Department of Housing and Urban Development. Office of Policy Development and Research,1980 Public Service Improvement Martin Steve,2013-09-13 This is an excellent new contribution to current academic and policy debates and will be of great interest internationally to all students researchers public sector managers and policy makers The improvement of public services has become a key priority for all the main political parties in the UK Recent years have witnessed large real terms increases in spending on public services and a plethora of new initiatives designed to drive up standards in the Heath Service schools the police and local government As part of this broader picture the Government has launched major reforms that it hopes will transform local authority performance Councils have had to develop new ways of delivering services They have been under pressure to achieve stretch targets and to work in partnership with other local agencies to provide more joined up services More recently ministers have also stepped up the pressure on them to achieve major efficiency savings through better procurement and working practices To date relatively little has been written about these developments This book fills this gap by bringing together authoritative analysis of current reforms through specially commissioned chapters by leading researchers, policy makers and practitioners who have been closely involved in the development and implementation of these policies. This book was previously published as a special issue of Local Government Studies Annual Report United States. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Morgan, 2016-05-06 Managing Urban America guides students through the challenges, politics and practice of urban management including managing conflict through politics, adapting to demographic and social changes, balancing budgets and delivering a myriad of goods and services to citizens in an efficient, equitable and responsive manner. The Eighth Edition has been thoroughly updated to include a discussion of the difficulties cities confront as they deal with the lingering economic challenges of the 2008 recession, the concept of e-government and how it affects the theory and practice of management and the implications of environmental issues for urban government management.
