Managing To Empower The Grameen Banks Experience Of Poverty Alleviation:

Managing to Empower Susan Holcombe, 1995 An estimated 13 18 million people die from hunger malnutrition and poverty related causes every year This book draws on the lessons of the Grameen Bank in Bangladesh to explore the process of managing poverty alleviation programmes that make a lasting difference in the lives of the poor planning and control in management literature offer systems that can be used to explore participation empowerment centralization and decentralization She suggests that development projects can never be participatory and empowering unless their management is itself participatory and empowering people and has a repayment rate of over 98% successfully combines a centrally defined vision with a decentralized and participatory manner of execution Its framework of shared vision and values has not only enabled borrower members to be brought into decision making roles but also motivates a large and widely dispersed field staff Managing to Empower Joseph Boadi, 2001 Eradication of Poverty and Empowerment of the Poor Amal Raj Chellakan, 2007 Microfinance and Poverty Alleviation Ben Quinones, Joe Remenyi, 2014-02-04 Despite the considerable economic growth of the Asia Pacific poverty continues to be a major problem One key way to create sustainable livelihoods and to provide poor households an escape route from poverty is microfinance Since the early 1980s microfinance practitioners have proven that the poor are creditworthy capable of utilizing scarce capital efficiently in viable income generating projects and able to pay back their loans This book collects the experience of microfinance practitioners in 11 countries in the Asia Pacific region to describe the present state of the art It is designed to provide an overview of the subject why it is so essential to poverty reduction what is the best practice what kind of policy framework and regulatory environment is required It offers both an extensive survey of the academic literature and a selection of case studies all from authors who have been active practitioners in microfinance for many years The case studies cover four key countries in South Asia and three countries in East Asia in which microfinance had become particularly important There is also a regional chapter covering the Pacific islands Managing to Empower Susan Holcombe, 1995 An estimated 13 18 million people die from hunger malnutrition and poverty related causes every year This book draws on the lessons of the Grameen Bank in Bangladesh to explore the process of managing poverty alleviation programmes that make a lasting difference in the lives of the poor planning and control in management literature offer systems that can be used to explore participation empowerment centralization and decentralization She suggests that development projects can never be participatory and empowering unless their management is itself participatory and empowering people and has a repayment rate of over 98% successfully combines a centrally defined vision with a decentralized and participatory manner of execution Its framework of shared vision and values has not only enabled borrower members to be brought into decision making roles but also motivates a large and widely dispersed field staff Managing for Change John Hailey, 2013-09-13 An increasing proportion of the world's poor is dependent on NGOs for the support the state cannot or will not provide but little has been written to analyze or guide best management practice which is so critical to their success Managing for Change addresses the key operational issues facing NGO managers drawing lessons from the reality of southern NGOs It explores areas such as the formation of strategy effective NGO leadership the handling of donor relations staff motivation and development and the management styles most appropriate to crises and change Microcredit and Poverty Alleviation Tazul Islam,2016-04-22 The attempt of the Grameen Bank to alleviate poverty and enhance the skills and productivity of its rural women clients provides the fascinating backdrop to this important study of micro credit institutions Tazul Islam examines the real extent to which the Grameen Bank s credit alone policy has been successful in securing the Bank s financial sustainability its practical role in alleviating poverty and its actual impact on the productivity of its clients This book concludes by considering alternative policy options that hold out the possibility of increased poverty alleviation Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Bangladesh Ali Riaz,Mohammad Sajjadur Rahman,2016-01-29 In the past decade Bangladesh has achieved significant social and economic progress Despite high population density a limited natural resource base underdeveloped infrastructure frequent natural disasters and political uncertainty the country has recorded positive developments in terms of broad economic and social indicators This Handbook presents a comprehensive and interdisciplinary resource on the politics society and economy of Bangladesh today Divided into six thematic sections the Handbook focuses on relevant issues and trends on History and the making of contemporary Bangladesh Politics and institutions Economy and development Energy and environment State society and rights Security and external relations Written by a team of international experts in the field the chapters provide an accessible and up to date insight into contemporary Bangladesh The Handbook will be of interest to students and academics of South Asian studies as well as policymakers journalists and others who wish to learn more about this increasingly important country Women And Microcredit In Rural Bangladesh Aminur Rahman,2019-05-20 The Grameen Bank of Bangladesh has been extending small loans to poor borrowers primarily women to promote self employment and income generation since 1976 The apparent success of the Grameen Bank that is recruitment of clients investment of loans recovery rates on invested loans and profit margins has made microcredit a new model for poverty alleviation and sustainable development Anthropological research results on Grameen Bank lending to women presented in this book however illuminates the link between the success of the bank and debt cycling of borrowers The priority of earning profits to insure institutional economic viability caused Bank employees at the grassroots level to emphasize increasing the number of loans disbursed and loan recovery By using the joint liability model of lending the Bank workers and borrowing peers impose intense pressure on clients for timely repayment Many borrowers maintain their regular payment schedules but do so through a process of loan recycling that is pay off previous loans with new ones that considerably increases borrower debt liability The debt burdens on individual households in turn increase tension and anxiety among household members and produce unintended consequences for many clients This book examines women borrowers involvement with the microcredit program of the Grameen Bank and the grassroots lending structure of the bank it illustrates the implications of Grameen lending for the borrowers their household members and bank workers The focus of the study is on the processes of village level microcredit operation it addresses the realities of the day to day lives of women borrowers and bank workers and explains informant strategies for involving themselves in this microcredit scheme The study is on the power dynamics of everyday lives of informants as they affect women borrowers relationships within the household and the loan centers and bank worker relationships within the loan center and the bank

