Sheppard,2024-07-16 The never before told story of the women Egyptologists who paved the way of exploration in Egypt and created the basis for Egyptology The history of Egyptology is often told as yet one more grand narrative of powerful men striving to seize the day and the precious artifacts for their competing homelands But that is only half of the story During the so called Golden Age of Exploration there were women working and exploring before Howard Carter discovered the tomb of King Tut Before men even conceived of claiming the story for themselves women were working in Egypt to lay the groundwork for all future exploration In Women in the Valley of the Kings The Untold Story of Women Egyptologists in the Gilded Age Kathleen Sheppard brings the untold stories of these women back into this narrative Sheppard begins with some of the earliest European women who ventured to Egypt as travelers Amelia Edwards Jenny Lane and Marianne Brocklehurst Their travelogues diaries and maps chronicled a new world for the curious In the vast desert Maggie Benson the first woman granted permission to excavate in Egypt met Nettie Gourlay the woman who became her lifelong companion They battled issues of oppression and exclusion and ultimately are credited with excavating the Temple of Mut As each woman scored a success in the desert she set up the women who came later for their own struggles and successes Emma Andrews success as a patron and archaeologist helped to pave the way for Margaret Murray to teach Margaret s work in the university led to the artists Amice Calverley s and Myrtle Broome s ability to work on site at Abydos creating brilliant reproductions of tomb art and to Kate Bradbury s and Caroline Ransom s leadership in critical Egyptological institutions Women in the Valley of the Kings upends the grand male narrative of Egyptian exploration and shows how a group of courageous women charted unknown territory and changed the field of Egyptology forever The Adventurous Life of Amelia B. Edwards Margaret C. Jones,2022-07-14 In Victorian England Amelia B Edwards was an iconic cultural figure admired by Trollope and Browning for her best selling fiction and by the wider public for her witty thought provoking travel writing In later life she became a celebrated historian bringing fresh understanding of the world of Ancient Egypt to a fascinated public and founding the Egyptian Exploration Fund Society This new biography uses previously overlooked sources to tell the story of her fascinating and unconventional life her travels travails and feminist activism as well as touching on her occasionally problematic views on race In appreciation of a figure ahead of her time it examines her involvement in suffrage and animal rights societies as well as revealing new insights into Edwards loving same sex relationships with Ellen Rice Byrne and Lucy Renshaw In doing so it reveals a versatile creative witty independent woman and a true pioneer of her time Pharaohs, Fellahs and Explorers - Primary Source Edition Amelia Ann Blanford Edwards,2013-10 This is a reproduction of a book published before 1923 This book may have occasional imperfections such as missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc that were either part of the original artifact or were introduced by the scanning process We believe this work is culturally important and despite the imperfections have elected to bring it back into print as part of our continuing commitment to the preservation of printed works worldwide We appreciate your understanding of the imperfections in the preservation process and hope you enjoy this valuable book The Archaeology of Race Debbie Challis,2013-05-09 The Archaeology of Race considers more widely the role of racial theory in archaeology and its contemporary political implications The Hand Lewis Dayton Burdick,1905 This monograph argues that although legendary stories are not chronicles of actual events they are of historical value in helping us to determine the intellectual characteristics social conditions and moral standards of the various peoples of whose life and literature they have formed a part Believing that all legends fables and myths contain some germs of truth and are invaluable sources of information to us the author has made free use of them in these pages Indeed he argues from them alone sometimes can be gained correct ideas of the true meaning and significance of rites and customs which still in modified survivals form an interesting and important part of our daily lives This book was initially published in 1905 Catalogue of the Reference Department Belfast (Northern Ireland).
