Qabila Tribal Pro And Tribestate Relations In Morocco And On The Afghanistanpakistan Frontier:

Qabila David M. Hart, 2001 The Arabic word qabila with its plural form qaba il is usually translated as tribe it refers at once to a group of people who often irrespective of their degrees of relationship to each other make up an entity which is held to be at once social economic and political This is both an oversimplification and a stretching of credulity The essential theme of this book is the Islamic or Muslim tribe its internal relations its relations with other similar tribes and its relations with the wider regional or national society of which it is a part Manifested through three particular examples at the western and eastern extremities of the Muslim Middle East two from Morocco and the third from the frontier region between Afghanistan and Pakistan David M Hart postulates that the Arabic Islamic and Middle Eastern concept of qabila entails a great many paradoxes it means different things to different people to different actors in different situations Bilateral and Multilateral Cooperation in South Asia Adluri Subramanyam Raju, 2021-09-23 This book examines how bilateralism and multilateralism serve as cornerstones in bringing countries together to enhance regional cooperation It explores the unfolding dynamics of bilateral and multilateral relationships in South Asia and looks at how factors like the absence of shared identities or common threats from external sources a lack of trust and suspicion are manifesting as obstacles for regional cooperation With case studies from various constituent countries the volume studies themes such as economic cooperation in South Asia connections through sub regional initiatives migration and refugee problems in the region SAARC and terrorism the Pashtun factor in Afghanistan Pakistan relations India s interests in ASEAN and BIMSTEC the nuclear dynamics of India Pakistan relations India Bangladesh connectivity issues Sri Lanka as a troubled island nation and Afghanistan s relations with the Kashmir Valley It discusses the implications of these long standing issues that have stood as impediments to regional cooperation and bringing new perspectives to enable greater understanding and probable solutions A comprehensive and accessible volume it will be useful for scholars and researchers of international relations international trade South Asian studies SAARC regional development international and multilateral trade political studies geo politics strategic and defence studies and peace and conflict resolution The Taliban Revival Hassan Abbas, 2014-06-24 The true story of the Taliban s remarkable resurgence in Pakistan and war torn Afghanistan more than a decade after the U S military s post 9 11 incursion In autumn 2001 U S and NATO troops were deployed to Afghanistan to unseat the Taliban rulers repressive Islamic fundamentalists who had lent active support to Osama bin Laden s Al Qaeda jihadists The NATO forces defeated and dismantled the Taliban government scattering its remnants across the country But despite a more than decade long attempt to eradicate them the Taliban endured regrouping and reestablishing themselves as a significant insurgent movement Gradually they have regained control of large portions of Afghanistan even as U S troops are preparing to depart from the region In his authoritative and highly readable account author Hassan Abbas examines how the Taliban not only survived but adapted to their situation in order to regain power and political advantage Abbas traces the roots of religious extremism in the area and analyzes the Taliban's support base within Pakistan's Federally Administered Tribal Areas. In addition, he explores the roles that Western policies and military decision making, not to mention corruption and incompetence in Kabul, have played in enabling the Taliban's resurgence. Mountstuart Elphinstone in South Asia Shah Mahmoud Hanifi, 2019-07-15 Examines the life of one of the principal intellectual architects of British colonial rule in South Asia. Multiculturalism and Minority Rights in the Arab World Will Kymlicka, Eva Pförtl, 2014-03-20 Since the Arab Spring, Arab states have become the new front line in the struggle for democratization and for open societies. As the experience of other regions has shown, one of the most significant challenges facing democratization relates to minority rights. This book explores how minority claims are framed and debated in the region and, in particular, how political actors draw upon, re-interpret or resist both the new global discourses of minority rights and more local traditions and practices of co-existence. The contributors examine a range of pre-colonial, colonial and post-colonial factors that shape contemporary minority politics in the Arab world and that encumber the reception of international norms of multiculturalism. These factors include the contested legacies of Islamic doctrines of the dhimmi and the Ottoman millet system, colonial era divide and rule strategies and post-colonial Arab nation building. While these legacies complicate struggles for minority rights, they do not entail an Arab exceptionalism to global trends to multiculturalism. This volume explores a number of openings for new, more pluralistic conceptions of nationhood and citizenship and suggests that minority politics, at its best, can serve as a vehicle for a more general transformative politics supporting a broader culture of democracy and human rights and challenging older authoritarian, clientelistic or patriarchal political tendencies. The chapters include both broad theoretical and historical perspectives as well as more focused case studies including Western Sahara, Morocco, Algeria, Israel, Palestine, Sudan, United Arab Emirates and Iraq. Our Friends Beneath the Sands Martin Windrow, 2010-04-29 The gripping true story of the French Foreign Legion in the Sahara. Ever since the 1920s, the popular legend of the French Foreign Legion has been formed by P. C. Wren's novel BEAU GESTE, a world of remote forts, warrior tribes and desperate men of all nationalities enlisting under pseudonyms to fight and die under the desert sun. As with all clichés, the reality is far richer and more surprising than this. In this book, Martin Windrow describes desert battles and famous last stands in gripping detail, but he also shows exactly what the Foreign Legion were doing in North Africa in the first place. He explains how French colonial methods there actually had their roots in the jungles of Vietnam and how the political pressures that kept the empire expanding can be traced to battles on the streets of Paris itself. His description of the Berber tribesmen of Morocco also reveals some disturbing modern parallels: the formidable guerrillas of the 1920s were inspired by an Islamic fundamentalist who was adept at using the world's media to further his cause. Martin Windrow's previous book THE LAST VALLEY received fabulous reviews across the English-speaking world. This unique book, which is the first to examine the golden age of the Foreign Legion, has followed suit. Arab Masculinities Konstantina Isidoros, Marcia C. Inhorn, 2022-01-04 Arab Masculinities provides a groundbreaking analysis of Arab men's lives in the precarious aftermath of the 2011 Arab uprisings. It challenges received wisdoms and entrenched stereotypes about Arab men, offering new understandings of masculinity across the Middle East and North Africa. The 10 individual chapters of the book foreground the voices and stories of Arab men as they face economic precarity, forced displacement, and new challenges to marriage and family life. Rich in ethnographic details, they illuminate how men develop alternative strategies of affective labor, how they attempt to care for themselves and their families within their local moral worlds, and what it means to be a good son, husband, father, and community member. Arab Masculinities sheds light on the most private spaces of Arab men's lives, offering stories that rarely enter the public realm. It is a pioneering volume that reflects the urgent need for new anthropological scholarship on men and masculinities in a changing Middle East.

