Canada's Residential Schools: The History, Part 1, Origins to 1939

Commission de vérité et réconciliation du Canada,2016-01-01 Between 1867 and 2000 the Canadian government sent over 150 000 Aboriginal children to residential schools across the country Government officials and missionaries agreed that in order to civilize and Christianize Aboriginal children it was necessary to separate them from their parents and their home communities For children life in these schools was lonely and alien Discipline was harsh and daily life was highly regimented Aboriginal languages and cultures were denigrated and suppressed Education and technical training too often gave way to the drudgery of doing the chores necessary to make the schools self sustaining Child neglect was institutionalized and the lack of supervision created situations where students were prey to sexual and physical abusers Legal action by the schools former students led to the creation of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada in 2008 The product of over six years of research the Commission s final report outlines the history and legacy of the schools and charts a pathway towards reconciliation Canada s Residential Schools The History Part 1 Origins to 1939 places Canada s residential school system in the historical context of European campaigns to colonize and convert Indigenous people throughout the world In post Confederation Canada the government adopted what amounted to a policy of cultural genocide suppressing spiritual practices disrupting traditional economies and imposing new forms of government Residential schooling quickly became a central element in this policy The destructive intent of the schools was compounded by chronic underfunding and ongoing conflict between the federal government and the church missionary societies that had been given responsibility for their day to day operation A failure of leadership and resources meant that the schools failed to control the tuberculosis crisis that gripped the schools for much of this period Alarmed by high death rates Aboriginal parents often refused to send their children to the schools leading the government adopt ever more coercive attendance regulations While parents became subject to ever more punitive regulations the government did little to regulate discipline diet fire safety or sanitation at the schools By the period s end the government was presiding over a nation wide series of firetraps that had no clear educational goals and were economically dependent on the unpaid labour of underfed and often sickly children Indigenous Food Systems Priscilla Settee,Shailesh Shukla ,2020-01-31 Indigenous Food Systems addresses the disproportionate levels of food related health disparities among First Nations M tis and Inuit people in Canada seeking solutions to food insecurity and promoting well being for current and future generations of Indigenous people Through research and case studies Indigenous and non Indigenous food scholars and community practitioners explore salient features practices and contemporary challenges of Indigenous food systems across Canada Highlighting Indigenous communities voices the contributing authors document collaborative initiatives between Indigenous communities organizations and non Indigenous allies to counteract the colonial and ecologically destructive monopolization of food systems This timely and engaging collection celebrates strategies to revitalize Indigenous food systems such as achieving cultural resurgence and food sovereignty sharing and mobilizing diverse knowledges and voices and reviewing and reformulating existing policies research and programs to improve the health well being and food security of Indigenous and Canadian populations Indigenous Food Systems is a critical resource for students in Indigenous studies public health anthropology and the social sciences as well as a vital reader for policymakers researchers and community practitioners My (Mostly) Manitoba Stories Tom Goodman,2021-09-07 With its racial ethnic and language diversity Manitoba is in many resepts the most Canadian of our Canadian provinces My Mostly Manitoba Stories is a collection of short stories mostly set in Manitoba and spanning a timeline from the early eighteen hundreds to the present Politicians lawyers and persons of various ethnicities and backgrounds all become subjects in this unique collection A flamboyant lawyer and racehorse owner defends his trainer against an allegation of cheating The life of a Winnipeg schoolteacher is disrupted when he inherits a powder horn recovered after the Battle of Seven Oaks A Mennonite politician enjoys a successful career but ultimately betrays the people who love him An elderly Icelandic grandmother reveals the harsh reality of war to her grandson With stories of family heritage both embraced and disowned political shenanigans and history viewed through an unlikely lens My Mostly Manitoba Stories provides an intriguing yet disconcertingly familiar picture of Manitoba Peel's Bibliography of the Canadian Prairies to 1953 Ernest Boyce Ingles,Bruce Braden Peel,Norman Merrill Distad,2003-01-01 The Prairie Provinces cover Alberta Saskatchewan and Manitoba Remedies for Human Rights Violations Kent Roach,2021-04-08 Justifies a two track approach that includes individual and systemic remedies in both domestic and international human rights law
