Manawaka World Of Margaret Laurence:

The Manawaka World of Margaret Laurence Clara Thomas, 1975 The Manawaka World of Margaret Laurence examines the author's life and her evolution as a writer from This Side Jordan to The Diviners The Manawaka World of Margaret Laurence, 1976 The Crafting of Chaos Hildegard Kuester, 2022-06-08 In this study of the Canadian novelist Margaret Laurence recent narratological models provide the theoretical framework for a textual analysis that aims at complementing previous thematic critiques The chief focus is on The Stone Angel and The Diviners which the conclusion then presents in the context of the other novels in Laurence's Manawaka cycle Consideration of the published works is rounded off with genetic comparison of the novelist's typescript drafts and an evaluation of the manuscript notes kept in the archives of McMaster and York Universities The central structural principle of The Stone Angel is its dovetailing of past and present scenes Temporal arrangement reflecting the frequency and duration of Hagar's memories reveals the hold of memory over the central character and her attempts to suppress her fear of mortality Hagar as narrator manipulates character presentation and description to her own advantage In a basically oppositional structure her need for control is reflected in the neat ordering of the narrative The verbal texture of the novel serves to establish a value system that insists on the superiority of imported culture over Western Canadian forms The Diviners shares a number of narrative similarities with The Stone Angel but the latter's formal rigidity has yielded by the time Laurence writes her last novel to the concept of multiplicity characters time planes perspectives and narrative voices including metafictional commentaries Textual coherence is secured via narrative strategies including typography generational paradigms repetition parallelism intertextuality and tropological patterning that render the novel readable and present experience as ordered in a time of cultural flux and personal crisis The Manawaka World of Margaret Laurence Palla, M'aria, 1987 Margaret Laurence's Epic Imagination Paul Comeau, 2005-12-23 Although at times painfully insecure about her creative ability and achievement Margaret Laurence nevertheless remained fiercely loyal to her artistic vision an archetypal vision of loss exile and redemption that sought comprehensive expression in the epic mode that shapes the Bible Dante's Divine Comedy Milton's Paradise Lost and ultimately the Manawaka world of Hagar Shipley Rachel Cameron Stacey MacAindra and Morag Gunn Paul Comeau traces the development of Margaret Laurence's epic voice from its tentative beginnings in her African fiction to its culmination in the epic Manawaka Cycle a Dantesque journey through an infernal state of self-destructive pride out of a purgatorial paralysis of self-doubt and on to a kind of paradisaal fulfillment in self-knowledge Laurence discovered in epic a fitting mode at once to requite her debt to the ancestors and to break free of their influence to portray the world through the sight of her own eyes In so doing she became the enduring epic voice of a country and a generation Postcolonial Theory and Literature P. Mallikarjuna Rao, Mittapalli Rajeshwar, K. Bumsted, 1999-12-10 Manitoba has been at the crossroads of many of the important debates and events in Canadian history From the early fur trade to the Riel Rebellion to the Winnipeg General Strike Manitobans have frequently played crucial roles in Canadian and sometimes world history Until now there has been no comprehensive contemporary source for information on the many Manitobans who have left their mark on history and society Dictionary of Manitoba Biography fills this gap with biographical sketches of over 1700 Manitobans who have made an impact in politics the arts sports commerce agriculture and society It is an invaluable resource for scholars students and general readers interested in Canadian history Particular emphasis has been placed on reflecting Manitoba s ethnic and social diversity and on including men and women who were notable in their own day but have now been forgotten Many entries also refer the reader to additional references for further reading More than a reference book Dictionary of Manitoba Biography is also a fascinating work of history in its own right which presents the full and colourful scope of over 300 years of people in Manitoba history and social life from premiers and mayors to nightclub owners and sports heroes Rapt in Plaid

Howells,2014-08-07 First published in 1987 this is an introductory study of the most widely read Canadian women novelists of the 1970s and 1980s At its centre lies the question of how the search for a distinctive cultural identity relates to the need for a national cultural identity in the post colonial era Coral Ann Howells argues that Canadian women s fiction throughout the period of study represents how the Canadian cultural identity exceeds its geographical limits and those traditional structures of patriarchal authority need revision if women s alternative views are to be taken into account Including short biographical sketches and a complete list of the books published by the authors under discussion writers examined include Margaret Atwood Alice Munro and Margaret Laurence The Burning Bush and a Few Acres of Snow William Klempa,1994

The twelve essays collected here explore the formative influence Presbyterianism has had on Canadian religious heritage and culture including education church state relations literature and music Racial, Ethnic, Gender and Class Representations in Margaret Laurence's Writings Andreea Topor-Constantin,2013-07-26

Racial Ethnic Gender and Class Representations in Margaret Laurence's Writings is a study on Canada Canadian literature and Margaret Laurence s works in particular thus addressing various kinds of readership This book avoids the danger of limiting the approach to solely focusing attention on Canada by presenting a thorough analysis of various literary genres allowing the book to be of interest to all literature lovers Furthermore the book explores the parallelism between life and fiction emphasising Laurence s biographic and realist elements and their influence on the writer's fictional writing revealing real and imaginary worlds which would appeal to anybody's literary needs. This major contribution to the already existent criticism of Margaret Laurence's works lies in the analysis of her work as an entity balancing both terms of the common binary oppositions: fiction versus non-fiction, Africa versus Canada, white versus Black or Metis. In spite of critical comments which might be raised, Andreea Topor Constantin comments on how the voice of the marginal makes itself heard throughout the author's books, underlying Laurence's emphasis on characterisation and her genuine concern for people. This book covers all aspects of Laurence's life and fiction from the African to the writer's Canadian background, from adults to children's literature, from novels to short stories, from essays to letters, in order to challenge readers' perceptions of race, ethnicity, gender, and class. Pioneer Woman, Elizabeth Helen Thompson, 1991. In The Backwoods of Canada and The Canadian Settler's Guide, Catherine Parr Traill described a pioneer woman's role on the Ontario frontier, presenting an idealized portrait of the Canadian woman pioneer in the mid-nineteenth century. By transposing this figure into fiction, Traill managed to create what was in effect a new fictional character type, the pioneer woman. Journal of Canadian Fiction, 1981. Integrated Perspective in Art, Social Science and Humanities 2025. Dr. R. SHAMIM ANSARI, Dr. Prasenjit Karmakar, 2025-04-02. Writers Directory NA, 2016-03-05. New Canadian Library, Janet Friskney, 2015-05-07. In the mid-1950s, much Canadian literature was out of print, making it relatively inaccessible to readers, including those studying the subject in schools and universities. When English professor Malcolm Ross approached Toronto publisher Jack McClelland in 1952 to propose a Canadian literary reprint series, it was still the accepted wisdom among publishers that Canadian literature was of insufficient interest to the educational market to merit any great publishing risks. Eventually convinced by Ross that a latent market for Canadian literary reprints did indeed exist, McClelland Stewart launched the New Canadian Library (NCL) series in 1958, with Ross as its general editor. In 2008, the NCL will celebrate a half-century of publication. In New Canadian Library, Janet B. Friskney takes the reader through the early history of the NCL series, focusing on the period up to 1978, when Malcolm Ross retired as general editor. A wealth of archival resources, published reviews, and the NCL volumes themselves are used to survey the working relationship between Ross and McClelland, as well as the collaborative participation of those who, through the middle decades of the twentieth century, were committed to studying and nurturing Canada's literary heritage. To place the New Canadian Library in its proper historical context, Friskney examines the simultaneous development of Canadian literary studies as a legitimate area of research and teaching in academe and acknowledges the NCL as a milestone in Canadian publishing history.
