MANIC POWER
JEFFREY MEYERS

"Lowell poems encourage the impulses that fed the make-up of his poems. After attending Lowell's poetry-writing class at Boston University, Anne Sexton, Sylvia Plath and George Bernard Shaw would meet to the first bar and personally recall their strength to kill themselves. 'Often, very often,' Sexton wrote, 'Sylvia and I would talk at length about our first suicides. We were very stimulated by it as if death made each of us a little more real at the moment.'"

Shamanism Manvir Singh,2025-05-20 From a brilliant young Harvard trained anthropologist and contributor to The New Yorker comes a fascinating investigation into the spiritual practice of shamanism from its beginnings to the present moment for readers disaffected with organized religion who seek a more personal approach to spirituality What are the origins of shamanism and what is its future Do shamans believe in their powers What exactly is trance What can we learn from indigenous healing practices Traveling from Indonesia to the Colombian Amazon living with shamans and observing music drug use and indigenous curing ceremonies anthropologist Manvir Singh journeys into one of the most mysterious religious traditions Fundamentally shamans are specialists who use altered states to engage with unseen realms and provide services like healing and divination As Singh shows shamanism s appeal stems from its psychological resonance Its essence is spiritual transformation a specialist uses initiations deprivation and non ordinary states to seemingly become a different kind of human one possessed of powers to cure prophesy and otherwise tame life s uncertainties Following a fascinating cast of characters Singh reveals the complexities and vicissitudes of a timeless always relevant and ubiquitous phenomenon He argues that biomedicine can learn from shamanic practices and that psychedelic enthusiasts completely misrepresent history He also shows that shamanic traditions will forever re emerge and that by contemplating humanity s oldest spiritual practice we come to better understand ourselves our history and our future
