Manorial Domestic Buildings In England And Northern France:

Manorial Domestic Buildings in England and Northern France Gwyn I. Meirion-Jones, Michael C. E. Jones, 1993 New studies on manorial domestic buildings in England and northern France has led to a reappraisal of the essential elements of the seigneurial residence the ground floor hall the chamber block and the first floor hall The eight essays in this volume highlight the similarities and differences between the regions and include contributions by J Blair English domestic planning 1000 1250 P Dixon The manor houses of the Anglo Scottish border J Munby Manorial building in timber in central and southern England 1200 1550 J Decaens De la motte au chateau de pierre dans le nord et l'est de l'Ile de France du XIIe au XVe siecle E Gautier Desvaux Les manoirs du Perche G Meirion Jones M Jones and J R Pilcher The seigneurial domestic buildings of Brittany 1000 1700

Greater Medieval Houses of England and Wales, 1300-1500: Volume 1, Northern England Anthony Emery, 1996-11-13 The first of a three volume survey of greater houses in England and Wales of the 14th and 15th centuries first published in 1996

Houses and Cottages of Britain R. W. Brunskill, 2000-01-01 The sequel to Traditional Buildings of Britain traces the origins and development of traditional buildings by going inside the houses and revealing from their plans how they evolved from basic accommodation to homes giving comfort and privacy The book shows how local traditional materials earth timber stone brick were used in the construction of the buildings

Medieval Bishops' Houses in England and Wales Michael Thompson, 2018-10-26 First published in 1998 this book describes the surviving medieval remains there and the far more numerous manor houses and castles owned by the bishops as well as their London houses Apart from royal residences these are far the largest group of medieval domestic buildings of a single type that we have The author describes how these buildings relate to the way of life of the bishops in relation to their duties and their income and how in particular the dramatic social changes of the later middle ages influenced their form The work of the great bishop castle builders of the 12th century is discussed as are the general history of the medieval house with its early influence from the Continent the changes in style of hall and chamber still controversial and its climax in the great courtyard houses of Cardinal Wolsey Archbishop of York The book includes over a hundred plans sections and photographs of the surviving parts of bishops residences with a survey of 1647 of the Archbishop's palace at Canterbury before demolition

Traditional Buildings in the Oxford Region John Steane, James Ayres, 2013-11-29 The pivotal position of the Oxford region in the geological and therefore building history of England is of fundamental importance to the study of traditional construction Oxford occupies a central position on the ancient route between Northampton and Southampton and on the east west road between London The West Country Wales and Ireland For this reason unusually for vernacular architecture the buildings of the region were subject to a wide range of influences This book the fruit of twenty years research provides an account of vernacular architecture in the Oxford region from Anglo Saxon times to the 19th century It begins with a discussion of methods and procedures followed by a description of building materials stone brick slate and thatch This serves as an introduction to the heart of the book eleven chapters dealing with surveys of cruck buildings manorial and moated sites town houses with particular emphasis on Abingdon and houses in the countryside from farmhouses to cottages There are then chapters on fire hazards public houses and public buildings Several appendices are devoted to wall paintings ferramenta apotropaic marks carpentry details secrets under the floorboards fireplaces staircases and windows The book is richly and profusely illustrated with over 500 illustrations photographs maps and a particular strength a large number of drawings of architectural details and sketch perspectives

The Aristocracy in England and Tuscany, 1000-1250 Peter R. Coss, 2020 This volume examines the aristocracy in Tuscany and in England in the years 1000 1250 offering a new way of studying English aristocracy in this period by tracing Italian aristocratic history and then employing the same historiographic tools within English history

Plantagenet England 1225-1360 Michael Prestwich, 2007 England of the Plantagenet kings was a turbulent place In politics it saw Simon de Montfort's challenge to the crown in Henry III's reign and it witnessed the deposition of Edward II By contrast and as relief it also experienced the highly successful rules of Edward I and his grandson Edward III Political institutions were transformed with the development of parliament and war the stimulus for some of that change was never far away Wales was conquered and the Scottish Wars of Independence started in Edward I's reign while Crecy and Poitiers were English triumphs under Edward III Beyond politics the structure of English society was developing from the great magnates at the top to the peasantry at the bottom Economic changes were also significant from the expansionary period of the thirteenth century to years of difficulty in the fourteenth culminating in the greatest demographic disaster of historical times the Black Death Embracing politics and government kingship the structure of society France Scotland and Wales as well as areas such as the environment the management of the land crime and punishment Michael Prestwich's survey casts the Plantagenet past in a new and revealing light

