account of the works while the main text offers an essential history of photography that addresses the implications of calling this period the medium's last century

History and Its Images Francis Haskell, 1993-01-01 Over the last four centuries historians have turned to images in their attempts to understand and visualize the past In this book an art historian surveys the various ways that they have adopted for making use of this material and examines the objects that became available to them

Reading American Photographs Alan Trachtenberg, 1990-11 Considers five documentary sequences or narratives the antebellum portraits of Mathew Brady and others the Civil War albums of Alexander Gardner George Barnard and A J Russell the Western survey and landscape photographs of Timothy O Sullivan A J Russell and Carleton Watkins and social photographs and texts by Alfred Stieglitz and Lewis Hine as well as documentaries inspired by the Depression esp Walker Evans's American Photographs

Walker Evans Judith Keller, 1995-11-02 Walker Evans is widely recognized as one of the greatest American photographers of the twentieth century and the J Paul Getty Museum owns one of the most comprehensive collections of his work including more of his vintage prints than any other museum in the world This lavishly illustrated volume brings together for the first time all of the Museum's Walker Evans holdings Included here are familiar images such as Evans's photographs of tenant farmers and their families made in the 1930s and later published in Let Us Now Praise Famous Men and images that are much less familiar such as the photographs Evans made in the 1940s of the winter quarters of the Ringling Brothers circus or his very late Polaroids made in the 1970s In addition many previously unpublished Evans photographs and variant croppings of classic images appear here for the first time Author Judith Keller has written a lively informative text that places these photographs in the larger context of Evans's life and career and the culture especially the popular culture of the time In so doing she has produced an indispensable volume for anyone interested in the history of photography or American culture in the twentieth century Also included is the most comprehensive bibliography on Walker Evans published to date

The Real Thing Miles Orvell, 2014-08-25 In this classic study of the relationship between technology and culture Miles Orvell demonstrates that the roots of contemporary popular culture reach back to the Victorian era when mechanical replications of familiar objects reigned supreme and realism dominated artistic representation Reacting against this genteel culture of imitation a number of artists and intellectuals at the turn of the century were inspired by the machine to create more authentic works of art that were themselves real things The resulting tension between a culture of imitation and a culture of authenticity argues Orvell has become a defining category in our culture The twenty fifth anniversary edition includes a new preface by the author looking back on the late twentieth century and assessing tensions between imitation and authenticity in the context of our digital age Considering material culture photography and literature the book touches on influential figures such as writers Walt Whitman Henry James John Dos Passos and James Agee photographers Alfred Stieglitz Walker Evans and Margaret Bourke White and architect designers Gustav Stickley and Frank Lloyd Wright

Museum Marketing and Strategy Neil G. Kotler, Philip Kotler, Wendy I. Kotler, 2016-08-25 This newly revised and updated edition of the classic resource on museum marketing and strategy provides a proven framework for examining marketing and strategic goals in relation to a museum's mission, resources, opportunities, and challenges. Museum Marketing and Strategy examines the full range of marketing techniques and includes the most current information on positioning, branding, and e-marketing. The book addresses the issues of most importance to the museum community and shows how to:

- Define the exchange process between a museum's offerings and consumer value.
- Differentiate a museum and communicate its unique value in a competitive marketplace.
- Find, create, and retain consumers and convert visitors to members and members to volunteers and donors.
- Plan strategically and maximize marketing's value.
- Achieve financial stability.
- Develop a consumer-centered museum.

Art and knowledge after 1900 James Fox, Vid Simoniti, 2023-12-12 This ground-breaking new history of modern art explores the relationship between art and knowledge from the beginning of the twentieth century to the present day. Each chapter examines artistic responses to a particular discipline of knowledge from quantum theory and theosophy to cybernetics and ethnic futurisms. The authors argue that art's incursion into other intellectual disciplines is a defining characteristic of both modernism and postmodernism. Throughout the volume, a series of larger questions is posed: is art a source of knowledge? If so, what kind of knowledge? And ultimately, can it contribute to our understanding of the world in ways that thinkers from other fields should take seriously.

Walker Evans Svetlana Alpers, 2023-11-07 A magisterial study of celebrated photographer Walker Evans. Walker Evans (1903-75) was a great American artist photographing people and places in the United States in unforgettable ways. He is known for his work for the Farm Security Administration addressing the Great Depression, but what he actually saw was the diversity of people and the damage of the long Civil War. In Walker Evans, renowned art historian Svetlana Alpers explores how Evans made his distinctive photographs. Delving into a lavish selection of Evans's work, Alpers uncovers rich parallels between his creative approach and those of numerous literary and cultural figures, locating Evans within the wide context of a truly international circle. Alpers demonstrates that Evans's practice relied on his camera choices and willingness to edit multiple versions of a shot, as well as his keen eye and his distant, straight-on view of visual objects. Illustrating the vital role of Evans's dual love of text and images, Alpers places his writings in conversation with his photographs. She brings his techniques into dialogue with the work of a global cast of important artists from Flaubert and Baudelaire to Elizabeth Bishop and William Faulkner, underscoring how Evans's travels abroad in such places as France and Cuba, along with his expansive literary and artistic tastes, informed his quintessentially American photographic style. A magisterial account of a great twentieth-century artist, Walker Evans urges us to look anew at the act of seeing the world, to reconsider how Evans saw his subjects, how he saw his photographs, and how we can see his images as if for the first time.
