Manipulation Of Custom From Uprising To Intervention In The Solomon Islands:

The Manipulation of Custom Jon Fraenkel, 2004 An account of the 1998-2003 crisis a critical review of the major interpretations and an investigation of the underlying causes and analyses the post coup period up to the arrival of RAMSI in July 2003
Social Policies in Solomon Islands and Vanuatu Biman C. Prasad, Paul Kausimae, 2012 Solomon Islands and Vanuatu are two small states that have struggled to develop successful social policies since independence This study traces their social histories and examines factors that have hindered progress Future development requires a move away from traditional social structures and a focus on political stability and economic growth
Public Finance, Conflict, and International Interventions Tobias Akhtar Haque, 2025-06-20 This book provides a critical analysis of the political and conflict impacts of good governance public finance reforms showing how unintended distributional outcomes can undermine broader state building goals The international community expends enormous resources trying to build good governance institutions in countries emerging from war By ensuring efficiency increasing transparency and enhancing public accountability in the use of public resources the adoption of good governance institutions is assumed to support stability peace and sustainable economic growth Such assumptions however have a limited empirical basis and obscure a more complex reality Drawing from political science and institutional economics and evidence from major state building interventions in Afghanistan Timor Leste and Solomon Islands this book explores the impacts of technocratic good governance reforms in fragile environments Through the lens of public finance reform it illustrates how efforts to achieve efficiency and accountability while often bringing important benefits can also undercut the patronage channels that draw together powerful elites thereby increasing conflict pressures and eroding prospects for sustainable peace This book makes the case for a reconsideration of the good governance agenda and the appropriateness of its application in developing countries experiencing or at risk of war This book will be of interest to students of state building global governance political economy development studies and International Relations
Statebuilding and State Formation in the Western Pacific Matthew Allen, Sinclair Dinnen, 2018-04-19 This book provides a rigorous and cross disciplinary analysis of this Melanesian nation at a critical juncture in its post colonial and post conflict history with contributions from leading scholars of Solomon Islands The notion of transition as used to describe the recent drawdown of the decade long Regional Assistance Mission to Solomon Islands RAMSI provides a departure point for considering other transformations social political and economic under way in the archipelagic nation Organised around a central tension between change and continuity two of the book's key themes are the contested narratives of changing state society relations and the changing social relations around land and natural resources engendered by ongoing processes of globalisation and urbanisation Drawing heuristically on RAMSI's genesis in the state building moment that dominated international relations during the first decade of this century the book also examines the critical distinction between state building and state formation in the Solomon Islands context It engages with global scholarly and policy debates on issues such as peacebuilding state building legal pluralism hybrid governance globalisation urbanisation and the governance of natural resources These themes resonate well beyond Solomon Islands and Melanesia and the book will be of interest to a wide range of students scholars and development practitioners This book was previously published as a special issue of The Journal of Pacific History

Politics and State Building in Solomon Islands Sinclair Dinnen, Stewart Firth, 2008-05-01 Politics and State Building in Solomon Islands examines a crisis moment in recent Solomon Islands history Contributors examine what happened when unrest engulfed the capital of the small Melanesian country in the aftermath of the 2006 national elections and consider what these events show about the Solomon Islands political system the influence of Asian interests in business and politics and why the crisis is best understood in the context of the country's volatile blend of traditional and modern politics Until the disturbances of April 2006 and subsequent deterioration in bilateral relations between Australia and Solomon Islands under the Sogavare government experts had hailed the Regional Assistance Mission to Solomon Islands RAMSI as an unqualified success Some saw it as a model for cooperative intervention in failing states worldwide Following these developments success seems less certain and aspects of the RAMSI model appear flawed Using the case of Solomon Islands this book raises fundamental questions about the nature of cooperative intervention as a vehicle for state building asking whether it should be construed as a mainly technical endeavour or whether it is unavoidably a political undertaking with political consequences Providing a critical but balanced analysis Politics and State Building in Solomon Islands has important implications for the wider debate about international state building interventions in failed and failing states

