Women, Educational Policy-Making and Administration in England Joyce Goodman, Sylvia Harrop, 2002-11-01 The role of women in policy making has been largely neglected in conventional social and political histories This book opens up this field of study taking the example of women in education as its focus It examines the work attitudes actions and philosophies of women who played a part in policy making and administration in education in England over two centuries looking at women engaged at every level from the local school to the state Women Educational Policy Making and Administration in England traces women s involvement in the establishment and management of schools and teacher training the foundation of the school boards women s representation on educational commissions and their rising professional profile in such roles as school inspector or minister of education These activities highlight vital questions of gender class power and authority and illuminate the increasingly diverse and prominent spectrum of political activity in which women have participated Offering a new perspective on the professional and political role of women this book represents essential reading for anybody with an interest in gender studies or the social and political history of England in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries

Women and School Leadership Cecilia Reynolds, 2012-02-01 This international collection of work by leading feminist scholars in educational administration from five Western liberal democratic countries presents state of the art research on women in school leadership positions The contributors focus on the need for critical reflections which reveal hidden aspects of leadership phenomena and advocate diverse forms of positive action to improve the condition for women in school settings As such this collection challenges the reader to consider the partiality of all perspectives on leadership as well as future directions for research and practice It also brings together views of schools and school systems at the macro level with discussions and case studies focused on the micro levels of school life Gender and Leisure Cara Carmichael Aitchison,2013-06-17 The highly contested nature of both gender and leisure encapsulates many of the most critical social and cultural debates of the early twenty first century Drawing on a wide range of theoretical perspectives as well as extensive empirical research Gender and Leisure goes forward to offer a contemporary socio cultural analysis of gender relations in leisure practice and leisure policy The book begins by introducing and evaluating the key social and cultural ideologies philosophies and beliefs that have informed our theoretical understanding of gender and leisure The particular leisure policies that have emerged from these perspectives are examined Part two of Gender and Leisure draws on research in social and cultural theory gender and leisure studies cultural geography management and education and goes on to explore the reality of contemporary gender relations in leisure practice Leisure policy leisure management places and sites of leisure and leisure education are examined as are the relationships between leisure sport and tourism EBOOK:

Leadership and Teams in Educational Management Megan Crawford,Lesley Kydd,Colin Riches,1997-03-16 Effective leadership and team working makes a crucial difference to the management of schools and colleges This book takes readers through the different dimensions of leadership and its relationship to good team work Personal and organizational skills are dealt with alongside the more theoretical aspects of the subject Throughout the editors stress that leadership and team working are the core activities in managing people This volume forms part of the Leadership and Management in Education series This four book series provides a carefully chosen selection of high quality readings on key contemporary themes in educational management professional development reflection on practice leadership team working effectiveness and improvement quality strategy and resources The series will be an important resource for classroom teachers and lecturers as well as those holding designated management posts in schools and colleges and will provide a valuable basis for professional development programmes Transforming Managers Roy Moodley,Stephen Whitehead,2005-06-23 In the 1990s considerable changes in the political and social world have impacted on the character of both public and private organizations At a time of increased uncertainty and insecurity in these organizations new ways of managing and being managed have emerged Recognising that organizational life is part reflective and determined by dominant social discourses factors of gender will inevitably be central to the dynamics of organizational change This book addresses theoretical ideas and mythologies in the examination of gendered organizations The need to examine men in relation to family law and society in general is growing and this book extends this interrogation to work and organizational life It will be of interest to students in management studies public sector management and those involved in public policy making as well as students and academics within gender studies and sociology From Victims of Change to Agents of Change Martin Johnson,Joe

Hallgarten,2002 Leadership Gender And Culture In Education Collard, John,Reynolds, Cecilia,2004-10-01 This rich explorative book examines the intricacies of gender sexuality ethnicity and class and how these complex influences weave their patterns in the daily lives of leaders It achieves the difficult balance between acknowledging differences as well as unifying elements The book also raises many questions about the context for leadership and examines the central issues of leadership for what What are leaders there to do and for whom To ensure that students achieve higher examination scores or to promote equity and social justice This book offers many fresh insights into these and other important questions Professor Kathryn Riley Institute of Education University of London This book features chapters by leading international scholars on gender and educational leadership Drawing on research in schools in the United Kingdom Australia New Zealand Sweden the United States and Canada it introduces new discussions about the impact of gender race class institutional setting and recent ideologies on leadership discourses The book shows how early research has over emphasized gender stereotypes and tended to simplify and polarize the ways men and women lead Looking at differences and similarities in how men and women take on and exercise leadership roles the authors counter essentialist claims based on biological psychological and sociological theories that stress gender difference The discussions employ sophisticated understandings of gender relations and leadership discourses in today s globalized context The book is for students and scholars studying leadership and for leaders in different educational contexts around the world Feminist Perspectives on Contemporary Educational Leadership

Kay Fuller,2021-11-29 This timely book explores how various feminist perspectives fruitfully explain women s experience of educational leadership drawing on a contemporary conceptualisation of fourth wave feminism that is intersectional and inclusive The book asks which and whose feminist theory is used to explain gender and feminism in educational leadership management and administration ELMA the scholar s the research participant s or a combination of the two in the co construction of knowledge from an intersectional feminist perspective It conceptualises intersectional and inclusive feminist perspectives on educational leadership theorising research through a Black British feminist perspective a gender and Islamic perspective and a queer theory perspective depending on the self identification of participants It explores digital feminism and men s pro feminism The book identifies feminist leadership praxis as a focus for future research and explores how leaders can draw on funds of knowledge identity cultural wealth and lead and educate diverse populations of students Highlighting the importance of intersectional feminist perspectives in ELMA the book will appeal to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of inclusive educational leadership and management gender studies and feminism

