Rebuilding the Ancestral Village Khun Eng Kuah-Pearce,2010-12-01 This work illustrates the relationship between one group of Singaporean Chinese and their ancestral village in Fujian China It explores the reasons why the Singaporean Chinese continue to maintain ties with their ancestral village and how they reproduce Chinese culture through ancestor worship and religion in the ancestral village In some cases the Singaporeans feel morally obliged to assist in village reconstruction and infrastructure developments such as new roads bridges schools and hospitals Others help with small scale industrial and retail activities Meanwhile officials and villagers in the ancestral home utilize various strategies to encourage the Singaporeans to revisit their ancestral village sustain heritage ties and help enhance the moral economy This ethnographic study examines two geographically distinct groups of Chinese coming together to re establish their lineage and identity through cultural and economic activities Rebuilding the Ancestral Village Kung Eng Kuah,2019-08-22 This title was first published in 2000 This is a discussion of the relationship between one group of Singapore Chinese and their ancestral village in Fujian in China It explores the various reasons why the Singapore Chinese continue to want to maintain ties with their ancestral village and how they go about reproducing Chinese culture in the form of ancestor worship and religion in the village milieu in China It further explores the reasons why the Singapore Chinese feel morally obliged to assist their ancestral village in village reconstruction providing financial contributions to infrastructure development such as the buildings of roads bridges schools hospitals and to help with small scale industrial and retail activities Related to this is how the village cadres and teenagers through various strategies managed to encourage the Singapore Chinese to revisit their ancestral village and help with village reconstruction thereby creating a moral economy The main argument here concerns the desire of the Singapore Chinese to maintain a cultural identity and lineage continuity with their ancestral home Ethnographically this anthropological study examines two groups of Chinese separated by historical and geographical space and their coming together to re establish their cultural identity through various cultural and economic activities At the theoretical level it seeks to add a new dimension to the study of Chinese transnationalism and diaspora studies Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office United States.
