Quality At Home For Older People Involving Service Users In Defining Home Care Specifications:

Quality at Home for Older People Norma Victoria Raynes, 2001 The government's NHS Plan emphasises the importance of services users' views. This report provides practical guidance on how to ensure that older people's views are heard, acted on and monitored in relation to service quality. It makes recommendations for ensuring that older people's views become an integral part of home care service provision.

Care-Related Quality of Life in Old Age Marja Vaarama, Richard Pieper, Andrew Sixsmith, 2007-10-27 The ageing of populations across the world poses a crucial challenge for the twenty-first century. Society faces three major changes: firstly increasing numbers of active older people demanding new social structures and opportunities; secondly increasing numbers of frail or disabled older people requiring new interventions and improved health and social care with resulting economic consequences; and finally complex economic, technological, organisational and social challenges involved in the ageing of society. If society wants to benefit from these changes, innovative social, organisational and technological responses are needed. This book presents the findings of the Care Keys project: Keys for Quality Performance Management of the Care of Older Persons in Europe, and is an example of how research can respond to the challenges outlined above. Care Keys was the fruit of European Union research funding made possible under the Quality of Life and Management of Living Resources specific programme 1 1998-2002 under the EC's Fifth Framework Programme for Research Technological Development and Demonstration. The activity promoting such research was Key Action 6 on the Ageing Population and their Disabilities.

Foundations of Health and Social Care Robert Adams, 2007-07-20 Written specifically for students and practitioners in health and social care taking foundation degrees or further professional qualifications, this textbook offers a wealth of material on contexts, knowledge, bases, skills and practices, as well as dealing with work carried out by those involved in treatment, therapy, advocacy and management. Written in a very accessible style, this very comprehensive book is set to become a core text for all Foundation Degree students within the health and social care field and a very valuable resource for tutors and practitioners in the field.

Nursing Care of Older People Andrew Hindle, Alison Coates, 2011-02-10 Nursing care of older people provides a new contemporary evidence-based and practical guide to meeting the holistic health needs of older patients. With a clear and engaging style, the authors outline a rigorous and robust account of underlying principles and evidence, with tools and tips for best nursing practice. This comprehensive textbook examines the changes brought about by the ageing process to both physical and mental health, as well as learning disabilities. Providing essential insights necessary to deliver high-quality nursing in primary and hospital care, this text covers a wide range of issues and clinical topics. Learning is aided by case studies, nursing insights, activities and reflection, enabling readers to apply theory to practice. This text is particularly useful for pre and post-registration student nurses, qualified nursing staff and other healthcare professionals working alongside nurses to deliver care to older people. The online resource centre to accompany Nursing care of older people features:

- For students and lecturers: Additional interactive case studies

National policy links Website links to national older people organizations charities and support groups and links to journals on older patients in health care Audio podcasts on the nursing care of older people Re-Imagining Old Age: Wellbeing, care and participation Marian Barnes, Beatrice Gahagan, Lizzie Ward, 2018-02-28 The understanding that humans are relational beings is central to the development of an ethical perspective that is built around the significance of care in all our lives Our survival as infants is dependent on the care we receive from others And for all of us in particular in older age there are times when illness emotional or physical frailty mean that we require the care of others to enable us to deal with everyday life With this in mind this book presents the findings of a project that seeks to understand what wellbeing means to older people and to influence the practice of those who work with older people Its starting point was a shared commitment amongst researchers and an NGO collaborator to the value of working with older people in both research and practice to learn from them and be influenced by them rather than seeing them as the subjects of a research project Theoretically the authors draw upon a range of studies in critical gerontology that seek to understand how experiences of ageing are shaped by their social economic cultural and political contexts By employing a broad body of work that challenges normative assumptions of successful ageing the authors draw attention to how these assumptions have been constructed through neo liberal policies of active ageing Notably they also apply insights from feminist ethics of care which are based on a relational ontology that challenges neo liberal assumptions of autonomous individualism Influenced by relational ethics they are attentive to older people both as co researchers and research respondents By successfully applying this perspective to social care practice they facilitate the need for practitioners to reflect on personal aspects of ageing and care but also to bridge the gap between the personal and the professional

Managing the ageing experience Denise Tanner, 2010-09-01 Current social policy recognises that older people should be treated as experts in their own lives and be actively involved in their care This book explores what can be learned from older people s experiences of managing ageing Direct connections are made between the everyday experiences and perspectives of older people related research and theoretical perspectives This yields an engaging and informative analysis of how older people manage the ageing experience and what this means for policy and practice directed at promoting older people s wellbeing The book will be of value to undergraduate and postgraduate students in health and social care and practitioners in these fields

Critical Perspectives on User Involvement Marian Barnes, Phil Cotterell, 2012 This original and insightful reader provides a critical stock take of the state of user involvement and will be an important resource for students studying health and social care and social work researchers and user activists