Feminism and the Classroom Teacher Amanda Coffey,Sara Delamont,2002-11-01 How has feminism influenced contemporary educational practices Is feminism relevant to today s teachers Feminism and the Classroom Teacher undertakes a feminist analysis of the work and everyday realities of the school teacher providing evidence that feminism is still relevant as a way of thinking about the social work and as a lived reality Providing a unique contribution to the literature in the area of gender and education the authors objective is to articulate the educational discourses of gender how gender is constructed performed and sustained through discourse and material practices The overall aim of the book is to ascertain the extent to which women teachers specifically and the feminist project more generally have contributed to theoretical understandings and practical accomplishments of teaching

Improving Your Reflective Practice through Stories of Practitioner Research Cath Arnold,2012-06-14 Improving Your Reflective Practice through Stories of Practitioner Research shows how research has informed and created effective and valuable reflective practice in early years education and offers depth to the arguments for a research orientated stance to this vital field of study This thought provoking text explores and documents a variety of small scale practitioner research projects from the home and early years settings The stories are centred around real life for children families and workers and offer practical ideas and support for early years students around the world They engage in some of the most current debates in early childhood education today such as how to support children as individuals how young children learn and how parents support their learning how to lead and facilitate change in a way that does not take power away from children parents or workers how to support children in taking risks how to support parents in returning to learning Throughout this book the Pen Green attitude to practitioner research is actively encouraged This involves fostering curiosity being open to the views of others questioning the taken for granted making the implicit explicit and reflecting on one s daily work Any practitioner research in early years education and care will draw inspiration from this accessible and supportive text

International Handbook of

Educational Leadership and Administration Kenneth A. Leithwood, Judith Chapman, P. Corson, P. Hallinger, Ann Hart, 2012-12-06 EDITORS This introduction to the International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration describes some of the motivation for developing the book and several assumptions on which is based much of the work represented in its 31 chapters A synopsis of the contents of those chapters is also provided SOME KEY ASSUMPTIONS It is sometimes suggested that the search for an adequate understanding of leadership is doomed to fail After all there is little evidence of agreement about the concept in spite of prodigious efforts dating back hundreds if not thousands of years Such a view is captured for example in Bennis observation that Of all the hazy and confounding areas in social psychology leadership theory undoubtedly contends for top nomination Probably more has been written and less is known about leadership than any other topic in the behavioural sciences 1959 page 259 We do not find this state of affairs discouraging nor entirely accurate and of course it did not prevent Bennis from proceeding either One reason for our desire to continue in the face of such discouraging words is that a great deal of leadership research aspires to develop a general theory a theory which applies to all or most domains of organized human activity This aspiration inevitably produces decontextualized and therefore abstract categories of practice Howard Gardner's 1995 depiction of leadership as story telling is a case in point JSL Vol 24-N3 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP, 2014-05-22 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors authors from traditionally marginalized populations and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice teach courses on school leadership and policy use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement Sacred Dreams C. Cryss Brunner, 1999-04-23 Although women have dominated the teaching ranks at all levels of education since the turn of the century men occupy 93 percent of superintendency jobs Considering the nationwide concern that superintendency positions will be vacated faster than they can be filled during the next decade it's quite possible that women are the greatest untapped pool of capable candidates As women think about seek and accept superintendency assignments they need a resource like Sacred Dreams that offers both practical advice from those who have attained this rank and research results from those who have studied the situation Such an understanding has the potential not only to increase the number of women in the position but also to increase their likelihood of success Contributors include Judy A Alston Cynthia Beekley Jackie M Blount C Cryss Brunner Susan Chase Margaret Grogan Barbara L Jackson Debra Jackson Estelle Kamler Sylvia E M ndez Morse Flora Ida Ortiz Barbara Nelson Pavan Charol Shakeshaft and Marilyn Tallerico Also included is a foreword by Patricia A Schmuck

The Ethical Dimensions of School Leadership P.T. Begley, Olof Johansson, 2006-04-11 Among the many significant features of this volume is the dedication to the late Don Willower Professor of Education at Pennsylvania State University It is significant in light of Willower s long record of major contributions to the empirical literature in Educational Administration and his mentorship of many students steeped in the tradition of the so called science of administration These include scholars like Wayne Hoy and Peter Cistone who readily acknowledge their personal and intellectual debt to Willower How is it then that Willower a colleague of the giants of Educational Administration in the 60s and 70s people such as Dan Griffiths Jack Culbertson and Roald Campbell to name just a few came to associate himself with this relatively upstart group of academics and practitioners interested in values of all things As an inheritor of the mantle thrown down by Getzels and Guba all those years ago it might seem strange to see Willower consorting with people who argue about the distinction between fact and value It is true of course that Willower majored in philosophy at the State University of New York at Buffalo as an undergraduate So the language and the ways of thinking among many of those interested in values and ethics were not all that foreign to him He could certainly hold his own in debate with his friend Chris Hodgkinson the foremost philosopher of Educational Administration in the field today and a contributor to this volume
