Mercator The Man Who Mapped The Planet:

Mercator Nicholas Crane,2004-02 Crane s book is quite probably destined to become the standard text Simon Winchester The New York Times Gerhard Mercator lived in an era of formidable intellectual and scientific advances At the center of the exploratory vortex were the cartographers who were painstakingly piecing together the evidence to create ever more accurate pictures of the planet Mercator was the greatest of all of them His inspiration the map solved the dimensional riddle that had vexed cosmographers for so long How could the three dimensional globe be converted into a two dimensional map while retaining true compass bearings His resulting projection revolutionized navigation and has become the most common worldview For the first time people were able to see the world on paper and their place in it Nicholas Crane a geographer himself has combined a keen eye for historical detail with a gift for vivid storytelling to produce this masterly and highly acclaimed biography of the man who mapped the planet Mercator Nicholas Crane,2004 Explores the life of Gerhard Mercator who created the map and solved the dimensional riddle that plagued cosmographers for years revealing a man who attended one of Europe s top universities but was persecuted by the Inquisition Mercator Nicholas Crane,2003 The World Map, 1300-1492 Evelyn Edson,2007-07-15 A history of the development of world maps during the later medieval period in the centuries leading up to Columbus s journey In the two centuries before Columbus mapmaking was transformed The World Map 1300 1492 investigates this important transitional period of mapmaking Beginning with a 1436 atlas of ten maps produced by Venetian Andrea Bianco Evelyn Edson uses maps of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries to examine how the discoveries of missionaries and merchants affected the content and configuration of world maps She finds that both the makers and users of maps struggled with changes brought about by technological innovation the compass quadrant and astrolabe rediscovery of classical mapmaking approaches and increased travel To reconcile the tensions between the conservative and progressive worldviews mapmakers used a careful blend of the old and the new to depict a world that was changing and growing before their eyes This engaging and informative study reveals how the ingenuity creativity and adaptability of these craftsmen helped pave the way for an age of discovery A comprehensive and complex picture of the changing face of medieval geography With the mastery of a formidable palette of historiographic knowledge and well reasoned discussions of the sources The World Map 1300 1492 will certainly remain an important work to consult for both medieval and early modern scholars for many years to come Ian J Aebel Terrae Incognitae Urban Poetics in the French Renaissance Elisabeth Hodges,2016-12-05 The city view forms the jumping off point for this innovative study which explores how the concept of the city relates to the idea of the self in early modern French narratives At a time when print culture cartography and literature emerged and developed together the city view a picture or topographic image of a city became one of the most distinctive and popular products of the early modern period Through a construct she calls urban poetics Elisabeth Hodges draws out the relationship between the city and the self showing the impact of the city in cultural production to be so profound that it cannot be extricated from what we know by the name of subjectivity Each chapter of the book brings focus to a crucial text that features descriptions of the self in the city by the writers Villon Corrozet Sc ve and Montaigne and investigate how representations of urban experience prepared the way for the emergence of the autonomous subject Charting a course between cartography literary studies and cultural history this study opens new vistas on some of the period s defining problems the book the subject the city A History of the World in 12 Maps Jerry Brotton,2013-11-14 A New York Times Bestseller Maps allow the armchair traveler to roam the world the diplomat to argue his points the ruler to administer his country the warrior to plan his campaigns and the propagandist to boost his cause rich and beautiful Wall Street Journal Throughout history maps have been fundamental in shaping our view of the world and our place in it But far from being purely scientific objects maps of the world are unavoidably ideological and subjective intimately bound up with the systems of power and authority of particular times and places Mapmakers do not simply represent the world they construct it out of the ideas of their age In this scintillating book Jerry Brotton examines the significance of 12 maps from the almost mystical representations of ancient history to the satellite derived imagery of today He vividly recreates the environments and circumstances in which each of the maps was made showing how each conveys a highly individual view of the world Brotton shows how each of his maps both influenced and reflected contemporary events and how by considering it in all its nuances and omissions we can better understand the world that produced it Although the way we map our surroundings is more precise than ever before Brotton argues that maps today are no more definitive or objective than they have ever been Readers of this beautifully illustrated and masterfully argued book will never look at a map in quite the same way again A fascinating and panoramic new history of the cartographer s art The Guardian The intellectual background to these images is conveyed with beguiling erudition There is nothing more subversive than a map The Spectator A mesmerizing and beautifully illustrated book The Telegraph Mapping Our World Peter Barber,Katherine Barnes,Dr Nigel Erskine,Rupert Gertisen,Dr Jeremy Green,Dr Susannah Helman,David Kaus,Robert J. King,Granville Allen Mawer,Maggie Patton,Erica Persak,Jon Rhodes,Denis Shephard,Dr Peter Sutton,Dr Martin Terry,Justine Van Mourik,Dr Brendan Whyte,Nat Williams,Dr Martin Woods,2013-11-01 The cover image World Map by Fra Mauro c 1450 is one of the most important and famous maps of all time This monumental map of the world was created by the monk Fra Mauro in his monastery on the island of San Michele in the Venetian lagoon Now the centrepiece of the Biblioteca Nazionale Marciana in St Marc s Square in Venice the map in its nearly 600 year history has never left Venice until now Renowned for its sheer size over 2 3 metres square and stunning colours the map was made at a time of transition between the medieval world view and new knowledge uncovered by the great voyages of discovery Brilliantly painted and illuminated on sheets of oxhide the sphere of the Earth is surrounded by the sphere of the Ocean in the ancient way Yet Fra Mauro included the latest information on exploration by Portuguese and Arab navigators Commissioned by King Afonso V of Portugal it is the last of the great medieval world maps to inspire navigators in the Age of Discovery to explore beyond the Indian Ocean Martin Waldseemüller's 'Carta marina' of 1516 Chet Van Duzer, 2019-10-09 This open access book presents the first detailed study of one of the most important masterpieces of Renaissance cartography Martin Waldseemüller's Carta marina of 1516 By transcribing translating into English and detailing the sources of all of the descriptive texts on the map as well as the sources of many of the images the book makes the map available to scholars in a wholly unprecedented way In addition the book provides revealing insights into how Waldseemüller went about making the map information that can't be found in any other source The Carta marina is the result of Waldseemüller's radical re-evaluation of what a world map should be he essentially started from scratch when he created it rejecting the Ptolemaic model and other sources he had used in creating his 1507 map and added more descriptive texts and a wealth of illustrations Given its content the book offers an essential reference work not only on this map but also for anyone working in sixteenth century European cartography Old World, New World Kathleen Burk, 2009 A history of the relationship between Great Britain and the United States ranges from the establishment of the first English colony in the New World to the present day examining both nations in terms of what connected them and what drove them apart U.S. News & World Report, 2004
