Molendijk documents how the series has become a landmark in the development of the humanities especially the study of religion and language in the second half of the nineteenth century The edition also contributed significantly to the Western perception of the religious or even mystic East which was textually represented in English translations The series was a token of the rise of big science and textualized the East by selecting their sacred books and bringing them under the power of western scholarship The Sacred Books of the East Friedrich Max Müller, 1880 To See the Buddha Malcolm David Eckel, 1994-12-19 Boston University Professor Malcolm David Eckel takes us on a contemporary quest to discover the essential meaning behind the Buddha's many representations Eckel shows that the dimensions of early Indian Buddhism popular art conventional piety and critical philosophy all work together to express the same religious yearning for the fullness of emptiness that Buddha conveys the fourth century CE is one of the most treasured works of Buddhist literature and is the oldest existing printed book in the world. It is known as the Diamond Sutra because its teachings are said to be like diamonds that cut away all dualistic thought, releasing one from the attachment to objects and bringing one to the further shore of enlightenment. The format of this important sutra is presented as a conversation between the Buddha and one of his disciples. The Sutra of Hui neng, also known as the Platform Sutra, contains the autobiography of a pivotal figure in Zen history and some of the most profound passages of Zen literature. Hui neng (638–713) was the sixth patriarch of Zen in China but is often regarded as the true father of the Zen tradition. He was a poor illiterate woodcutter who is said to have attained enlightenment upon hearing a recitation of the Diamond Sutra. Together, these two scriptures present the central teaching of the Zen Buddhist tradition and are essential reading for all students of Buddhism.
