplate positive and negative aspects of competition whether competitive sport is compatible with faith and ethical behavior in sport In addition students will gain a historical perspective of the sports ministry movement and be introduced to many sports ministries serving today at the local regional national and international levels With Sports Ministry students will gain the knowledge and tools to share their faith and offer hope to others through the universal language of sport Ancillaries for adopting instructors are available online
