Men And Forces Of Our Time:

Men of Our Times: Leading Patriots of The Day Harriet Beecher Stowe, 2020-09-28 In these sketches of some of the leading public men of our times the editor professes to give such particulars of their lives and such only as the public have a right to know Every such man has two lives his public and his private one The one becomes fairly the property of the public in virtue of his having been connected with events in which every one has a share of interest but the other belongs exclusively to himself his family and his intimate friends and the public have no more right to discuss or pry into its details than they have into those of any other private individual The editor has aimed to avoid all privacies and personalities which might be indelicate in relation to family circles She has indeed in regard to all the characters so far as possible dwelt upon the early family and community influences by which they were formed particularly upon the character and influence of mothers but such inquiries relate for the most part to those long dead and whose mortal history has become a thing of the past Whenever the means have been at hand the family stock from which each man has been derived has been minutely traced The question of inherited traits is becoming yearly one of increasing interest and most striking results come from a comparison of facts upon this subject The fusion of different races is said to produce marked results on the characteristics of the human being America has been a great smelting furnace in which tribes and nations have been melted together and the result ought to be some new developments of human nature It will always be both interesting and useful to know both the quality of the family stock and the circumstances of the early training of men who have acted any remarkable part in life Our country has recently passed through a great crisis which has concentrated upon it for a time the attention of the civilized world It has sustained a shock which the whole world judging by past experience said must inevitably shatter the republic to fragments and yet like a gallant ship in full sail it has run down the terrible obstacle and gone on triumphant and is this day stronger for the collision This wonderful success is owing to the character of the people which a Christian Democracy breeds Of this people we propose to give a specimen to show how they were formed in early life from the influences which are inherent in such a state We are proud and happy to know that these names on our list are after all but specimens Probably every reader of this book will recall as many more whom he will deem equally worthy of public notice There is scarcely one of them who would not say in reference to his position before the public what Lincoln said I stand where I do because some man must stand there but there are twenty others that might as well have been leaders as myself On the whole we are not ashamed to present to the world this list of men as a specimen of the graduates from the American school of Christian Democracy So far as we know the American government is the only permanent republic which ever based itself upon the principles laid down by Jesus Christ of the absolute equal brotherhood of man and the rights of man on the simple ground of manhood Notwithstanding the contrary practices of a section of the States united in the Union and the concessions which they introduced into the constitution nobody doubts that this was the leading idea of the men who founded our government

The declaration of American Independence crystalized a religious teaching within a political act The constitution of the United States still further elaborates these principles and so strong was the logic of ideas that the conflict of opinions implied in the incidental concessions to opposite ideas produced in the government of the country a continual and irrepressible discord For a while it seemed doubtful which idea would triumph and whether the accidental parasite would not strangle and wither the great original tree The late war was the outcome of the whole The fierce fire into which our national character has been cast in the hour of trial has burned out of it the last lingering stain of compromise with anything inconsistent with its primary object to ordain justice and perpetuate liberty Men and Forces of Our Time Valeriu Marcu,2023-07-18 This insightful book offers a comprehensive overview of the political and military forces that shaped the early 20th century From the rise of fascism in Europe to the emergence of the Soviet Union as a superpower Men and Forces of Our Time provides a fascinating glimpse into the tumultuous events that led up to World War II Written by a noted Romanian historian this book is a must read for anyone interested in the history of modern Europe This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Men of Our Times; Or, Leading Patriots of the Day Harriet Beecher Stowe,2019-12-06 In Men of Our Times Or Leading Patriots of the Day Harriet Beecher Stowe delves into the characteristics and societal influences of prominent American figures during her era illuminating their impact on politics culture and morality Written in Stowe s characteristic prose that blends vivid storytelling with incisive critique the work serves as both a historical document and an ardent call for social awareness amidst the turbulence of 19th century America It reflects the literary stylistic conventions of its time merging biography with social commentary in a way that engages the reader and challenges the prevailing narratives of male leadership Harriet Beecher Stowe a prominent abolitionist and author is best known for her groundbreaking novel Uncle Tom s Cabin which catapulted her to international fame and reinforced her commitment to social justice Her experience as an activist and educator combined with her deep engagement with the sociopolitical issues of her time profoundly influenced her perspective on the public figures delineated in this work Stowe s rich tapestry of characters reflects her belief in the possibility of a reformed society through the actions of virtuous leaders Stowe s insightful exploration of the masculine ideals shaping her era makes this book an essential read for those interested in American history political dynamics and the evolution of social thought Men of Our Times not only acts as a mirror reflecting the complexities of its time but also invites contemporary readers to ponder the role and responsibility of leadership in forging a just society Our Time in Vietnam

John H. Corns, John H Corns, 2009-12 Captain John Corns leads his Special Forces team into the jungles of the Central Highlands of Vietnam in 1963. There is an insurgency and he and his Green Berets have undergone extensive training for the mission of assisting the Vietnamese and Montagnard people in their fight against communist terrorism. What they find is a challenge that resists rapid progress and a cause that leaves destruction and death in its wake. Corns returns four years later as a major and operations officer for the Army Navy Mobile Riverine Force in the Mekong Delta. The conflicting military forces are larger losses to both the insurgent Viet Cong and to American Forces are greater and the sacrifices of men around him beg the question of what will it cost to win and will it be worth the losses. Now a retired Lieutenant General, Corns looks back at those days as a young officer to share the worth to him of that experience. His time in Vietnam with men like himself

Problems: Harry Emerson Fosdick Speaks to Our Time Harry Emerson Fosdick, 2008-07-01 Harry Emerson Fosdick 1878-1969 was one of the most influential preachers in the twentieth century. He believed every sermon ought ask and answer some question that genuinely troubles individuals or the societies of which they are a part. Answers to Real Problems gathers several significant sermons from Fosdick's long ministry. The selection is rooted in current needs. This collection presents him asking and answering questions that still weigh or ought to weigh on the minds of people today. Here is one of America's finest preachers talking about war, nationalism, the relationship between liberals and conservatives, the plight of the church, public ethics, private morality, and more.
