Managing the Secondary School Mrs Joan Dean, Joan Dean, 2012-10-12 This new edition of Managing the Secondary School brings up to date the content and skills of the headteacher which was a feature of the first edition The book deals with all aspects of the headteachers role including marketing the school and managing the budget It also deals in some detail with the problems of managing change and with the role of governors and parents in today's schools. Throughout the book Joan Dean considers the implications of the Education Reform Act and the National Curriculum. Managing the Secondary School is essential reading for practising and aspiring headteachers of secondary schools. It will also appeal to school governors, advisers, inspectors and consultants working with secondary schools and to those concerned with the appraisal and training of headteachers.

Managing Change in Schools Colin Newton, Tony Tarrant, 2012-10-12. Written by two educational psychologists, this essential aid shows how change can be managed to increase job satisfaction and avoid unnecessary stress and conflict. It offers practical advice for schools with action plans, outlines the mechanics and processes in self-appraisal, analyses the key methods for promoting effective change, shows ways to monitor, review and evaluate change, examines a number of strategies including consultation, negotiation, project development and in-service training.

Managing External Relations in Schools Nicholas Hedley Foskett, 2002-11-01. The educational environment of the 1990s is characterized by increasing independence for schools in a more competitive climate. This book is intended to be of direct practical help to those involved in ensuring the long-term wellbeing of schools for the benefit of the pupils they educate. Its aim is to provide both an overview of the issues relating to external relations in schools and an insight into the organizational and planning systems that can be applied to dealing with them. In particular, it focuses on the overall field of external relations and on its individual facets ranging from the management of links with the LEA, liaison with parents and issues in primary/secondary school links to school identity and marketing. The book is divided into four integrated parts which examine approaches to the management of external relations, links with the educational environment, links with the community and external relations. Managing External Relations in Schools places the new challenges arising from the Education Reform Act and LMS into a broad context which is much wider than the common concept of public relations and marketing. This will enable teachers and school managers to consider more systematically the management needs of the institution's external links. Each of the contributors is an expert in his or her own field and has written from the perspective of real challenges and issues facing schools. Ideas on enhancing efficiency and effectiveness in all spheres of external relations underpin the themes in the book.

Preparing Early Childhood Teachers for Managing Emergencies Ajayi, Hannah O., Grupper, Emmanuel, Fowowe, Simeon Sunday, Cassidy, Tom, Ashton, Emily, 2022-04-08. The COVID-19 pandemic has revealed the reality of life in all aspects of human endeavors. The education sector was not spared; the school system was uprooted and procedures had to be made quickly for the safety of students and faculty. As a result, educators struggled with keeping students engaged academically during online learning and the stress of a health crisis on society. Preparing Early Childhood Teachers for Managing Emergencies explores international and cross-cultural perspectives on teacher effectiveness in handling education and learning in emergency periods as well as preparedness for post-COVID-19 experiences.
