Managing Health And Human Service Programs A Guide For Managers:

Managing Health and Human Services Programs Stephen L. White, 1981 Abstract A practical guide for new or would be managers of health and social service programs covers all aspects of human service management The guide is designed to help those with clinical or technical expertise bridge the gap as they cross over into the role of a manager and become effective in that role Topics discussed include organization and leadership decision making program development planning and evaluation financial management and budgeting and personnel management The techniques and basic concepts of each topic are described The appendix contains a listing of training resources kbc A Manual for the Comprehensive Management Evaluation of Occupational Health Programs ,1987 Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1993 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Creating Small Scale Social Programs Barbara Schram,1997-10-14 Built around a single case study Creating New Agency Programs clearly illustrates how to effectively plan implement and evaluate a small scale social program Each step in the planning process is introduced and described in a way that allows the reader to vicariously participate in the evolution of the program Useful charts time lines and resource lists are included and can be easily referenced and utilized This book s emphasis on planning is important not only because it is a much used and generally under taught skill but because successful planning is the process that can turn the dreams of a community into concrete reality This book is geared toward designing programs to meet specific social needs and organizing the relevant and human resources to implement them The programs are specific detail and activity oriented but are designed to support long range goals which may be handed down by a parent organization or the community in general The author s strategy of using a case study serves as a creative learning tool that leads readers through each practical step toward successfully creating their own small scale social program Filling the void of literature on designing programs Creating New Agency Programs is ideal for professionals and students in a variety fields social work human services clinical counseling psychology drugs and alcohol psychology nursing and management who are faced with the task of planning designing and evaluating a program The AUPHA Manual of Health Services Management Robert J.
