suit particular goals and circumstances Also available in Russian ISBN 0 8213 3935 4 Stock No 13935      The Role of the Private Sector in Education in Vietnam Paul Glewwe, Harry Anthony Patrinos, 1998 As part of the restructuring of the educational system in 1989 the Vietnamese government implemented policy changes such as promoting the establishment of people's and community educational institutions permitting the establishment of private institutions and transforming public institutions into private ones Since Vietnam has only recently moved from a centrally planned to a market economy private schools are still relatively rare in Vietnam This paper examines the nature of private schooling in Vietnam using data from the 1992-93 Vietnam Living Standards Survey      Social Assistance in Albania Harold Alderman, 1998-01-01 Albania provides a small amount of social assistance to nearly 20% of its population through a system which allows a degree of community discretion in determining distribution This study investigates the poverty targeting of this program It indicates that relative to other safety net programs in low income countries social assistance in Albania is fairly well targeted to the poor      Chronic Illness and Retirement in Jamaica Sudhanshu Handa, Monica Neitzert, 1998-01-01 This paper explores the impact of six noncommunicable chronic diseases NCCDs on Jamaicans' decisions to retire Using the 1991 and 1992 Survey of Living Conditions database it examines the significantly negative impact that NCCDs have on people remaining in employment Chapters present findings that suggest the need to integrate health and labor market policies discuss health transition and the labor market in Jamaica give data samples and health measures provide an econometric model examine NCCDs in respect to gender and other social issues and present sensitivity analysis on the impact of physical health status on employment      Understanding Urban Health Disparities: Family Planning Access and Use Among the Urban Poor in Low- and Middle-Income Countries Moses Tetui, James Duminy, Onikepe Oluwadamilola Owolabi, Moazzam Ali, 2022-07-26      The Demand for Medical Care Masako Ii, 1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 293 Presents a conceptual framework for understanding the impact of health sector reforms in Central and Eastern Europe The book analyzes the various factors involved in the reforms and presents strategies adopted by many countries of the region during the early phases of the transition era      From Death to Birth National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, 1998-01-12 The last 35 years or so have witnessed a dramatic shift in the demography of many developing countries Before 1960 there were substantial improvements in life expectancy but fertility declines were very rare Few people used modern contraceptives and couples had large families Since 1960 however fertility rates have fallen in virtually every major geographic region of the world for almost all political social and economic groups What factors are responsible for the sharp decline in fertility What role do child survival programs or family programs play in fertility declines Casual observation suggests that a decline in infant and child mortality is the most important cause but there is surprisingly little hard evidence for this conclusion The papers in this volume explore the theoretical methodological and empirical dimensions of the fertility mortality relationship It includes several detailed case studies based on contemporary data from developing countries and on historical data from Europe and the United States      How Does Schooling of Mothers Improve Child Health? Paul Glewwe,1997-01-01

World Bank Technical Paper No 354 Water users organizations are one example of community participation at work in the sectors of irrigation drinking water supply and sanitation This paper looks at the conditions under which these organizations are most effective in managing water systems It identifies key external factors and internal structures for sustainable user associations as well as the conditions for partnership between government agencies and the associations      Guidelines for Constructing Consumption Aggregates for Welfare Analysis Angus Deaton,Salman Zaidi,2002-01-01 In September 2001 staff from the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund met with the objective of strengthening collaboration between the two organizations in projects of civil service reform This strengthened collaboration will have key benefits in ensuring consistency between the conflicting goals of the two organizations establishing realistic objectives within the reform process and maintaining a core set of wage and employment data The principal conclusion arrived at was that World Bank and IMF staff should be engaging in collaboration earlier in the reform process To guide the collaboration six foundations were identified These include develop a medium term fiscal framework foster national ownership by making reforms politically feasible focus and streamline conditionality agree on sequencing and timing of reforms and strengthen data collection These principals will be tested for effectiveness in several focus countries      Infrastructure and Poverty in Viet Nam

Dominique Van de Walle,1996 In 1992 the World Bank launched the Africa s Management in the 1990s research program a comprehensive study of the issues of institutional capacity building in Sub Saharan Africa and its effects on economic and social development This report focuses on the program and on how to implement its main message institutions must be both rooted in the local context and culture and open to outside challenges and influences Chapters focus on the institutional aspects of capacity building best practices in public administration indigenous private sector development and a framework for reconciliation between institutions      Poverty Lines in Theory and Practice Martin Ravallion,1998-01-01 A poverty line helps focus the attention of governments and civil society on the living conditions of the poor This paper offers a critical overview of alternative approaches to setting poverty lines In reviewing the methods found in practice the paper tries to throw light on and go some way toward resolving ongoing debates about poverty measurement emphasizing those debates which would appear to have greatest bearing on policy discussions      A Manual for Planning and Implementing the

Living Standards Measurement Study Survey Margaret E. Grosh,Juan Muñoz,1996 This manual explains the planning process technical procedures and standards used in Living Standard Measurement Study LSMS household surveys including what these procedures entail why they are used and how they can be implemented It provides a factual description of different procedures and standards as well as their purpose and an explanation of their distinctions The report offers explicit instructions along with examples of ways LSMS survey procedures have been implemented in different countries Although the lessons presented here are derived from LSMS surveys many of them are applicable to surveys in general and especially to those that are complex or especially concerned with quality control Topics covered in this manual include technical aspects of questionnaire formatting and testing methods of implementing sample design and fieldwork and data management procedures that have been successful The report sketches ideas about which directions to pursue in analyzing data presents a brief description of how to assess local statistical capacity and includes sample work plans and budgets to give surveyors estimates of how long each process will take

Policies Affecting Fertility and Contraceptive Use Susan Scribner, 1995 World Bank Technical Paper No 272 Public examinations in developing countries play a critical role in the selection of students for participation in the educational system The exams dictate what is taught how it is taught and what is and is not learned They are academic have little reference to the everyday lives of the students are limited to pencil and paper tests and are biased toward high achievers Thus students who leave school at an early stage are provided with inadequate opportunities for acquiring relevant knowledge and skills This study identifies practices associated with examinations that may create inequities for some students These include scoring procedures the use of culturally inappropriate questions fee requirements private tutoring exams in a language unfamiliar to the student and a variety of malpractices Quota systems that deal with differences in performance associated with location ethnicity or language group membership also creates inequities for some students The report concludes that the limited available evidence does not indicate that examinations create inequities between genders and that ranking schools on the basis of students examination performance may not provide a fair assessment of the work of schools