Beyond Caste Sumit Guha, 2013-09-12. Caste is today almost universally perceived as an ancient and unchanging Hindu institution preserved solely by a deep-seated religious ideology. Yet the word itself is an importation from sixteenth-century Europe. This book tracks the long history of the practices amalgamated under this label and shows their connection to changing patterns of social and political power down to the present. It frames caste as an inviolated and complex form of ethnicity and explains why it persisted under non-Hindu rulers and in non-Hindu communities across South Asia. Berber

Government Hugh Roberts, 2014-08-19. The Berber identity movement in North Africa was pioneered by the Kabyles of Algeria. But a preoccupation with identity and language has obscured the fact that Kabyle dissidence has been rooted in democratic aspirations inspired by the political traditions of Kabylia itself, a Berber-speaking region in the north of Algeria. The political organisation of pre-colonial Kabylia, from which these traditions originate, was well described by nineteenth-century French authors. But their inability to explain it encouraged later theorists of Berber society, such as Ernest Gellner and Pierre Bourdieu, to dismiss Kabylia's political institutions, notably the jema'a (assembly or council), and to reduce Berber politics to a function of social structure and shared religion. In Berber Government, Hugh Roberts, a renowned expert on North Africa, explores the remarkable logics of Kabyle political organisation and the unusual degree of autonomy it possessed in relation to both kinship divisions and the religious field. This book further offers a pioneering account of the social and political history of Kabylia during the Ottoman period and establishes a radically new way to understand the complex place of the Kabyles in Algerian politics. Concise Biographical Companion to Index Islamicus

Wolfgang Behn, 2006-03-01. This is the second of the three-volume Who's Who in Islamic Studies, which presents the scholarly world at long last with its own biographical encyclopaedia. Taking as a starting point the inventory of authors from the renowned Index Islamicus, the author, Wolfgang Behn, Berlin, has systematically collected numerous data on the lives and works of the tens of thousands of authors listed in the Index Islamicus from 1665 to 1980. This Biographical Companion will be an indispensable reference tool for the serious student and scholar of Islamic Studies. It enables the user to quickly gain knowledge on the life, work, and professional background of almost every major and minor author and thus to place each author in his/her proper perspective. A

Jandora,2008-06-30 This book argues that the Islamic crisis will not abate until culturally authentic institutions are created within Islamic societies to instil an Islamic ethic of citizenship Terrorist attacks around the world and persistent violence in the Islamic world point to a crisis in Islamic society which States without Citizens attributes to an unfulfilled quest for an Islamic renaissance The Islamic states whose borders were arbitrarily imposed by Western states are beset by pervasive socio economic problems authoritarian rule economic inequities educational shortcomings development project failures sexual frustration that are being exploited by radical Islamists Native attempts to modernise Islamic society by adopting Western ways have repeatedly foundered because they have sought to replicate the trappings of state power while neglecting their foundation in civic ethics The ideals of civic activism and public service that inspired the Western Renaissance are absent in the Islamic world Islamic religious and moral ethics aim at salvation and Islamic social ethics aim at clan dominance Western inspired solutions to the Islamic crisis are inappropriate to Islamic states as they are states without citizens To mitigate the violence engendered by the Islamic crisis culturally authentic institutions must be created which will instil a set of ethics of common cause and public service The author recommends this approach for policy makers and development managers and deplores the dangerous vacuity of such drumbeat cliches as the clash of civilizations that have gained currency in the war on terrorism CURRENT CONTENTS
