The Rise of Catalan Identity Pompeu Casanovas, Montserrat Corretger, Vicent Salvador, 2019-05-16 This volume helps us to understand that the current political disorders in Catalonia have deep cultural roots It focuses on the rise of Catalan cultural national and linguistic identity in the 20th century What is happening in Catalonia What lies behind its political conflicts Catalan identity has been evolving for centuries starting in early medieval ages 11th and 12th centuries It is not a modern phenomenon The emergence of imperial Spain in the 16 c and the French Ancien Régime in the 17 c correlates with a decline of Catalan culture which was politically absorbed by the Spanish state after the conquest of Barcelona in 1714 However Catalan language and culture flourished again under the stimulus of the European Romantic Nationalism movement known as the Renaixença in Catalonia During the first Dictatorship Primo de Rivera 1923-1930 the Spanish Civil War 1936-1939 and the long Francoist era 1939-1975 Catalan language and culture were repressed yet refurbished and reconstructed at the same time This rise of a plural complex and non homogeneous Catalan identity constitutes the subject matter of this volume National conflicts that emerged later in the Spanish democratic state leant heavily on the life engagement and vital commitment experienced by the entrenched intellectual movements of the twentieth century in Catalonia Valencian Country and the Balearic Islands This book reveals the cultural and literary grassroots of these conflicts

Constructing Languages Francesc Feliu, Josep Maria Nadal, 2016-08-25 As language historians we believe that the subject of our study is neither natural languages nor idiolects which speakers have always been able to develop individually loosely what Chomsky calls L i but rather the social constructions of reference shared by all speakers basically what Chomsky terms as L e In this context the language historian essentially studies how a public L e is built such that it can be understood as the language of all i e hiding L i variations and also how L e succeed in replacing the primary reality of idiolects even if only in the imagination Writing represents a crucial turning point in language construction because it made it possible to materialize the abstraction that until then related speakers could only guess and besides it comes into competition with individual languages In modern centuries the provision of grammars dictionaries and other such learning tools and systematizing instruments strengthens the idea that because of their normative character languages can be learned through study. Mythical stories encourage the achievement of prescriptive rules and lead speakers to link emotions to their language. Therefore the topics of reflection that we want to discuss in this volume are Norms, Myths and Emotions related to language construction.

The Death Penalty in Late-Medieval Catalonia
 Flocel Sabaté, 2019-09-03 The death penalty was unusual in medieval Europe until the twelfth century. From that moment on it became a key instrument of rule in European society and we can study it in the case of Catalonia through its rich and varied unpublished documentation. The death penalty was justified by Roman Law accepted by Theology and Philosophy for the Common Good and used by rulers as an instrument for social intimidation. The application of the death penalty followed a regular trial and the status of the individual dictated the method of execution, reserving the fire for the worst crimes as the Inquisition applied against the so-called heretics. The executions were public and the authorities and the people shared the common goal of restoring the will of God which had been broken by the executed person. The death penalty took an important place in the core of the medieval mind; people included executions in the jokes and popular narratives while the gallows filled the landscape fitting the jurisdictional limits and also showing rotten corpses to assert that the best way to rule and order the society is by terror. This book utilises previously unpublished archival sources to present a unique study on the death penalty in late Medieval Europe.

En aquestes actes es poden llegir contribucions escrites a sis llengües: català, anglès, francès, alemany, italià i espanyol. Aquesta presència significativa de llengües sembla ajustar-se a una associació europea concentrada en l'estudi i representació de la paraula i indica l'interès en la investigació i millora dels diccionaris.
