Pacific Research , 1994 The International Politics of Asia-Pacific, 1945-1995 Michael Yahuda, 2005-08-19 This fully updated and revised edition of Michael Yahuda s extremely successful textbook introduces students to the international politics of the Asia Pacific region since 1945 Divided into three parts the first presents a chronological overview of developments since 1945 the new second part looks at the post cold war period while the third focuses on the policies of the US the USSR Russia China and Japan in the region Yahuda analyses politics in terms of global regional and local trends combining narrative with analysis This new edition features analysis of the economic crisis and the potential implications worldwide of East Asian economic recovery a chapter on the emergence of East Asia as a significant force in world affairs focusing on the role of lesser powers such as Indonesia and Malaysia chapters considering prospects post 2000 and competing frameworks for security in the wake of nuclear tension between India and Pakistan the strengths and weaknesses of US hegemony in the new world order Globalization and Geopolitics in the Middle East Anoushiravan Ehteshami, 2007-03-14 Examining globalization in the Middle East this book provides a much needed assessment of the impact of globalization in the greater Middle East including North Africa in the context of the powerful geopolitical forces at work in shaping the region today Written by a well known authority in this area this book demonstrates that unlike in other regions such as East Asia geopolitics has been a critical factor in driving globalization in the Middle East The author argues that whereas elsewhere globalisation has opened up the economy society culture and attitudes to the environment in the Middle East it has had the opposite effect with poor state formation little interregional trade foreign and interregional investment and reassertion of traditional identities This book explores the impact of globalization on the politics economies and social environment of the greater Middle East in the context of the region's position as the central site of global geopolitical competition at the start of the twenty first century Network Power Peter J. Katzenstein, Takashi Shiraishi, 2018-09-05 This book examines regional dynamics in contemporary east and southeast Asia scrutinizing the effects of Japanese dominance on the politics economics and cultures of the area The contributors ask whether Japan has now attained through sheer economic power and its political and cultural consequences the predominance it once sought by overtly military means The discussion is framed by the profound changes of the past decade Since the end of the Cold War and the breakup of the Soviet Union regional dynamics increasingly shape international and national developments This volume places Japan's role in Asian regionalism in a broader comparative perspective with European regionalism and the role Germany plays It assesses the competitive logics of continental and coastal primacy in China In starkest form the question addressed is whether Chinese or Japanese domination of the Asian region is more likely Between a neo mercantilist emphasis on the world's movement toward relatively closed regional blocs and an opposing liberal view that global markets are creating convergent pressures across all national boundaries and regional divides this book takes a middle position Asian regionalism is identified by two intersecting developments Japanese economic penetration of Asian supplier networks through a system of production alliances and the emergence of a pan Pacific trading region that includes both Asia and North America The contributors emphasize factors that are creating an Asia marked by multiple centers of influence including China and the United States
