Psychogeriatric Service Delivery Brian Draper, Pamela S.

Melding, Henry Brodaty, 2005-03-31 An ageing population places ever greater demands on health services The delivery of efficient and effective psychiatric care for older people is a big concern for health service providers in both developed and developing countries This book brings together the theory and practice of psychogeriatric service delivery from an international perspective For both clinicians and service planners this volume will be invaluable in helping them cope with the increasing demands they face and optimise the service that they provide Vulnerable Populations in the Long Term Care Continuum Paul R. Katz, MD, 2003-11-17 Since publication of the last series volume focusing on emerging systems long term care has continued to evolve This present volume brings to the forefront issues related to populations of varying age groups that have been neglected or under reported The chapters focus on populations or groups of professionals that are integral to long term care as recipients of services or as care providers The authors present evidence to foster the creation of new paradigms of care and inform policy makers of the need for innovation Topics examined include Pediatric Skilled Nursing Facilities Mental Health Services Management of AIDS Patients Chronic Illness and Disability in the Prison Setting Sexuality in long Term Care Decision Making for Vulnerable Populations in the Nursing Home

Disturbed Behavior in the Elderly A.G. Awad, Henry Durost, H.M. Rosemary Meier, 2013-10-22 Disturbed Behavior in the Elderly provides information pertinent to the needs of those giving care as well as of the elderly themselves This book presents relevant topics of contemporary psychiatric importance Organized into four parts encompassing 11 chapters this book begins with an overview of the clinical administrative and interpersonal problems posed by the elderly patient with disturbed behavior This text then examines the rational management of disturbing behavior among the elderly in health care and other residential settings. Other chapters consider the use of medications and psychotropic drugs in old age. This book discusses as well the great value of drug therapy in alleviating the sufferings of the elderly and helping them restore the equilibrium that has been disturbed by aging, physical disability, and shrinking socio-economic network around them. The final chapter deals with staff burnout, job stress, and low morale in dealing with the elderly. This book is a valuable resource for geriatric psychiatrists and caregivers.
