Meditations on Modern Political Thought Jean Bethke Elshtain, 2010-11-01 Feminist Interpretations of Hannah Arendt Bonnie Honig, 2010-11-01 International Relations, Political Theory, and the Problem of Order Nicholas J. Rengger, 2000 This book seeks to offer a general interpretation and critique of both methodological and substantive aspects of International theory Pragmatic Theology Victor Anderson, 1998-01-01 Argues that while contemporary American philosophies and philosophers of religion are proclaiming the end of theology a neopragmatism has arrived to fill the void in meaning and moral fulfillment to which theology once supplied answers Augustine and the Limits of Politics Jean Bethke Elshtain, 2018-04-30 Now with a new foreword by Patrick J. Deneen Jean Bethke Elshtain brings Augustine's thought into the contemporary political arena and presents an Augustine who created a complex moral map that offers space for loyalty love and care as well as a chastened form of civic virtue The result is a controversial book about one of the world's greatest and most complex thinkers whose thought continues to haunt all of Western political philosophy What is our business within this common mortal life Augustine asks and bids us to ask ourselves What can Augustine possibly have to say about the conditions that characterize our contemporary society and appear to put democracy in crisis Who is Augustine for us now and what do his words have to do with political theory These are the underlying questions that animate Jean Bethke Elshtain's fascinating engagement with the thought and work of Augustine the ancient thinker who gave no political theory per se and refused to offer up a positive utopia In exploring the questions Why Augustine why now Elshtain argues that Augustine's great works display a canny and scrupulous attunement to the here and now and the very real limits therein She discusses other aspects of Augustine's thought as well including his insistence that no human city can be modeled on the heavenly city and further elaborates on Hannah Arendt's deep indebtedness to Augustine's understanding of evil Elshtain also presents Augustine's arguments against the pridefulness of philosophy thereby linking him to later currents in modern thought including Wittgenstein and Freud Lutheran Identity and Political Theology Carl-Henric Grenholm, Goran Gunner, 2015-03-26 Lutheran tradition has in various ways influenced attitudes to work the economy the state education and health care One reason that Lutheran theology has been interpreted in various ways is that it is always influenced by surrounding social and cultural contexts In a society where the church has lost a great deal of its cultural impact and authority and where there is a plurality of religious convictions the question of Lutheran identity has never been more urgent However this question is also raised in the Global South where Lutheran churches need to find their identity in a relationship with several other religions Here this relationship is developed from a minority perspective Is it possible to develop a Lutheran political theology that gives adequate contributions to issues concerning social and economic justice What is the role of women in church and society around the world Is it possible to interpret Lutheran theology in such a way that it includes liberating perspectives These are some of the questions and issues discussed in this book The Political

Rape of Lucretia and the Founding of Republics Melissa M. Matthes, 2010-11-01 Matthes U of Maryland stages a conversation between feminism and republicanism to analyze the linkage between founding stories of republics sexual violence and gender hierarchy While pointing out the differences in the retellings of Lucretia s rape by Livy Machiavelli and Rousseau she argues that their commonality is in appropriating the classical tale to support the view that the alternative to violence is citizenship and politics infused with common good notions of agency action and community Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
