Pagan Cornwall Land Of The Goddess:

Pagan Cornwall Cheryl Straffon, 1993 Rocks of nation Shelley Trower, 2015-07-17 Considers how national fantasy has been constructed through a wide range of narratives that have described rocks and landscape not merely as inert substances but moving living beings Written on Stone Joanne Parker, 2009-10-02 This collection of essays is not interested in the unresolved questions about the origin original use and authentic meaning of the prehistoric monuments of the British Isles It is not concerned with their prehistory Rather it deals with the history of barrows standing stones and stone circles with the ways in which they have been viewed the meanings that have been attributed to them and the significant impact that they have had over the centuries on British life and culture from motivating artists authors musicians and film makers to inspiring New Age religions It is thus as interested in stones commonly believed to be megaliths like the foundation stones of the chapel in the Dartmoor village of South Zeal as in real remains In her recent study of Stonehenge the historian Rosemary Hill asserted Stonehenge does not belong to archaeology or not to archaeology alone Likewise this book is not written primarily for archaeologists or not for the interest of archaeologists alone It will also be of interest to social and cultural historians to those interested in fine art literature or film and to anyone fascinated by the construction of national local or counter cultural identities It should also intrigue anybody who lives near one of the thousands of prehistoric remains that add beauty and mystery to Britain's countryside The book surveys over eight hundred years of rediscovery study superstition inspiration fear restoration and destruction investigating how different generations saw their own anxieties beliefs and concerns reflected in the mysterious lives of the prehistoric builders By discussing the many different ways in which prehistoric remains have been treated in different periods the book interrogates any notion of objective approaches to archaeology Instead it asserts that what we think of as the past is in fact multiple and man made Thus if we are to effectively interpret and fully understand the prehistoric remains of the past a variety of disciplines and a range of approaches both traditional and unconventional will need to work together For this reason this book has been produced as a jointly authored text a collaboration between archaeologists folklorists historians journalists and literary critics Drawing Down the Moon Margot Adler, 2006-10-03 The essential text and classic study of Neo Paganism Since its original publication Drawing Down the Moon continues to be the only detailed history of the burgeoning but still widely misunderstood Neo Pagan subculture Margot Adler attended ritual gatherings and interviewed a diverse colorful gallery of people across the United States people who find inspiration in ancient deities nature myth even science fiction In this edition featuring an updated resource guide of newsletters journals books groups and festivals Margot Adler takes a fascinating and honest look at the religious experiences beliefs and lifestyles of modern America's Pagan groups Naming the Goddess Trevor Greenfield, 2014-09-26 Naming the Goddess is written by over eighty adherents and scholars of Goddess and Goddess Spirituality and includes contributions from Selena Fox Kathy Jones Caroline Wise and Rachel Patterson Part 1 is a series of critical essays focusing upon contemporary Goddess issues Part 2 is a spiritual gazetteer featuring over seventy Goddesses

Brigit Patricia Monaghan, Michael McDermott, 2013-12-01 Brigit Sun of womanhood offers a holistic picture of Brigit from her beginnings as a Celtic Goddess to her role as a Christian saint The contributors to this anthology hail from all parts of the globe including Ireland Scotland the United States and Canada reflecting the widespread influence of Brigit Readers will be transformed by this inspiring collection This newest anthology from Goddess Ink is edited by Michael McDermott and Patricia Monaghan and features writers from Ireland Scotland Canada and the US including Carol Christ Sr Rita Minehan M Macha Nightmare Dolores Whelan Joan McBreen Matthew Geden and many others Journal for the Academic Study of
