Managing for Healthy Ecosystems David J. Rapport, Bill L. Lasley, Dennis E. Rolston, N. Ole Nielsen, Calvin O. Qualset, Ardesir B. Damania, 2002-10-29 One of the critical issues of our time is the dwindling capacity of the planet to provide life support for a large and growing human population Based on a symposium on ecosystem health Managing for Healthy Ecosystems identifies key issues that must be resolved if there is to be progress in this complex area such as Evolving methods for regional ecosystem health assessment employing complex adaptive systems coupled with adaptive technologies to permit accurate determination of changes in regional and global environments Issues and methods for assessing monitoring and managing diversity and its impact on human health in the context of climate change agroecosystems restoration of forests politics culture and tradition Leading thinkers in the field provide a coherent synthesis and a benchmark for the practice of this emerging field worldwide The more than 100 peer reviewed papers are grouped into three major parts The first Emerging Concepts explores the diverse meanings of ecosystem health within ecological socio economic and human health perspectives and the linkages to related concepts such as ecological integrity sustainable development and ecological footprints The second part Issues and Methods introduces methods for assessing and monitoring ecosystem health including strategies for gaining political and stakeholder input and support for science based ecosystem management The final part Case Studies reports experiences of interdisciplinary teams grappling with specific issues in a variety of aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems

Public Participation In Development Planning And Management Jean-claude Garcia-zamor, 2019-09-16 This book examines the position held by most development administrators that citizen participation in the planning and management of development projects is crucial to their lasting success The contributors view inadequate participation as part of the larger problem of ineffective management policies and planning They show that development obje

Managing Rural Development with Small Farmer Participation Coralie Bryant, Louise G. White, 1984      Management of the Forests of Tropical America, 1987      Sustainable Rural Development A. Shepherd, 1998-01-19 This book examines the paradigm shift in rural development from an industrial to an holistic approach to technology development from a technocratic to a participatory approach to management and from resource control by big organisations to local resource management It provides a broad ranging assessment of agriculture and local level institutional development and sets out a range of agendas for development practice management and policy into the twenty first century      A.I.D. Research and Development Abstracts, 1981      The Management of Projects Peter W. G. Morris, 1994 This book will undoubtedly become one of the classics of the project management literature There will be a growing need for project managers who can look beyond the internal processes of their projects to the organisational technological and socio economic contexts in which projects must be managed A good starting point would be for all project managers to read this book Construction Management and Economics      Perspectives in Resource Management in Developing Countries Baleshwar Thakur, 2007 v 2 Population resources and development v 3 Ecological degradation of land      Irrigation Management In Developing Countries K. C. Nobe, 2019-03-11 This book brings together current issues in and approaches to the development utilization and management of water resources in developing countries It analyzes these irrigation issues and offers future strategies to help bridge the gap between potential and reality in Third World agriculture      Information Management and Participation Francesco di Notarbartolo Villarosa, 2005-08-02 In order to alleviate poverty people oriented projects those dealing with activities such as institutional development health family planning education and rural development must be well targeted towards the most vulnerable groups However official top down information is incapable of identifying prioritising and marking out these groups at a local level and the result is too often an unfair inefficient and ineffective allocation and use of the resources of social programmes The author argues that a process approach is often necessary to generate relevant knowledge about local needs especially in poor urban and heterogeneous areas Such an approach fosters flexibility and adaptability to the local context The book analyses the whole approach to information handling which was developed in the Brazilian project The different phases are analysed the collection and processing of data and the construction of an information system to be used for decision making      A.I.D. Research and Development Abstracts United States. Agency for International Development, 1982      Handbook of Comparative and Development Public Administration Ali Farazmand, 2001-06-29 With contributions from nearly 80 international experts this comprehensive resource covers diverse issues aspects and features of public administration and policy around the world It focuses on bureaucracy and bureaucratic politics in developing and industrialized countries and emphasizing administrative performance and policy implementation as well as political system maintenance and regime enhancement The book covers the history of public administration and bureaucracy in Persia Greece Rome and Byzantium and among the Aztecs Incas and Mayas public administration in small island states Eastern Europe and ethics and other contemporary issues in public administration     Development in Practice (Routledge Revivals) Doug Porter, Bryant Allen, Gaye Thompson, 2014-06-03 The Magarini Settlement Project in Kenya is typical of many large Third World rural development projects of recent years not least in its failure to fulfil even minimum goals First published in 1991 Development in Practice explores the reasons for this projects failure and looks at the lessons to be learned from this experience for development in general Challenging many assumptions and approaches its provocative conclusions will generate much interest amongst development practitioners
