Peter Smyth, 2017-04-11 In the child welfare system some youth do well in their lives but far too many do not experience positive outcomes by the time they are leaving government services The youth often feel marginalized and that they were not involved in decisions about their own lives leaving them with a sense of hopelessness and helplessness This book focuses on high risk youth whose struggles include neglect and abuse alcohol and drug abuse the risk of being exploited mental health issues and the inability to self regulate and trust a population of youth that government child welfare services and community agencies struggle to serve adequately The focus has traditionally been on punishment consequence interventions and demanding compliance but experience and research shows they can be better served through relationship based practice incorporating harm reduction principles resiliency and strength based approaches community collaboration and an understanding that these youth typically come from experiences of early trauma impacting their brain development and their ability to form attachments This book provides an overview of the Get Connected practice framework and philosophy and provides strategies for engaging and working with the most disconnected challenging and troubled youth in society

Supervision in Social Work Liz Beddoe, Jane Maidment, 2017-10-02 Supervision is currently a hot topic in social work. The editors of this volume, both social work educators and researchers, believe that good supervision is fundamental to the development and maintenance of effective practice in social work. Supervision is seen as a key vehicle for continuing development of professional skills, the safeguarding of competent and ethical practice, and oversight of the wellbeing of the practitioner. As a consequence, the demand for trained and competent supervisors has increased, and a perceived gap in availability can create a call for innovation and development in supervision. This book offers a collection of chapters which contribute new insights to the field. Authors from Australia and New Zealand, where supervision inquiry is strong, offer research-informed ideas and critical commentary with a dual focus on supervision of practitioners and students. Topics include external and interprofessional supervision, retention of practitioners, practitioner resilience, and innovation in student supervision. This book will be of interest to supervisors of both practitioners and students and highly relevant to social work academics. This book was originally published as a special issue of Australian Social Work.

Moving on From Crime and Substance Use Anne Robinson, Paula Hamilton, 2016-09-21 Desistance is a hot topic of the criminological world, but while research suggests that as offenders turn their backs on crime they often change their behavior and their sense of identity, we know relatively little about how this reforming or transforming of identity might be affected by gender, age, or ethnicity. Showcasing international research from a wide range of contributors in the field, this book investigates the roles played by these various diversity issues during desistance. By considering similarities and differences between desisting from crime and recovering from addiction, it pushes the desistance and recovery debates in novel directions, offering unique insight into experiences of change and transformation among individuals who are seeking healthier and more successful futures.

Innovative Skills to Support Well-being and Resiliency in Youth Nicole Nicotera, Julie Anne Laser-Maira, 2017 This title emphasizes the step-by-step procedures readers will need to implement evidence-based innovative techniques and skills that emphasize well-being and resilience in youth. The strategies are specifically chosen to capture and hold the interest of youth who are often reticent to counselling. Furthermore, the skills-based approach of the book aims to demystify what one actually does in session with youth by moving away from the vagueness of talk therapy when youth have nothing to say and toward sessions that engage youth in action, stimulating communication and change.