Regional Politics in Oceania Stephanie Lawson, 2024-02-22 The most comprehensive study of regional politics in Oceania produced to date Drawing on a range of interdisciplinary sources and providing a systematic account of major issues facing the region this book will appeal to anyone engaged in any aspect of regional studies in Oceania and beyond

Kastom, property and ideology Siobhan McDonnell, Matthew Allen, Colin Filer, 2017-03-22 The relationship between customary land tenure and modern forms of landed property has been a major political issue in the Spearhead states of Melanesia since the late colonial period and is even more pressing today as the region is subject to its own version of what is described in the international literature as a new land rush or land grab in developing countries This volume aims to test the application of one particular theoretical framework to the Melanesian version of this phenomenon which is the framework put forward by Derek Hall Philip Hirsch and Tania Murray Li in their 2011 book Powers of Exclusion Land Dilemmas in Southeast Asia Since that framework emerged from studies of the agrarian transition in Southeast Asia the key question addressed in this volume is whether land transformations in Melanesia are proceeding in a similar direction or whether they take a somewhat different form because of the particular nature of Melanesian political economies or social institutions The contributors to this volume all deal with this question from the point of view of their own direct engagement with different aspects of the land policy process in particular countries Aside from discussion of the agrarian transition in Melanesia particular attention is also paid to the growing problem of land access in urban areas and the gendered nature of landed property relations in this region

Housing, Land, and Property Rights in Post-Conflict United Nations and Other Peace Operations Scott Leckie, 2009 This book is about the UN's role in housing land and property rights in countries after violent conflict

Gender, Property and Politics in the Pacific Rebecca Monson, 2023-01-26 Outlines how land disputes are entangled with gender ethnicity and territoriality shaping public authority and state formation

The Rights of the Child in a Changing World Olga Cvejić Jančić, 2015-11-17 This book deals with the implementation of the rights of the child as enshrined in the Convention on the Rights of the Child in 21 countries from Europe Asia Australia and the USA It gives an overview of the legal status of children regarding their most salient rights such as the implementation of the best interest principle the right of the child to know about of his/her origin the right to be heard to give medical consent the right of the child in the field of employment religious education of children prohibition of physical punishment protection of the child through deprivation of parental rights and in the case of inter country adoption In the last 25 years since the Convention on the Rights of the Child was adopted many States Parties to the Convention have made great efforts to pass legislation regulating the rights of the child in their commitment to the improvement of the legal status of the child However is that enough for any child to live better safer and healthier What are the practical effects of this international as well as many national instruments in the everyday life of children Have there been any outcomes in terms of improvement of their status around the world and improvement of the conditions under which they live since the Convention entered into force In tackling these questions this work presents a comparative overview of the implementation of the Convention and evaluates the results achieved

Civil Society and Transitional Justice in Asia and the Pacific Claire Cronin, Lia Kent, JoAnne Wallis, 2019-01-01 Over the last two decades civil society has helped catalyse responses to the legacies of violent conflicts and oppressive political regimes in Asia and the Pacific Civil society has advocated for the establishment of criminal trials and truth commissions monitored their operations and pushed for take up of their recommendations It has also initiated community based transitional justice responses Yet there has been little in depth examination of the breadth and diversity of these roles This book addresses this gap by analysing the heterogeneity of civil society transitional justice activity in Asia and the Pacific Based upon empirically grounded case studies of Timor Leste Indonesia Cambodia Myanmar Bougainville Solomon Islands and Fiji this book illustrates that civil society actors can have different and sometimes competing priorities resources and approaches to transitional justice Their work is also underpinned by diverse understandings of justice By reflecting on the richness of this activity this book advances contemporary debates about transitional justice and civil society It will also be a valuable resource for scholars and practitioners working on Asia and the Pacific

