made a profound impact on American letters with fiction in both mainstream and regional venues Following on the heels of this vibrant and growing body of work New Latina Narrative offers the first in depth synthesis and literary analysis of this transethnic genre Focusing on the dynamic writing published in the 1980s and 1990s by Mexican American Puerto Rican Cuban American and Dominican American women New Latina Narrative illustrates how these writers have redefined the concepts of multiculturalism and diversity in American society As participants in both mainstream and grassroots forms of multiculturalism these new Latina narrativists have created a feminine space within postmodern ethnicity disrupting the idealistic veneer of diversity with which publishers often market this fiction In this groundbreaking study author Ellen McCracken opens the conventional boundaries of Latino a literary criticism incorporating elements of cultural studies theory and contemporary feminism Emphasizing the diversity within new Latina narrative McCracken discusses the works of more than two dozen writers including Julia Alvarez Denise Chavez Sandra Cisneros Cristina Garcia Graciela Lim n Demetria Martinez Pat Mora Cherr e Moraga Mary Helen Ponce and Helena Mar a Viramontes She stresses such themes as the resignification of master narrative the autobiographical self and collective identity popular religiosity subculture and transgression and narrative harmony and dissonance New Latina Narrative provides readers an enriched basis for reconceiving the overall Latino a literary field and its relation to other contemporary literary and cultural trends McCracken s original approach extends the Latina literary canon both the works to be studied and the issues to be examined resulting in a valuable work for all readers of women s studies contemporary American literature ethnic studies communications and sociology

Troubling Nationhood in U.S. Latina Literature Maya Socolovsky, 2013-06-26 This book examines the ways in which recent U S Latina literature challenges popular definitions of nationhood and national identity It explores a group of feminist texts that are representative of the U S Latina literary boom of the 1980s 1990s and 2000s when an emerging group of writers gained prominence in mainstream and academic circles Through close readings of select contemporary Mexican American Puerto Rican and Cuban American works Maya Socolovsky argues that these narratives are remapping the United States so that it is fully integrated within a larger hemispheric Americas Looking at such concerns as nation place trauma and storytelling writers Denise Chavez Sandra Cisneros Esmeralda Santiago Ana Castillo Himilce Novas and Judith Ortiz Cofer challenge popular views of Latino cultural unbelonging and make strong cases for the legitimate presence of Latinas/os within the United States In this way they also counter much of today s anti immigration rhetoric Imagining the U S as part of a broader Americas these writings trouble imperialist notions of nationhood in which political borders and a long history of intervention and colonization beyond those borders have come to shape and determine the dominant culture s writing and the defining of all Latinos as other to the nation

Exile Isabel Alvarez Borland forces the dialogue between literature and history into the open by focusing on narratives that tell the story of the 1959 exodus and its aftermath Alvarez Borland pulls together a diverse array of Cuban American voices writing in both English and Spanish often from contrasting perspectives and approaches over several generations and waves of immigration Writers discussed include Guillermo Cabrera Infante Reinaldo Arenas Roberto Fernandez Achy Obejas and Cristina Garcia The author s analysis of their works uncovers a movement from narratives that reflect the personal loss caused by the historical fact of exile to autobiographical writings that reflect the need to search for a new identity in a new language to fictions that dramatize the authors constructed Cuban American personae If read collectively she argues these sometimes dissimilar texts appear to be in dialogue with one another as they all document a people s quest to reinvent themselves outside their nation of origin Cuban American Literature of Exile encourages readers to consider the evolution of Cuban literature in the United States over the last forty years Alvarez Borland defines a new American literature of Cuban heritage and documents the changing identity of an exiled literature
