The Jewish Novel in the Ancient World Lawrence M. Wills, 2015-03-11 Lawrence M Wills here traces the literary evolution of popular Jewish narratives written during the period 200 BCE 100 CE In many ways these narratives were similar to Greek and Roman novels of the same era as well as to popular novels of indigenous peoples within the Roman Empire Yet as a group they demonstrated a variety of novelistic innovations the inclusion of adventurous episodes passages of description and of dialogue concern with psychological motivation and the introduction of female characters Wills focuses on five novels Greek Esther Greek Daniel Judith Tobit and Joseph and Aseneth Drawing on a wide range of theoretical works he delineates the techniques and motifs of the Jewish novel shows how the genre both initiated and distanced itself from nonfictional prose such as historical and philosophical writing discusses its relation to Greco Roman romance and describes the social conditions governing its emergence and reception Wills also places the novels in historical context situating them between the Hebrew Bible on the one hand and subsequent developments in Jewish and Christian literature on the other Wills sees the Jewish novel as a popular form of writing that provided amusement for an expanding audience of Jewish entrepreneurs merchants and bureaucrats In an important sense he maintains it was a product of the novelistic impulse the impulse to transfer oral stories to a written medium to reach a more literate audience

The Gothic in Contemporary British Trauma Fiction Ashlee Joyce, 2019-09-05 This book examines the intersection of trauma and the Gothic in six contemporary British novels Martin Amis s London Fields Margaret Drabble s The Gates of Ivory Ian McEwan s Atonement Pat Barker s Regeneration and Double Vision and Kazuo Ishiguro s Never Let Me Go In these works the Gothic functions both as an expression of societal violence at the turn of the twenty first century and as a response to the related crisis of representation brought about by the contemporary individual s highly mediated and spectatorial relationship to this violence By locating these six novels within the Gothic tradition this work argues that each text to borrow a term from Jacques Derrida participates in the Gothic in ways that both uphold the paradigm of unspeakability that has come to dominate much trauma fiction as well as push its boundaries to complicate how we think of the ethical relationship between witnessing and writing trauma Queer Rebellion in the Novels of Michelle Cliff Kaisa Ilmonen, 2017-05-11 This book explores Jamaican American author Michelle Cliff's 1946-2016 literary rebellion against the colonial gendered and racist norms of Western Modernity. It studies the sexualized circuits of the Atlantic world drawing on the fields of literary criticism, feminist theories, queer studies and Caribbean studies. In order to do this, the book develops the theoretical paradigm of intersectionality. It also addresses the disturbing questions concerning the sexual politics of transatlantic modernity as represented in Cliff's novels. Cliff's rebellious poetics envisions the colonial Caribbean past in new ways. Her novels tell stories about Caribbean queer characters setting the queer as a site of postcolonial agency and as a perspective out of which colonial history can be re-written. This book considers myths, rites and cultural memory as sites of healing in the midst of colonial bodily politics. Transnational histories, identity and ethics emerge as intertwined in Cliff's feminist novels Essential Obstetrics and Gynaecology E-Book Ian M. Symonds, Sabaratnam Arulkumaran, 2019-08-17 This is the sixth edition of a popular, highly readable primer in obstetrics and gynaecology. It has been thoroughly updated and aligns with the undergraduate curriculum in Obstetrics, Gynaecology, and Reproductive Health. Menstruation, despite being a healthy and fundamental bodily process, is a topic often buried in fear and shame, and its discussion is even taboo in many societies. But a worldwide effort to bring conversations about menstruation and menstrual health into the open is now firmly underway. Period Matters carries this important endeavour forward by bringing together a breadth of perspectives from well-known figures as well as those whose voices are missing from the mainstream. Essays, artwork, stories and poems from policymakers, entrepreneurs, artists, academics, activists, as well as interviews with those at the margins such as the homeless and those living with disabilities, explore myriad aspects of how menstruation is experienced in South Asia. While activist Granaz Baloch narrates how she defied traditional notions of tribal honour and conducted the first ever menstrual health workshop in Balochistan, Radha Paudel writes about her mission to have menstrual dignity acknowledged as a human right in Nepal. Shashi Tharoor relays his radical Menstrual Rights Bill which was tabled in the Lok Sabha in the Indian parliament We hear from Erum about the challenges of getting one's period when incarcerated as Farzana and Chandan relate how mimicking the rituals of menstruation helps them feel more feminine as transwomen Tishani Doshi breaks new ground with a poem about her uterus Ayra Indrias Patras describes how some poor women in Pakistan managed their period during the Covid 19 pandemic Aditi Gupta reflects on promoting menstrual literacy among young children across India through the Menstrupedia comic books In a personal essay Lisa Ray reveals how her illness triggered an early onset of menopause The book also showcases menstrual art inspired by menstruation ranging from Rupri Kaur's iconic photo essay Anish Kapoor's oil paintings Shahzia Sikander's neo-miniaturist art photographs of wall murals made by young people in Jharkhand to Sarah Naqvi's embroidery Amna Mawaz Khan offers a perspective through the choreography of her menstrual dance A collection of breathtaking scope and significance Period Matters illustrates with power purpose and creativity both the variances and commonalities of menstruation