Understanding Oceania Stewart Firth, Vijay Naidu, 2019-05-23 This book is inspired by the University of the South Pacific the leading institution of higher education in the Pacific Islands region Founded in 1968 USP has expanded the intellectual horizons of generations of students from its 12 member countries Cook Islands Fiji Kiribati Marshall Islands Nauru Niue Samoa Solomon Islands Tokelau Tonga Tuvalu and Vanuatu and been responsible for the formation of a regional elite of educated Pacific Islanders who can be found in key positions in government and commerce across the region At the same time this book celebrates the collaboration of USP with The Australian National University in research doctoral training teaching and joint activities Twelve of our 19 contributors gained their doctorates at ANU most of them before or after being students and or teaching staff at USP and the remaining five embody the cross fertilisation in teaching research and consultancy of the two institutions The contributions to this collection with a few exceptions are republications of key articles on the Pacific Islands by scholars with extensive experience and knowledge of the region

Christianity, Conflict, and Renewal in Australia and the Pacific, 2016-06-21 Cultural expressions of Christianity show great diversity around the globe While scholarship has tended to consider charismatic practices in distinct geographical contexts this volume advances the anthropology of Christianity through ethnographically rich comparative insights from across the Australia Pacific region Christianity Conflict and Renewal in Australia and the Pacific presents new perspectives on the performative dynamics of Christian belief conflict and renewal Addressing experiences of cultural and spiritual renewal contributors reveal how tensions can arise between spiritual and political expressions of culture and identity opening up alternative spaces for spiritual realization and religious change These local processes further mobilize responses of individuals and groups to state forces and political reforms in turn influencing the shape of translocal and transnational Christian practices Contributors are Diane Austin Broos John Barker Alison Dundon Yannick Fer Kirsty Gillespie Jessica Hardin Rodolfo Maggio Fiona Magowan Gwendoline Malogne Fer Debra McDougall Joel Robbins Carolyn Schwarz and John Taylor

Transformations of Gender in Melanesia Martha Macintyre, Ceridwen Spark, 2017-02-06 Despite the plethora of research on gender and the many projects designed to improve their status in the Pacific region women continue to be disadvantaged and marginalised in social economic and political spheres How are we to understand this and what does it mean for researchers policy makers and development practitioners This book examines these questions partly by looking back but also by continuing the effort to explain and understand gender inequities in the Pacific through reference to the concept of societies in transition The contributors discuss emerging masculinities and femininities in the Pacific in order to chart the development of these in their contexts Exploring how contemporary Pacific identities are shaped by local contexts and traditions they focus on how these are remade through interaction with global ideas images and practices including new forms of Christianity and economic transformations Grounded in recent original research in both the villages and towns of Melanesia the collection engages with the study of gender in Melanesia as well as scholarship on global modernities This collection is a welcome addition to the study of gender in Melanesia Collectively the essays present complex locally contextualised and regionally situated case studies of gender transformation occurring alongside in many instances the re codification of hegemonic gendered norms and practices Gender is not understood as simply code for women in this volume rather the majority of chapters incorporate men and masculinities in their analysis of gender relations and dynamics A highlight of the collection is the attention paid to how the politics of tradition and of modernity are expressed through morally loaded concepts of the good or bad woman or man and vice versa Kalissa Alexeyeff University of Melbourne      Agency and Ownership in Reconciliation Caitlin Mollica,2024-04-01 The importance of youth s substantive participation for the realization of inclusive reconciliation practices has rarely been acknowledged Agency and Ownership in Reconciliation provides a comprehensive nuanced and empirical account of the contribution of young people s voices to the success of transitional justice and peacebuilding practices Caitlin Mollica illustrates the role of political will and agency in the development of transitional justice mechanisms that are substantively inclusive of those traditionally marginalized by post conflict institutions most notably youth In doing so she highlights the importance of youth to lasting peace and meaningful justice She does so by looking specifically at how truth and reconciliation commissions from South Africa to the Solomon Islands engage with the voices of youth and the meanings youth self ascribe to their experiences during truth and reconciliation commission processes In a field which traditionally prioritizes stories about youth Agency and Ownership in Reconciliation looks to center stories by youth      Handbook of Forensic Anthropology and Archaeology