BOOK JACKET

Building Anglo-Saxon England John Blair, 2021-10-12 Shortlisted for the Wolfson History Prize A radical rethinking of the Anglo Saxon world that draws on the latest archaeological discoveries This beautifully illustrated book draws on the latest archaeological discoveries to present a radical reappraisal of the Anglo Saxon built environment and its inhabitants John Blair one of the world's leading experts on this transformative era in England's early history explains the origins of towns manor houses and castles in a completely new way and sheds new light on the important functions of buildings and settlements in shaping people's lives during the age of the Venerable Bede and King Alfred Building Anglo Saxon England demonstrates how hundreds of recent excavations enable us to grasp for the first time how regionally diverse the built environment of the Anglo Saxons truly was Blair identifies a zone of eastern England with access to the North Sea whose economy prosperity and timber buildings had more in common with the Low Countries and Scandinavia than the rest of England The origins of villages and their field systems emerge with a new clarity as does the royal administrative organization of the kingdom of Mercia which dominated central England for two centuries Featuring a wealth of color illustrations throughout Building Anglo Saxon England explores how the natural landscape was modified to accommodate human activity and how many settlements secular and religious were laid out with geometrical precision by specialist surveyors The book also shows how the Anglo Saxon love of elegant and intricate decoration is reflected in the construction of the living environment which in some ways was more sophisticated than it would become after the Norman Conquest The Medieval Cloister in England and Wales John McNeill, 2017-12-02 This dedicated volume of the Journal of the British Archaeological Association draws together ten papers which collectively explore something of the art and architecture styles and uses of the medieval cloister in England and Wales Contributors consider the continental context cloisters in English palaces Benedictine and Augustinian cloister arcades in the 12th and 13th centuries architecture and meaning in Cistercian east ranges late medieval vaulted cloisters in the West Country cloisters at the cathedrals of Old Sarum Canterbury and Lincoln and assess the extent to which the cloister bosses at Norwich cathedral priory reflect contemporary religious politics The volume also contains an extended consideration and gazetteer of all Cistercian cloisters in England and Wales Interpreting the English Village Mick Aston, Christopher Gerrard, 2013-02-07 An original and approachable account of how archaeology can tell the story of the English village Shapwick lies in the middle of Somerset next to the important monastic centre of Glastonbury the abbey owned the manor for 800 years from the 8th to the 16th century and its abbots and officials had a great influence on the lives of the peasants who lived there It is possible that abbot Dunstan one of the great reformers of tenth century monasticism directed the planning of the village The Shapwick Project examined the development and history of an English parish and village over a ten thousand year period This was a truly multi disciplinary project Not only were a battery of archaeological and historical techniques explored such as field walking test pitting archaeological excavation aerial reconnaissance documentary research and cartographic analysis but numerous other techniques such as building analysis dendrochronological dating and soil analysis were undertaken on a large scale The result is a fascinating study about how the community lived and prospered in Shapwick In addition we learn how a group of enthusiastic and dedicated scholars unravelled this story As such there is much here to inspire and enthuse others who might want to embark on a landscape study of a parish or village area Seven of the ten chapters begin with a fictional vignette to bring the story of the village to life Text boxes elucidate re occurring themes and techniques Extensively illustrated in colour including 100 full page images The Bayeux Tapestry and Its Contexts Elizabeth Carson Pastan, Stephen D. White, Kate Gilbert, 2014 A full and provocative reappraisal of the Bayeux Tapestry its origins design and patronage Aspects of the Bayeux Tapestry in fact an embroidered hanging have always remained mysterious despite much scholarly investigation not least its design and patron Here in the first full length interdisciplinary approach to the subject the authors an art historian and a historian consider these and other issues Rejecting the prevalent view that it was commissioned by Odo the bishop of Bayeux and half brother of William the Conqueror or by some other comparable patron they bring new evidence to bear on the question of its relationship to the abbey of St Augustine s

Canterbury From the study of art historical archeological literary historical and documentary materials they conclude that the monks of St Augustine s designed the hanging for display in their abbey church to tell their own story of how England was invaded and conquered in 1066 Elizabeth Carson Pastan is a Professor of Art History at Emory University Stephen D White is Asa G Candler Professor of Medieval History emeritus Emory University and an Honorary Professor of Mediaeval History at the University of St Andrews Scottish Royal Palaces John G. Dunbar,1999 The first exclusive study of a group of buildings of outstanding historical and architectural interest John G Dunbar discusses the organisation of the royal works the roles of the principal officials and tradesmen responsible for the construction of these palaces and how they functioned when the king and court were in residence He focuses particularly on Linlithgow Falkland Stirling Holyroodhouse and Edinburgh Castle The Medieval English Landscape, 1000-1540 Graeme J. White,2012-09-06 The landscape of medieval England was the product of a multitude of hands While the power to shape the landscape inevitably lay with the Crown the nobility and the religious houses this study also highlights the contribution of the peasantry in the layout of rural settlements and ridge and furrow field works and the funding of parish churches by ordinary townsfolk The importance of population trends is emphasised as a major factor in shaping the medieval landscape the rising curve of the eleventh to thirteenth centuries imposing growing pressures on resources and the devastating impact of the Black Death leading to radical decline in the fourteenth century Opening with a broad ranging analysis of political and economic trends in medieval England the book progresses thematically to assess the impact of farming rural settlement towns the Church and fortification using many original case studies The concluding chapter charts the end of the medieval landscape with the dissolution of the monasteries the replacement of castles by country houses the ongoing enclosure of fields and the growth of towns