NGO Field Workers in Bangladesh Mokbul Morshed Ahmad, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2002 NGOs are receiving increasing international attention and resources from policy makers donors academics and others The New Policy Agenda accepts NGOs as agents for social welfare alongside the state and as fostering democracy in the Developing World Astonishingly however there have been very few studies and no books on NGO field workers This study of field workers in Bangladesh provides excellent insights into this neglected field Bangladesh is an excellent example as since independence in 1971 it has been a donor dependent country both financially and functionally and since the 1980s has concentrated this funding towards NGOs rather than to the state The book shows how field workers are seen simply as implementers carrying out directions given by their superiors and never being consulted on how best to achieve their goals The book examines four types of NGOs international national regional and small local in a number of sample locations It compares the benefits and facilities provided by each NGO to their field workers then explores the socio economic background of both field workers and their mid level managers and examines the interactions between these two groups and between field workers and their clients It also looks at the field workers personal and professional lives and problems and details their opinions on their NGO s activities and policies and on development The findings show that NGO managers and donors lack knowledge of the realities in the field and do not realise how certain policies such as their positive discrimination of women can have negative results It proposes that NGO field workers should be more active in policy making and puts forward several recommendations for changes in the management and structure of future NGOs

Complex Systems Theory and Development Practice Samir Rihani, 2002 Ranging over a wide terrain of social political and economic thinking and specific country experiences the author explains the key concepts in complex systems theory and their possible applications in development practice He examines various development issues and institutions in the light of what he sees as the limitations of rigid linear thinking in an essentially fluid non linear world Little wonder he concludes that the results of half a century of development effort have been so disappointing

BOOK JACKET David Livingstone and the Myth of African Poverty and Disease Sjoerd Rijpma, 2015-06-24 This study about David Livingstone is different from all other publications about him Here Livingstone is not the main topic of interest the focus of the author is on nutrition and health in pre colonial Africa and Livingstone is his key informant David Livingstone and the Myth of African Poverty and Disease is an unusual book After a close examination of

Livingstone's writings and comparative reading of contemporary authors Sjoerd Rijpma has been able to draw cautious conclusions about the relatively favourable conditions of health and nutrition in southern and central Africa during the pre colonial period His findings shed new light on the medical history of Sub Saharan Africa The surprise awaiting travellers in and also before 19th century Africa was that the inhabitants of the interior even the slaves were healthier and better fed than many of their contemporaries in Europe's Industrial Revolution An impressive piece of scholarship truly forensic in its close reading and re reading of Livingstone's published works and those of other travellers during the same era clearly a labour of love which has taken years to complete Joanna Lewis The Credibility of Microcredit, 2013-04-05 Pullulating from a handful of isolated experiments in the 1970s to a sophisticated network of over 140 million borrowers today microfinance is a synecdoche for global trends toward market based solutions to social problems But in recent years economic crises and political attacks have raised doubts about its efficacy begetting polemic debates and sometimes baseless assertions from both supporters and detractors of microfinance The Credibility of Microcredit offers a more objective assessment of the merits and shortfalls of microfinance around the world by way of interdisciplinary research It features works from leading researchers in the field of microfinance as well as new names who complement one another's work with a variety of methods and theoretical approaches Contributors include Britta Augsburg Gwendolyn Alexander Tedeschi Jonathan Bauchet Cyril Fouillet Soren Hauge Dean Karlan Jonathan Morduch Michael Pisani Sujata Shetty Elisabeth Vik and David Yoskowitz Reprint of some articles published in the journal Perspectives on Global Development and Technology 2010 volume 9 No 3 4

