the Financial Crisis there have been calls for more stringent management of hedge fund risk and this timely book offers comprehensive guidelines for CFOs looking to ensure world class levels of corporate governance The Family Office William I. Woodson, Edward V. Marshall, 2021-08-10 Family offices are private organizations that assume the daily administration and management of a wealthy family's personal and financial affairs. Historically these repositories of great wealth were shrouded in secrecy; their activities conducted behind closed doors. Recently family offices have acquired a considerably higher public profile; they represent a mere 7 percent of the world's ultra high net worth population yet control a staggering 50 percent of the wealth. As only a select few families now hold a disproportionate amount of global wealth there are significant social implications to how such assets are managed and used. This book provides an insider's view for anyone looking to understand family offices and how to best serve and advise them. The veteran practitioners William I. Woodson and Edward V. Marshall offer a thorough guide to family offices: why wealthy families create them, what they do, and how to manage them effectively. They present these insights through a series of problem-based learning cases that follow a single family's journey from the time of a significant liquidity event through the creation, staffing, and management of their family office and on to its succession. Each case study is supported by detailed background reference material. The cases and background materials are drawn from the authors' practical knowledge network of industry experts and experience advising family offices large and small. They shed light on the unique issues that ultrawealthy families face and the solutions they adopt to address them throughout the life cycle of a family office. This book is the definitive resource for practitioners and students as well as family principals, advisers, service providers, and all others who engage with the world of family offices.

Self-Taught Chris Edwards, 2022-09-28 The American educational structure is a feudal system designed around an inefficient seat time model. This structure sets students against each other in competition, creates zip code inequalities, and empowers an expensive and often damaging bureaucratic class of administrators. Due to shortages of teachers and staff and to needless problems with curricula and testing, this system is about to fall. Historically, when feudal systems collapse, they create opportunities for new structures to emerge. Technology has made it possible to develop a new educational model that connects students to their community and reduces pressure on students and teachers. This new model makes it possible to deliver high quality education for all students regardless of zip code while turning students into active learners. Self-Taught: Moving from a Seat Time Model to a Mastery Learning Model explains how this process can begin by asking just one question: what would you do if you needed to learn something?
