Mental Health Matrix A Manual To Improve Services:

The Mental Health Matrix Graham Thornicroft, Michele Tansella, 2006-12-14 There have been major changes to mental health services internationally in recent years revolving around the concept of care in the community Although speed of change and precise service mechanisms differ among countries there is nevertheless an increasingly widespread consensus on key components essential to adequate care provision This in turn provides an opportunity to develop a widely acceptable model framework to direct future developments This book proposes a simple model that can be used as a guide to increased clinical effectiveness through focused evidence based reform Using a time space framework it is intended to act as a practical aid to diagnosis of strengths and weaknesses in services that will be used by care providers trainees and planners

Planning and Budgeting to Deliver Services for Mental Health Crick Lund, World Health Organization, 2003 The purpose of this module is to present a clear and rational planning model for assessing the needs of local populations for mental health care and planning services The module includes detailed technical information to assist planners to assess their current mental health services use epidemiological data to calculate the resources required for mental health care set budgeting and planning targets and implement those targets Using practical examples to illustrate the calculations throughout the module aims to provide countries with a set of planning and budgeting tools to assist with the delivery of mental health services Other modules included in the package Improving Access and Use of Psychotropic Medicines Child and Adolescent Mental Health Policies and Plans Mental Health Policy Plans and Programmes Updated version Mental Health Context Mental Health Financing Advocacy for Mental Health Quality Improvement for Mental Health Organization of Services for Mental Health Mental Health Legislation and Human Rights Mental Health Policies and Programmes in the Workplace Mental Health Information Systems Human Resources and Training in Mental Health Monitoring and Evaluation of Mental Health Policies and Plans

Quality Improvement for Mental Health Michelle Funk, World Health Organization, Crick Lund, 2003-12-11 Quality determines whether services increase the likelihood of achieving desired mental health outcomes and whether they meet the current requirements of evidence based practice Quality is important in all mental health systems because good quality ensures that people with mental disorders receive the care they require and that their symptoms and quality of life improve This module sets out practical steps for the improvement of the quality of mental health care

Research Handbook on Mental Health Policy Christopher G. Hudson, 2022-11-18 This Research Handbook is an essential guide to the design and use of research in mental health policy from a global perspective It focuses on public mental health as well as quasi public and private policies in nations with significant private sectors

World Mental Health Casebook Alex Cohen, Arthur Kleinman, Benedetto Saraceno, 2002-04-30 In 1974 the World Health Organization began research on the effectiveness of mental health services in the developing world Through their efforts they found that treatment methods were extremely limited in their usefulness and in some cases even inappropriate and harmful Little has changed in the last quarter century but the research in these countries has shown that psychological need often stems from poor physical conditions Elements including social and economical inequalities gender discrimination political violence and malnutrition and poor physical health all contribute to the social and psychological decay of both individuals and communities Currently the goal of the WHO is to document previous studies on communities of developing countries and to build on this information in order to move forward in research Using real cases based in the South Pacific Asia South and Latin America and Europe this volume sets out examples of community based interventions that have succeeded by implementing outreach to the families and community to identify those in need reliable and adequate drug supplies treatment interventions healthy psychosocial environments This book will interest mental health professionals international public health workers global program administrators and clinicians and healthcare workers all working with low income areas

Mental Health Policy, Plans and Programmes Michelle Funk, World Health Organization, 2005 An explicit mental health policy is an essential and powerful tool for a mental health section in a ministry of health When properly formulated and implemented through plans and programs policy can have a significant impact on the mental health of populations This module sets out practical steps for the development of policies plans and programmes and for their implementation Specific examples from countries are used to illustrate the process of developing policy plans and programs throughout the module Also available WHO Mental Health Policy and Service Guidance Package 14 modules Other modules included in the package Improving Access and Use of Psychotropic Medicines Child and Adolescent Mental Health Policies and Plans Mental Health Context Mental Health Financing Advocacy for Mental Health Quality Improvement for Mental Health Organization of Services for Mental Health Planning and Budgeting to Deliver Services for Mental Health Mental Health Legislation and Human Rights Mental Health Policies and Programmes in the Workplace Mental Health Information Systems Human Resources and Training in Mental Health Monitoring and Evaluation of Mental Health Policies and Plans

Mental Health and Human Rights Michael Dudley, Derrick Silove, Fran Gale, 2012-06-21 People with mental disorders often suffer the worst conditions of life This book is the first comprehensive survey of the mental health human rights relationship It examines the relationships and histories of mental health and human rights and their interconnections with law culture ethnicity class economics biology and stigma

Organization of Services for Mental Health Michelle Funk, World Health Organization, Soumitra Pathare, 2003-12-11 The organisation of mental health services has an important bearing on the effectiveness of service delivery and on the achievement of objectives of national mental health policies This publication does not aim to prescribe a single model for service organisation as this depends on the social cultural political and economic context within individual countries rather it seeks to highlight examples of good practice in successful service delivery models in order to provide guidance to countries in different regions of the world on the key issues involved This publication is also available as part of a set of eight mental health policy and service publications containing practical guidance to assist