Advancing Human Development Frances Stewart, Gustav Ranis, Emma Samman, 2018-02-17 Human Development has been advocated as the prime development goal since 1990 when the publication of the first UNDP Human Development Report proposed that development should improve the lives people lead in multiple dimensions instead of primarily pursuing economic growth This approach forms the foundation of Advancing Human Development Theory and Practice It traces the evolution of approaches to development showing how the Human Development approach emerged as a consequence of defects in earlier strategies Advancing Human Development argues that Human Development is superior to measures of societal happiness It investigates the determinants of success and failure in Human Development across countries over the past forty years taking a multidimensional approach to point to the importance of social institutions and social capabilities as essential aspects of change It analyses political conditions underlying the performance of Human Development and surveys global progress in multiple dimensions such as life expectancy infant mortality and education and outcomes whilst reflecting on dimensions which have worsened over time such as rising inequality and declining environmental conditions These deteriorating conditions inform Advancing Human Development's account of the challenges to the Human Development approach covering the insufficient attention paid to macroeconomic conditions and the economic structure needed for sustained success

The Politics of Gender and Education S. Ali, S. Benjamin, M. Mauthner, 2003-11-25 What are the politics of gender within education How are the issues of gender being explored in diverse educational settings Does gender still matter in education This book draws together the work from an international array of authors working at the cutting edge of gender research in education From policy issues affecting single mothers to the incorporation of Southern learning into Northern contexts this collection provides a compelling argument for renewed engagement with gender issues at both macro and micro political levels within the full range of educational contexts from primary to higher education W. E. B. Du Bois, Race, and the City Michael B. Katz, Thomas J. Sugrue, 1998-04-20 There is unanimity among these historians and sociologists in ascribing seminal importance to The Philadelphia Negro David Levering Lewis Journal of American History 100 Ways of Seeing an Unequal World Bob Sutcliffe, 2001-04 This innovative book builds on the fact that there is now a large body of statistical information about today's highly unequal world Bob Sutcliffe looks at current affairs development and international relations For anyone wanting to understand the contemporary world this book probes complex economic issues using innovative diagrams and charts Scaling Up Scaling Down Thomas J. Marchione, 2013-12-19 The individual and institutional capacities required for the prevention and reduction of nutritional insecurity and hunger in lesser developed countries as the twenty first century approaches are identified in this book Household nutritional security can be defined as the successful The essays in this book champion the idea of increasing or scaling up grass roots operations to provide nutritional security while scaling down the efforts of national and international institutions Scaling up involves strengthening local capacities to improve and expand upon current successful programs by building upon existing local culture and organizations This in turn enables the programs to strengthen relationships with national governments international bilateral multilateral donors as well as non governmental organizations Scaling down concerns the ways and means by which these various organizations encourage and complement the local development Therefore as local capacities are scaled up the national international control over decisions and functions is ideally scaled down The volume also directly addresses the resultant complication how to create programs that are both culturally specific and that will flourish well into the future Economic Growth and Food Security M.L. Narasaiah, 2008 Today saving the planet is about redefining our economic development models Striving towards the fulfillment of basic human rights is an integral part of environmental protection Without a people centered development strategy we will fail Conflicting interests and lack of vision and courage are among the many reasons why it is so hard to meet needs in a world of plenty We are faced with three major challenges in the 1990s Crises of Governance in Asia and Africa Sandra J. MacLean, Fahimul Quadir, 2017-07-12 This title was first published in 2001 Investigating the relations between ethnicity and governance in Asia and Africa and going well beyond traditional and orthodox treatments this volume is not only a stimulating text but also an invaluable tool for original and innovative research