Household Goods and Good Households in Late Medieval London Katherine L. French,2021-08-20 Household Goods and Good Households in Late Medieval London looks at how increased consumption in the aftermath of the Black Death reconfigured long held gender roles and changed the domestic lives of London s merchants and artisans for years to come

The Archaeology of Medieval Europe 1 James Graham-Campbell,Magdalena Valor,2007-12-31 The two volumes of The Archaeology of Medieval Europe will together comprise the first complete account of medieval archaeology across Europe Archaeologists from academic institutions in fifteen countries are collaborating to produce these two books of sixteen thematic chapters each In addition every chapter will feature a number of box texts by specialist contributors highlighting sites or themes of particular importance The books will be comprehensively illustrated throughout in both colour and b w including line drawings and specially commissioned maps This ground breaking set which is divided chronologically into two Vol 1 extending from the Eighth to Twelfth Centuries AD and Vol 2 from the Twelfth to Sixteenth Centuries to appear 2008 will enable readers to track the development of different cultures and of regional characteristics throughout the full extent of medieval Catholic Europe In addition to revealing shared contexts and technological developments the complete work will also provide the opportunity for demonstrating the differences that were inevitably present across the Continent from Iceland to Italy and from Portugal to Finland and to study why such differences existed

St George's Chapel, Windsor, in the Fourteenth Century Nigel Saul, 2005 A definitive look at the early history of St George's Chapel one of the most important medieval buildings in England Developed and improved by Edward III the Chapel became the spiritual home of his newly instigated Order of the Garter and in the process a new Camelot for the English monarchy St George's Chapel Windsor is one of the most famous ecclesiastical foundations in Britain Established in 1348 its origins are closely bound up with those of the Order of the Garter which was founded by Edward III at the same time The collection of essays in this volume sets Windsor in its context at the forefront of the political and cultural developments of mid fourteenth century England They examine the early history of the Chapel its ties with Edward III's chivalric ambitions the community of canons who served it and its place in the institutional development of the English Church Major themes are the role of the Chapel in the early history of the Order and its influence on other collegiate foundations of the late middle ages and much attention is devoted to the mighty building campaign at the Castle started by Edward III which made Windsor the grandest royal residence of its day

Jocelin of Wells Robert William Dunning, 2010 Jocelin bishop of Wells d 1242 is an iconic figure in his native city of Wells in Somerset though his career as churchman courtier and statesman also took him beyond the boundaries of the west country Coming from a family which had produced bishops over several generations he played a major role in a developing diocese and mother church and in the growth of towns fairs and markets in early thirteenth century Somerset He had a crucial influence on the completion of what was to become Wells Cathedral and on the Bishop's Palace beside it

Sexual Culture in the Literature of Medieval Britain Amanda Hopkins, Robert Allen Rouse, Cory Rushton, 2014 An examination into aspects of the sexual as depicted in a variety of medieval texts from Chaucer and Malory to romance and alchemical treatises

'a hole worlde of things very memorable' Martin Henig, Nigel Ramsay, 2024-06-27 Julian Munby has gained a reputation over half a century in many branches of archaeological and historical knowledge His lively and warm character and sense of fun has made him many friends who also in some sense feel they are his pupils and this collection of papers has been assembled as a tribute in honour of his 70th birthday

Behind the Castle Gate Matthew Johnson, 2013-04-15 In this engaging book Matthew Johnson looks behind the castle gate to discover the truth about castles in England at the end of the Middle Ages Traditional studies have seen castles as compromises between the needs of comfort and of defence and as statements of wealth or power or both By encouraging the reader to view castles in relation to their inhabitants Matthew Johnson uncovers a whole new vantage point He shows how castles functioned as stage settings against which people played out roles of lord and servant husband and wife father and son Building rebuilding and living in a castle was as complex an experience as a piece of medieval art Behind the Castle Gate brings castles and their inhabitants alive Combining ground breaking scholarship with fascinating narratives it will be read avidly by all with an interest in castles

The Top Books of the Year Manorial Domestic Buildings In England And Northern France The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year.

Manorial Domestic Buildings In England And Northern France : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph.

Manorial Domestic Buildings In England And Northern France : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery.

Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting.

These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
